

AGED MINISTER DEAD

LATE REV. WILLIAM SHORT, AGED EIGHTY-TWO.

Died on Sunday Afternoon—Was Born in Devon, Eng.—Fifty-six Years in Ministry.

Rev. William Short, a minister in the Methodist church, for fifty-six years, died at his residence on Johnson street on Sunday afternoon, after an illness extending over three weeks. He was born in North Devon, England, in 1822, and secured his early training in the training school at Kilkhampton, in preparation for entry to the Westminster circuit, London, under the auspices of the Wesleyan Methodists. He turned towards the sea about this time, and learned navigation. He went to sea, however, only a few months. During that time his vessel encountered storms and was so badly damaged that she was forced to seek shelter. While repairs were being made Mr. Short retraced his steps homeward only to find on his return that the ship had sailed without him. Another vessel on which he sailed was lost in the Bay of Biscay.

In 1854 Mr. Short came to Canada, located at Ottawa as local preacher, and eight months after was brought into active work. His first circuit was Brampton. In rapid succession his duties called him to other circuits, including Wilton, Centerville, Bath, Gananogue, for one year each; and Campbellford, Minden, Hastings, Fenelon Falls and Harrowsmith for terms of three years in each place. He was called to Centerville to serve a second term of two years, going from there to Westmeath, on the Ottawa river, for a similar term. He was placed on the supernumerated list for three years, during which he visited the land of his birth. On returning to Canada he went to Little Baptiste, Quebec, and then to Napanee and Bath, finally settling in this city twenty-five years ago.

In 1859 Mr. Short was married to Johanna Forward, of Bath, this same year being that of his ordination, which was performed by Rev. Joseph Stinson, president, and Rev. Joseph Harper, secretary, on June 5th, 1859. He is survived by his wife.

SUING FOR INSURANCE.

Action Taken by Widow of Late H. Youden.

Just what actually caused the death of Harry Youden, of Kingston, who departed this life on September 6th, 1909, is to be fought out in the trial of the action brought by his widow against the London Guarantee and Accident Co., Justice Britton, on Saturday, postponed the case to the autumn assizes. The widow claims that her husband died as the result of injuries received in June, 1909, while he was loading a car. This the insurance companies deny, and give ptomaine poisoning and cholera morbus as the cause of death. The widow is claiming $2,500 from the company under the life insurance policy.

WOMAN'S HAT BURNED.

Jet Burned Lady's Headgear Saturday Night.

What might have been a serious accident befell a lady who was purchasing some fruit from a Princess street store, Saturday evening, as she was on her way home. She had stopped and was examining the fruit which was displayed on a stand outside when a gas jet, which was used to light the front of the store, set fire to her hat. The light material was soon ablaze, and might have resulted seriously for the lady had not the proprietor put the blaze out with his hands. The lady did not suffer any further damage beyond the loss of her hat.

Joke on Barber.

As the result of a joke played on him by one of his fellow-workmen, a barber employed in one of the downtown shops is wearing a very close hair-cut. The other afternoon, while business was slack, he went to sleep in one of the chairs. While he was sleeping one of the other barbers took the clippers and cut a ring around the crown of his head. To remove all traces of the prank he had to have his hair clipped close to his head.

Miss Gladys Caldwell sang in St. Mark's church, Barriefield, on Sunday morning. Her rendition of the beautiful solo, "Face To Face" displayed her sweet soprano voice to advantage. Her singing was much appreciated by the congregation.

"In the Land of the Moose Bird," the story of a trip eleven hundred miles by canoe and portage from the north shore of Lake Superior to Hudson's Bay, via the Albany river, forms the attractive feature of the May issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, limited, Woodstock, Ont.

