DEGREES CONFERRED

AT CONVOCATION ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Portrait of Prof. Dyde Received From Arts Society—Five Honorary Degrees Were Given—Grant Hall Filled for Proceedings.

Grant hall was filled to the doors on Wednesday afternoon, for the convocation proceedings, when degrees were conferred upon the graduates by the aged chancellor, Sir Sandford Fleming, who also presented prizes and scholarships. The college staff, with members of the city council and prominent citizens, occupied seats on the platform. As per usual, the students in the gallery, made the proceedings lively with their witty sayings, and had their little jabs on the graduates as they marched up to kneel before the chancellor. A large number amused themselves by throwing beans down on the people below.

In addition to the conferring of the usual degrees, five honorary degrees were conferred, that of D.D. upon Rev. William Chambers, missionary at Bardonia, Turkey; and President MacLachlan, of the International College, Smyrna, Turkey; and the degree of LL.D. upon Prof. Adam Shortt, civil service commissioner, Dr. George Armstrong, professor in McGill University, and Dean Dupuis, of the faculty of practical science.

Another special feature of the proceedings was the presentation of a painting of Prof. S. W. Dyde, by the arts faculty. The painting will be hung in convocation hall. All the members were present to receive their degrees, with the exception of Rev. Mr. Chambers. Rev. B. Strachan, of Rosedale Presbyterian church, Toronto, the chaplain, read the scripture lesson and offered prayer.

Rev. A. MacLachlan was presented for the degree of D.D. by Dr. Jordan. The latter referred to the fact that Rev. Mr. MacLachlan had graduated in arts from Queen's in 1861, and took occasion to refer to the good work which he has been carrying on in the International College, Smyrna.

Rev. Mr. MacLachlan, in returning his thanks for the honor conferred upon him by the university, paid a warm tribute to Queen's, for the noble work which is being carried on.

Dean Connell presented Dr. Armstrong for the degree of LL.D., and extolled his capacities as a medical man. Dr. Armstrong congratulated all the graduates, and gave the graduates in medicine some timely pointers for the carrying on of their work. He pointed out that their term at college, no doubt, had been hard work for them, but the future would be harder. There were many disappointments in going through the life of a physician, but his advice to all was to "stick" to it.

Prof. Adam Shortt was also honored with the degree of LL.D., and he was presented by Dean Connell, the latter delivering a fine address, in which he referred to the good work which Prof. Shortt is carrying on as civil commissioner. He was of the opinion that no better man could be secured for this work.

In his reply, Prof. Shortt stated that in acknowledging the honor, he wished to pay tribute to the late Principal Grant, who was responsible for his coming to Queen's University, and to Prof. Watson. To these two gentlemen he owed a great deal. Prof. Shortt also paid a warm tribute to Prof. Dupuis.

The speaker said that he could not emphasize too strongly the great need of the students keeping up the spirit of the university. There was a danger in the present day of allowing this spirit to be lost, a danger of the graduates losing sight of one another, or being out of touch with one another. He urged that this be guarded against, as it meant a great deal to the university.

Vice-principal Watson introduced Prof. Dupuis, the veteran professor of the college, who is about to retire after giving forty-five years of his life to the university, for the degree of LL.D. The audience rose en masse, as Prof. Dupuis was about to reply, and the applause was so great that he could not be heard for several minutes. The students gave the college yell with a vim.

Prof. Dupuis stated that in the service he was rendering Queen's, he was but doing his duty, and he considered it was his duty to do all he could for the university. In speaking of the work at the college, he said that in his opinion, it was a great mistake for a student to enter the university, and only take up one special subject. He believed that in the taking up of a number of subjects, a better all-round man would be turned out. It was also his opinion, that years ago, for better all-round men were turned out of the university, and it was because of the fact that the students took up more than the one subject. However, the men of to-day taking up the one subject, were every bit as good as those taking up the one subject years ago. The man taking up more than the one subject would secure a wider knowledge of everything, and that was what the speaker regarded as education.

