CLEANLY WOMAN.

Eroniously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff.

She may wash her scalp every day and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too.

The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that.

Nevo's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ leaves the hair free to grow as healthy nature intended.

Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. $1 bottles guaranteed. James B. McLeod, special agent, Kingston, Ont.

Daily Whig.

FORTY-THREE YEARS AGO.

Sir Charles Tupper must be hard pressed when he accuses Mr. Fielding of disloyalty at the time of confederation. Mr. Fielding was then, says the London Advertiser, (in 1868) a youth of twenty, a cub reporter in the Halifax Chronicle, and not in any sense or way identified with the political career of his superior. The young reporter is not usually a politician. He is a news collector, and does his work faithfully and well. He may change his occupation later, passing from one journal to another—he may, indeed, change his newspaper connection many times—and still escape the accusation which Sir Charles puts on Mr. Fielding, namely, that he is personally responsible for the acts of the editor. Surely this is going to extremes. Admitting that one sees eye to eye with his superior the record of years should establish the kind of citizen he is. The old war horse gloats over something that occurred forty-three years ago, and it was recalled to mind by a recent picture of Mr. Howe's first meeting with young Tupper. Howe, he says, accepted the situation, and a better than Tupper, that is one wholly unbiased in his summing up, the late Principal Grant, paid tribute to his greatness. The passage of the years has seen Mr. Fielding, true to his ideals, rising steadily in the public life of Canada, and he has always carried himself like a patriot. There is no cleaner man in the public service, no one more loyal to the king and country, no one more worthy of the honors he has received. While Sir Charles Tupper lives he will write and talk, but he cannot say anything which will depreciate Canada's finance minister in the estimation of the people. He cannot understand this too soon.

TIME TO GET BUSY.

It has been telegraphed from the city that the water committee has been disheartened by the failure, after what has been done, and the insertion of a new intake pipe at the pump house, to secure pure water. It is further announced that the aldermen are being asked to sign a "round-robin," which authorizes the incurring of further expenses in connection with the work.

Three considerations follow. One is that the city engineer, the paid official of the department, the expert who ought to know his business and exercise his talent, should not any longer be ignored by the committee. The relations between some of the city officials may be strained, but that is no concern of the people. They must have good water, and the committee must spare no expense and trouble to supply it.

A second question—and one in which the board of health is interested—is this: Is there any inspection of the sewerage system outside of the city limits? There are two great public institutions to the west. Each has its plant for the removal from the sewage of the poisons that would otherwise go into the river, and following the current, pass over the intake pipe of the water department. These systems may be regularly inspected by the medical health officer. If they are not the board of health is assuming a serious responsibility.

And finally, The Whig demands, on behalf of a long-suffering public—who are tired of boiling the water and who must occasionally use it without boiling—that the water department cease its parsimonious policy and by the use of the best men and appliances get at the source of the trouble and adjust it. When the work was on the whole of the intake pipe, the part in water not so deep, should have been tested. The fact that any part of it was passed over is not a pleasant circumstance.

THE COST OF POWER.

The board of trade has taken up the power question. It has considered the report of a committee which traced the negotiations of the city with the Hydro-Electric Commission and the Seymour company to date. The committee feels the need of expert advice, and it should be secured at once in order that an intelligent decision may be reached. The Whig, some time ago, advised the city to appeal to some one who could, in an unbiased way, take up the two propositions and pass upon them. The board of trade may be disposed to ask for counsel independent of the city, and from the highest authority. There is one thing very noticeable by a comparison of data, and it is this:

That the offers of the Hydro-Electric Commission are not consistent. For instance, after the meeting in Brockville of the municipal representatives with Hon. Mr. Beck and his engineers, it was given out, and published extensively, that power was to be sold to Kingston (1,200 horse power), at $19.20. In the revised statement which has been sent to the city the price is put at $20 per horse power, this to include the actual cost at the point of production, the cost of power lost in transmission from Waddington, operation and administration. In addition there is $22.23 per horse power, covering maintenance, interest, sinking fund and depreciation. Put in another way, the charges are on a basis of 1,200 horse power; capital cost, $283,536; operation, administration, and loss power, $19,896 annually; interest and sinking fund, $10,445; total annual charges, $36,291. Cost per horse power at Waddington, $12; cost at Kingston, $43.23. If the quantity of power used be increased to 1,500 horse power, the cost will be at Waddington, $11.50, and Kingston, $31.93. The quantity being 2,400 horse power, the cost at Waddington will be $10.50 per horse power and at Kingston, $25.51.

On its face the offer of the Seymour company—of $25 per year for any quantity of power, and in no case for more than the city wants and can use—is the best. The Hydro-Electric Commission's offer is not to be compared with this, and besides its great cost of plant there is the complication which may arise at Waddington through the emergencies of local legislation. Indeed, one is made to feel that this Waddington deal is one the city should not entertain and one the Hydro-Electric Commission should not commend. The commission owes its existence to a desire, yea to a promise, to give the people cheap power. It does not appear to be in a position to serve the east acceptably. It has proposed competition and this competition may have to be credited with the reduction of rates, but in this respect the commission seems to have served its purpose and reached its limit.

At the electrical display in Toronto, the jubilation marking the inauguration of the new lighting system, Premier Whitney corrected a misapprehension, namely, that he had said twelve years ago, the people would get power as cheap as air. He did not refer to the cost of the article, but meant "that any man who wished to get power should not be interfered with and should be quite as free as air to get it." It is a timely explanation in view of the later experiences of the commission and its tables of rates.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Oliver will give his traders a chance to prove anything they can to his disadvantage. He takes the proper course of challenging them to put up the evidence or shut up their talk.