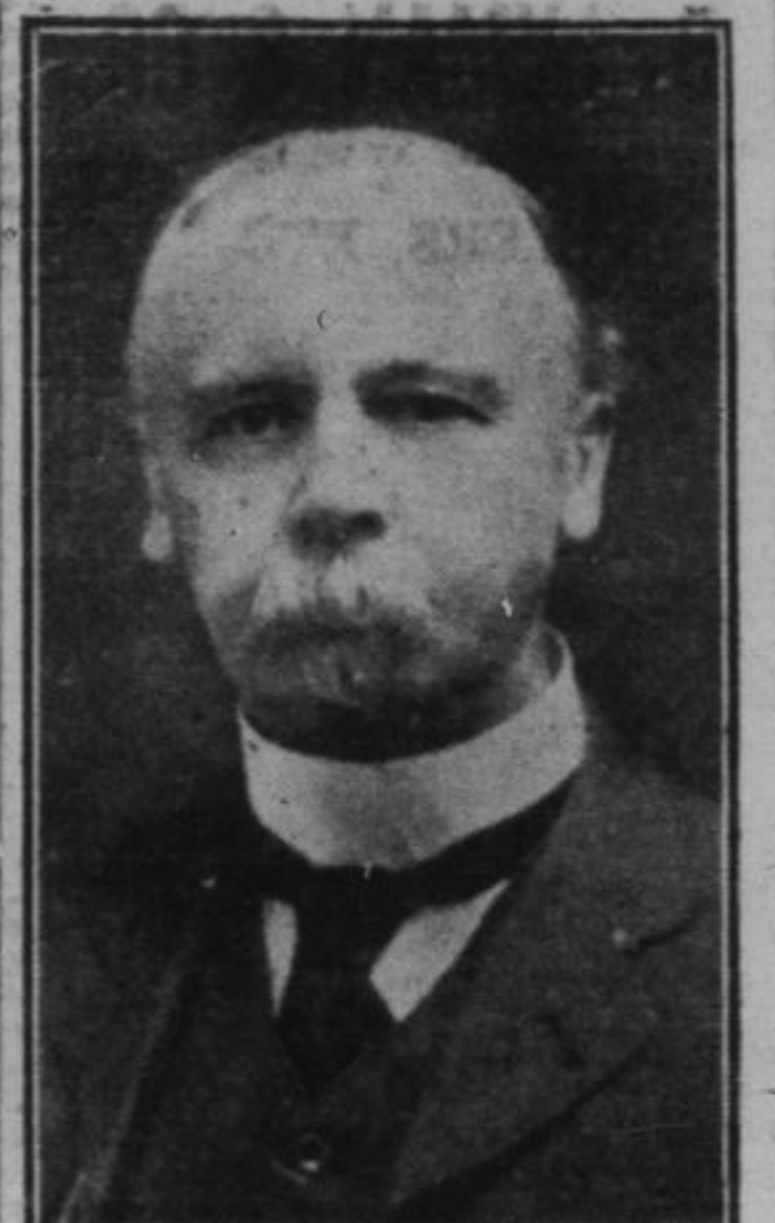

It is reported that Charles McDonald, of Gananogue, has sent in his resignation as a member of the Quebec bridge commission on account of his advancing years. "Mexican," the non-poisonous disinfectant, at all druggists.

THE PAST RECALLED

BY THE OLDER MEMBERS OF BETHEL CHURCH.

The Old Folks Were Present—Addresses by B. W. Robertson, George Mills and John Veale.

Sunday was a day of reminiscences in Bethel Congregational church. It was the thirty-sixth anniversary of the foundation of the church. All formalizing the service was done away with. It was regarded as "A reunion of the former members, attendants, Sunday school scholars, and adherents of the church." In the opening exercises the pastor, Rev. A. P. Mershon, said that there would be no sermon. It was to be a service of reminiscences by members who had been connected with the church since its foundation. Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Robertson are at the present time the only ones left who were charter members of the church from its foundation. They had been away from the church only a short time, and that was when they went to Calgary Congregational church upon its foundation to assist it to get on its feet. The pastor asked Mr. Robertson if he would speak to the congregation for a short time of the past history of the church.

Mr. Robertson did not dwell on the work of the church, for modesty forbade him, as he had been identified with the work and upbuilding of the church, but he spoke upon a number of instances that had come under his personal observation. He had always been, thankful for a godly mother, and gave a number of instances of what godly mothers had done for families which he had known.

George Mills, who, while not a charter member from the beginning, has been connected with the church for the greater part of his life, having joined it soon after it had been founded, dwelt on the work which had been accomplished by Mr. Robertson. To him he gave the credit for being the pillar of the church.

John Veale, another of the members of the church, who has stood by it through thick and thin had a number of reminiscences which were very interesting. He remembered the time when the church was lighted with lamps placed on the tops of poles which were fastened to the pews and when great lines of stove pipes extended the whole length of the church. He also remembered the time when, with no choir or organ, B. W. Robertson stood in the front of the church and led the singing.