Prof. Dupuis referred, in an interesting manner, to his connection with Queen's. He was always on cordial relations with all connected with the university, and his relationship had been of a most pleasant nature. He pointed out that he had had ways had faith in the university. He hoped that the time would soon come when Queen's would be the greatest university in Canada. At the present time, it was the greatest in numbers, it was the greatest in spirit.

Prof. Dupuis referred to the spirit of the students when after the grant of $10,000 given by Prof. Nicol, they subscribed about $8,000 in order that the new building might be realized. This was an example of the spirit of the students. While he agreed that it was not well for universities to change professors, he felt the time had now arrived, when he must put aside the college work, and live a retired life.

On taking his seat, Prof. Dupuis was again greeted with very loud applause, all of which bespoke the esteem in which he is held by the college staff, the students and citizens.

The proceedings were brought to a close, after the presentation of the portrait of Prof. Dyde, by the arts society.

Principal Gordon referred to the going away of Prof. Dyde, and then called upon E. B. Wylie, who made the presentation, on behalf of the arts society, stating that the painting would be hung in Convocation hall.

Before making the presentation of the portrait to the university, Mr. Wylie, in a few appropriate remarks, referred to Prof. Dyde's call to the new college, at Strathcona, and the regret of the students, at his leaving. This concluded the programme, and the gathering dispersed after the singing of the National Anthem.

CAUSING SOME TROUBLE.
 Drifting Ice Reported Around Port Colborne.

Drifting ice near Port Colborne is causing the mariners a great deal of trouble the past few days and as a result a number of the vessels have been delayed. The M.T. Co. had a tug working in that direction, but owing to the ice it had to return.

The steamship Jeska arrived from Charlotte with a cargo of coal for the Thousand Island Steamship company. The steamer Arcadian was the first vessel to arrive at Port Arthur this season.

The schooner Maize and St. Louis cleared across the lake to-day to load coal.

The steamer Sowards met with some trouble while clearing from the apple dock. Some drift wood became caught in the wheel and as a result she was delayed on the trip.

The barge Thrush arrived from Oswego and is unloading coal for R. Crawford.

The schooner Marshall loaded stone at the penitentiary and cleared for Toronto.

The tug Emerson arrived from Fairhaven and Oswego with two coal barges.

The steamer Windsor is expected over from Charlotte to-day with the barge Valencia, both coal-laden.

The steamers Keyport and Keywest will clear for Fort William, to-night.

The lock master at Kingston Mills says the statement that the steam barge Randall came up the Rideau canal is incorrect. There has been no boat through this year as yet.

Professor Hall, Professor Davis and John Davis expect to leave on Friday for Niagara, and will sail from New York the following Wednesday.

Rev. B. Strachan, of Rosedale, will spend a few days in town with Prof. Ferguson, Earl street.

THURSDAY WEDDING

MISS HARRIET W. WATSON THE BRIDE.

Wedded to Robert O. Sweezy, B.Sc. of Quebec—Ceremony at the Residence of the Bride's Parents.

On Thursday morning at the residence of the bride's parents, Union street, the marriage took place of Miss Harriett Whitcomb, third daughter of vice-principal John Watson, of Queen's University, and Mrs. Watson, to Robert Oliver Sweezy, B.Sc., son of the late R. K. Sweezy and Mrs. Sweezy, Quebec. The drawing room was very prettily decorated with ferns and flowers and the fireplace, before which the ceremony was performed was banked with quantities of evergreen and carnations. Rev. Dr. Malcolm Macgillivray officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a French gown of white chamois lace, with panels of embroidered swiss inserted in the skirt. The white satin girdle was caught in at the front and back with a pearl ornament. The yoke was of silver embroidered net, and was finished at the collar with pearls. The tulle veil was arranged on the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley, and her corsage ornament was a pearl and turquoise necklace, the gift of her groom.