The Toronto Star is agitating for a second intake pipe in connection with the Toronto water system. A second pipe was suggested in Kingston and the idea rejected. Too expensive. Anything to save a dollar. Health ought to be the first consideration.

Edmonton will be the city of the west eventually. Eight new lines of railway are projected, most of them into districts that have not heretofore been developed or occupied. One in the east has no idea of the life that is apparent in what not so long since was called "the great lone land."

It is announced that in Berlin the profits of the utilities will hereafter be paid over to the treasurer, to be used for general purposes, and the improvements and extensions will be met out of moneys raised by debenture. Paying $1 for every dollar borrowed. Paying half the earnings to the users? Is that sound financier?

The Tupper idea is that Sir John Macdonald made only a bluff at reciprocity, and because his opponent favoured it. Another great repudiation. What some men will say when the one and great authority is not present to silence them! Sir John used to say that when he had passed away his spirit would look down upon his friends. What he must think of some of them.

Mayor Gaynor's plan is to dismiss New York's school board of forty-six members and appoint a commission of five at $6,000 a year each. Opposition to the scheme is developed. Putting the schools into the hands of the politicians, eh? Anything for a change. Why? The average school trustee does not put his mind into the work. Kingston has had an experience which is suggestive.

BRITAIN IS ENGAGED

IN A LITTLE WAR ON THE INDIAN FRONTIER.

A Punitive Force is Out to Punish Hillmen For Assassination of Two Englishmen.

London, May 4.—Britain has another "little war" on her hands in the furthest north-eastern region of her Indian empire, on the Assam frontier.

The trouble is over the massacre of two Englishmen, assistant political officer Noel Williamson and Dr. Gregson, together with all but four members of their native escort, by Abors, out in a borderland of unexplored forest-clad hills beyond Sadiya, the extreme north-east frontier station of British India.

The date of the massacre is not given in the despatches, but it must have been about April 3th. Punitive measures have already started.

EXPECTS A SETTLEMENT

Of the Labor Differences Existing in the City.

"In my belief the difficulties between the bosses and helpers in the labor question will be settled soon," said George Lewis, ex-president of the Trades and Labor council. Mr. Lewis is at present temporary regarding and financial secretary until one is found who will take the place recently vacated by the departure of Thomas Fleming. "The painters and carpenters soon had their difficulties settled and returned to work, and I hope the mason contractors and their helpers will soon come to an amicable understanding. There will be the hardest fight of all, but I think an understanding will be arrived at shortly."

A meeting of the Trades and Labor council will be held this evening when a recording and financial secretary will probably be elected.

SHIPPING OF FELDSPAR.

Big Demand for it From the States.

This season promises to be the busiest in many years at Richardson's feldspar mines. There is a keen demand for feldspar and it is expected that the shipments across the border will be very heavy.

At the present time Foreman Michael Flynn has a staff of forty men working in the mines and the work is being rushed along as speedily as possible. The first shipment of ten cars came into the city this week, via the Kingston and Pembroke railway, and it will be taken across to Charlotte by the schooner Ford River. The latter vessel is at present discharging coal at the hosiery mill but will load feldspar for the next trip.

A Position of Uncertainty.

John S. Ewart, an Canadian Magazine. At the present time very few would vote for incorporation with the United States. Not many years ago a great many were ready to accept it with equanimity. In a few years more! I do not know. But what I do know is that I should like to see the matter settled once and for all while opinion is as unanimous as it is today. To leave it open, is to leave it to uncertainty. To leave it open, is to produce the suggestion that to conserve our political freedom, we must refuse to increase our commerce with our largest business relation; that we must turn back the stream of immigration; that we must exclude American capital and enterprise. Disastrous action of that sort is wholly unnecessary. Our political future is perfectly safe as soon as we ourselves have declared what it is to be. National sentiment is the only secure bulwark of national existence. We shall never have it so long as we remain a colony.

Only a Game of Bluff.

Ottawa Free Press. One of the richest contributions to the reciprocity discussion is contained in Sir Charles Tupper's letter to Hon. W. S. Fielding in which the statement is made that "Sir John Macdonald's espousal of reciprocity was due to the necessity of fighting the continental free trade ideas of Sir Wilfrid Laurier." Now Sir John Macdonald and Laurier Tilley inserted their standing offer of reciprocity in the national policy of 1879, and Wilfrid Laurier did not become leader of the liberal party until 1887. Only a Tupper could devise such an excuse!

Well on With Seeding.

The farmers on Wolfe Island are well on with their seeding. "If it had not been for the rain," remarked one farmer to the Whig, "to-day the work would have been finished, but of course the rain was welcome." Last week the farmers were able to be at the seeding every day, the weather was so good.

Hitchcock is the Man.

Buffalo Times. The way in which Gen. Hitchcock, postmaster-general, has worked out this success redounds immensely to his credit, during the year in which he has changed a deficit of $7,000,000 to a credit, has added something like 12,000 offices, opened up many thousands of miles of rural delivery routes, and increased the force proportionately to match the growing business. Still by practical methods, without discharging men, without crippling the service, he has accomplished these things.

A Handy Thing.

Hamilton Spectator. Rev. C. O. Johnston told his congregation, yesterday, that the great need of the time was an individual conscience, instead of church conscience. He is undoubtedly right, but it's a doctrine not many people will accept joyfully. The church conscience is such a handy article on occasion.