These are but a few of the pleasant memories which were revived at this home-coming of some of the aged who come to the church and went away again in-cubs. The service was given over to Bethel people and it is intended to hold the anniversary some time during the month.

Since the first Sunday in February there have been fifty new members added, and the pastor stated that if there were twenty more names on the roll the membership would be equal to that of the other two Congregational churches together.

The display of the goods on Saturday afternoon, of seeing the displays and would recommend the citizens of Kingston to not only see them, but to give the goods a trial, if they have not already become regular customers. The goods put on sale by this company are prepared by expert chemists, and are guaranteed.

THEIR SKIFF UPSET.

Two Young Men Had Lively Time Sunday Afternoon.

Two young men, well-known residents of this city, clinging to the stern and bow of a sail boat near Catarqui bridge, Sunday afternoon, formed an amusing spectacle for a large number of people who happened to be near the vicinity of the accident at the time. The young men who were novices in the art of sailing, rented a boat from Knapp's livery and started out to have an afternoon's fun. They got only a short distance from the livery when a gust of wind struck their sail and they were floating in the water with the boat upside down before they knew where they were. A couple of young men who happened to be there at the time put off in a row boat and rescued them from their predicament. Moral—Don't go boating on Sunday afternoon; stay on land and be run down by an automobile or motorcycle.

Help the Good Cause.

The Salvation Army week of self-denial in Canada and Newfoundland is now on. The Salvation Army has made such a place in our midst, and has so firmly established itself that all, more or less, recognize its value and are prepared to speak a word on its behalf. The army has a claim upon all thinking men and women for it must be remembered that while they are asking the public to help them, they themselves give themselves up to works of mercy and self-denial all the year round. We bespeak a kind reception when the workers come during this week.

MAYOR OF MAYWOOD ILL. Ode L. Rankin, Who Married a Kingston Lady.

Ode L. Rankin, who, while not calling Kingston, his home, has always a warm spot in his heart for it, was elected mayor of Maywood, Illinois, a small but very enterprising town. Many Kingstontians will hear with pleasure of the honor done one of the stock which was reared in Kingston, for the parents of his wife formerly lived here. An idea of his popularity in the town which he will reign over for the next two years may be gained from the fact that he polled the largest vote that has ever been pulled off by any one candidate in this up-to-date town.

He was married in 1902 to Mrs. M. E. Miller, formerly Miss Margaret Dryden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, who lived here some years ago. Since 1902 he has visited the Limestone city several times and has numerous friends here. The inauguration ceremonies when the new mayor stepped into office were very elaborate. One of the well-known florists of the town had a bouquet of fragrant lilies placed on the ten desks occupied by the board, while a profusion of flowers from many admirers of the new mayor were scattered through the room. A large and beautiful loving cup formed from different flowers was in the centre of the table, a gift from the "boys of the west end."

Ferni Riley, of Toronto, spent the week-end in the city.

A WIDOW'S LUCK.

Quit the Thing That Was Slowly Injuring Her.

A woman tells how coffee kept her from insuring her life: "I suffered for many years chiefly from trouble with my heart, with so very nervous headaches and neuralgia, but although incapacitated at times for my housework, I did not realize the gravity of my condition till I was rejected for life insurance, because the examining physician said, my heart was so bad he could not pass me. "This distressed me very much, as I was a widow and had a child dependent upon me. It was to protect her future that I wanted to insure my life.

"Fortunately for me, I happened to read an advertisement containing a testimonial from a man who had been affected in the same way that I was with heart trouble, and who was benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum. I grasped at the hope this held out, and made the change at once.

"My health began to improve immediately. The headaches and neuralgia disappeared, I gained in flesh, and my appetite came back to me. Greatest of all, my heart was strengthened from the beginning, and soon all the distressing symptoms passed away. No more waking up in the night with my heart trying to fly out of my mouth!"

"Then I again made application for life insurance, and had no trouble in passing the medical examination. "It was seven years ago that I began to use Postum and I am using it still, and shall continue to do so, as I find it a guarantee of good health." "Then I again give you Postum company, Battle Creek, Mich. Read the big little book, "The Road to Wellville," in page "There's a reason."