The bridesmaids, Miss Edith Goodwin, and Miss May Macdonnell, wore gowns of pale green silk crepe, finished on the skirt with wide satin bands, and with cream lace yokes. The costumes were completed with large white Panama hats, faced with black and trimmed with sunset roses and white tulle. They carried large bouquets of sunset roses.

The groom, Thomas McGinnis, of Belleville, acted as best man. The groom's gifts to the bridesmaids, were pearl and turquoise pins and to the best man a pearl and platinum scarf pin.

Mrs. Watson, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in black brocade satin, with overdress of black silk fish net. The overdress and bodice were finished with wide silk embroidery over cloth of gold, piped with emerald green satin. The yoke of black silk net was over cloth of gold.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, where the table was arranged with carnations and ferns. After the reception—Mr. and Mrs. Sweezy left on the noon train for the east. The bride travelled in a stone green tailored suit. Coat was trimmed with silk braid of the same shade, and worn over a fine white linen blouse with medallions and insertion of real Irish crochets. She wore a toque of stone green and brown straw turned up in front, with a cerise wing, and buckle of coral beads. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Sweezy will reside in Quebec.

 A local case of "wasting at the church" was witnessed on Princess street last evening. Instead of waiting at the church it was at the Orpheum theatre. A young man, in company with two girls came down the opposite side of Princess street, and crossed over to the Orpheum. The girls walked inside as was the custom while the young man was buying the tickets. Instead of going inside after them in the box, turned around and "beat it," down the street.

Burch-Bryant Wedding.
 A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening in Brock street Methodist church parsonage when Thomas Burch, a well-known young man, and at present an agent with the Prudential Insurance company, and Miss Clara Bryant, were united in marriage by Rev. T. E. Bourke. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock. The young couple were unattended. They will reside in the city.

Shoot for Efficiency Pay.
 The members of the 14th P.W.O. Rifles will likely shoot for their efficiency pay at the butts, Barriefield, on May 24th. If they shoot on this date they will go over to the ranges on the evening of May 23rd, and stay there all night, remaining on the hill all day. This will be a novel outing.

Choosing a Hat.
 If you choose it at Campbell Bros. you will choose it from the largest and most up-to-date stock of hats in Kingston. All the best manufacturers are represented here.

Dr. James Douglas, of New York, was the guest of Professor Ferguson, Earl street, for convocation.

HUGH C. WALKEM, Secretary-treasurer of the Kingston Old Boys' Association of Montreal.

DEATH OF CAPT. ADA.

An Aged Mariner Passed Away Thursday Morning.

One of the best known captains on the great lakes and the St. Lawrence river passed away at his residence, Arch street, when Captain William Ada answered the call at seven o'clock Thursday morning. He had been ill for the past three months, having been stricken with paralysis in January. Although he had never been ill in his life before he bore his illness with remarkable patience and fortitude.

Capt. Ada was born in England seventy-eight years ago and came to this country when sixteen years of age and had been in the service of the R. & O. Navigation company for about thirty-five years. He had travelled extensively and was well read. He was a member of St. James' church, where the funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. He has relatives in the old country and in Australia, besides his family in the city.

14TH REGIMENT DRILL.

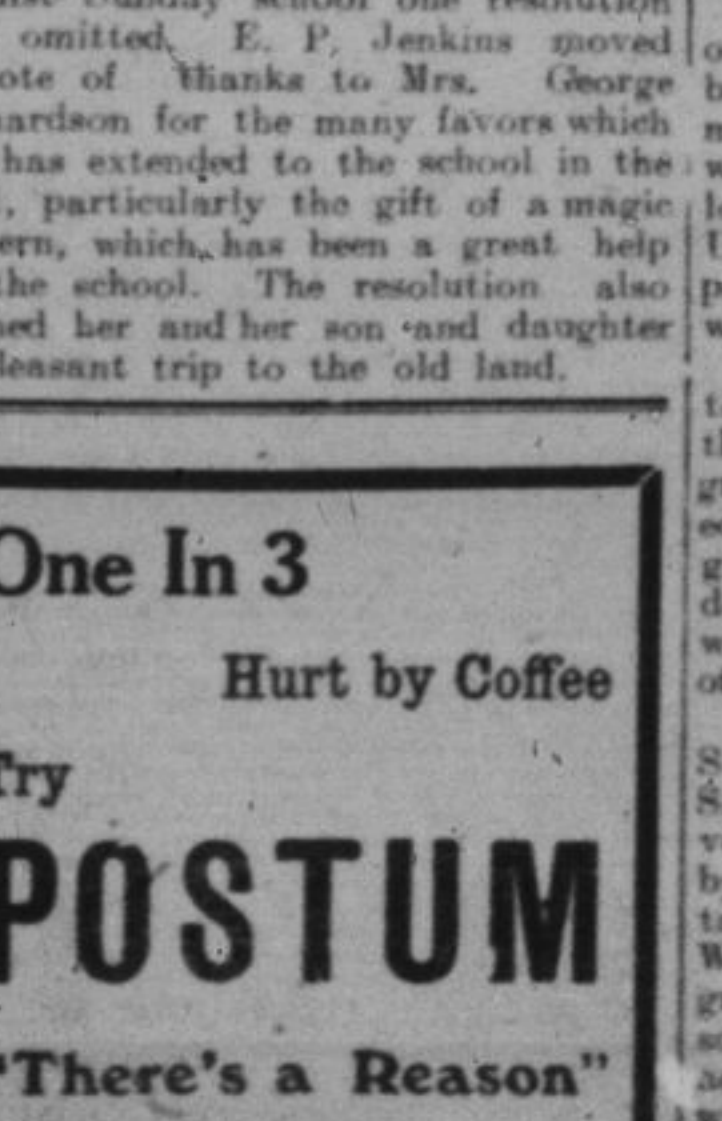

Regiment Will Hold Their First Monday Evening.

The 14th Regiment, P.W.O. Rifles will hold their first battalion drill next Monday evening. The regiment under the command of Lieut.-Col. Cunningham, will leave the armories at eight o'clock and proceed to the cricket field along the usual line of march. They will be put through various exercises there, and march back to the armories.

The April Eclipse of the Sun.
 On April 28th there will be a total eclipse of the sun, but those who wish to see the corona must go to the middle of the Pacific Ocean and locate on some small, uninhabited island. This month the eclipse will be entirely invisible in Canada, or any section of the country north and east of Philadelphia. In the eastern part of the United States the eclipse is visible as a small partial eclipse just before sunset, the sun setting eclipsed. The further west one goes the more is the eclipse visible.

A Vote of Thanks.
 In giving the report of the business meeting of Sydenham street Methodist Sunday school one resolution was omitted. E. P. Jenkins moved a vote of Thanks to Mrs. George Richardson for the many favors which she has extended to the school in the past, particularly the gift of a magic lantern, which has been a great help to the school. The resolution also wished her and her son and daughter a pleasant trip to the old land.

HELD AN "AT HOME"

To Celebrate 92nd Anniversary of Oddfellows.

The ninety-second anniversary of the order of Oddfellows, was fittingly celebrated, Wednesday evening, by the members of Cataract lodge, No. 10, when an "At Home" was held in the lodge room, in the Y.M.C.A. building. Upwards of three hundred and fifty people were present, and the event was a most enjoyable one to all.

W. J. Saunders, noble grand of Cataract lodge, was the chairman of the evening, and introduced a fine programme. Refreshments were also served. In addition to the musical programme, an interesting address was delivered by E. O. Sitter, past grand, who told the story of the formation of the order in Baltimore.

The programme included selections by Salsbury's orchestra; quartets, Messrs. Shaw, Trimble, Marshall and Reynolds; vocal solo, Mrs. John Evans; readings by Dr. A. W. Richardson; instrumental by Prof. Small; recitations by William McFadden; solos, Harold Angrove; vocal solos, Mrs. Small; vocal solos, John Shea, Mrs. Richardson acted as accompanist. C. C. Folger was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.
