PLACING OF METERS THE SPORT REVIEW

ON INSTITUTIONS TO STOP WATER LEAKS.

The Matter Discussed by City Council—The Institutions Will be Given Water at Actual Cost of Pumping.

The city council strongly supports the water works committee in its decision to place meters on all the large public institutions of the city, in order to stop waste of water. There is a big leakage in the water works supply, and it has been traced largely to places which are given a flat rate. On Monday evening the matter was discussed by the council, when the water committee recommended the acceptance of a tender for meters at a cost of about $160 each. Nearly all the members of council agreed that it was wise to install meters, but some questions were put to the chairman, Ald. Carson, in order to get full information. Ald. Carson made it clear that the meters were not being placed on the institutions to get more money from them, but to make them careful in the use of the water, which cost money to pump. Whatever water the institutions used, would be given them at the actual cost of pumping. This was as much as the water works committee could be expected to do.

The discussion was opened by Ald. Rigney who asked the chairman of the water works committee if the superintendent had reported as to the public institutions upon which meters were to be placed. Ald. Carson said he had not, but would do so shortly. Only large institutions would have meters installed. The general hospital, Queen's University, Hotel Dieu, Y.M.C.A., House of Providence, St. Mar's of the Lake Orphanage, would be the institutions which would have meters in the near future. He and Superintendent Hewitt had examined these places.

Ald. Hanley objected to the purchase of meters. The cost would be over $1,200 and he did not think it was worth while to expend that amount.

Ald. Litton said that the meters would very soon pay for themselves.

Ald. Hoag suggested that several of the institutions might install electrical apparatus to run their elevators, and water would no longer be used. Then what use would the meters be?

Ald. Rigney remarked that if the elevators did not use city water, they would buy city electricity.

Ald. Carson declared that the leakage system had to be stopped. His committee had threshed that matter out, and decided that it was essential to secure meters for the institutions that were wasting water.

Ald. Rigney held that to be equitable a principle must be laid down. The council should know exactly what institutions required meters before they were placed. Let the committee say that meters should be placed on all institutions, using over a certain amount of water. Council should sanction the placing of the meters, and not allow it entirely to the committee and the superintendent.

Ald. Fraser suggested that one meter be bought and placed on the big institutions—a month on each for a test.

Ald. Ross held that the meter method was the only business method to adopt. It was very easy to pick out the largest consuming institutions and put on meters. The committee had chosen the largest.

Ald. Shaw pointed out that a meter was necessary to determine how much water a large institution was using. The council then adopted the recommendation of the committee as to the purchase of what meters are required.

DOING SUDDEN MISSION WORK TO AID THEIR BASEBALL TEAMS—PRINCESS STREET WILL NOT HAVE A TEAM.

The by-law which was passed by the executive of the S.S.A.A. with regard to how long a member of a team should be in attendance at the Sunday school for which he plays, has already caused a great deal of discussion among members of the different teams. The by-law says that a player on a team in order to be eligible must be a member in good standing on or before the first Sunday in May. The result is that some of the Sunday schools have been drafting good players into the Sunday school for the past two Sundays in order to have them on the team. Some hold that this is not fair to those who do attend Sunday school regularly. The association was not formed to see what crack teams could be secured but for the purpose of giving those who did attend Sunday school a chance to have a little recreation. This matter will form an item of discussion at the next executive meeting.

PRINCESS STREET DROP OUT.

It is now announced that Princess street Methodist Sunday school will not enter a baseball team in the Sunday school league. It is said that there are scarcely enough players to form a team and after a vain effort to get enough together to form an aggregation the promoter has decided to label it a failure. It will be remembered that last year Princess street and St. Luke's petitioned the executive of the league to allow them to amalgamate. Permission was granted and the two managed to get together quite a strong team; in fact they were in the semi-final series. This year neither will be represented in the league.

A HIGH IDEAL CAMPAIGN.

A vigorous campaign to inculcate in the development of their individual talents, and assisting them to realize the importance of high ideals, is being seriously considered by certain gentlemen of this city. In order to ascertain certain information which will be the means of deciding upon an active step, young men have been allotted to sections of the city so that they may call at the different homes and procure the information from parents, who have boys who would be affected by such a movement. The canvassers will go the rounds this evening about eight o'clock, and parents are asked to kindly give the young men any data they may desire.

MARGARET ANGLIN MARRIED.

Her Kingston friends and local theatregoers generally will be interested in the development of the marriage of Margaret Anglin, Canada's leading actress, who appeared here in "Green Stockings" three weeks ago, was married in New York, on Monday, to Howard Hull, magazine writer. The wedded couple will sail at once for Paris to spend their honeymoon, and will come to Toronto in July. That Miss Anglin has so long side-stepped the arrows of Cupid is a mystery, and is only explained by the fact that she was so thoroughly wedded to her art that she gave matrimony little consideration, and reached the age of thirty-eight before becoming a matron.

IS WORKING WELL.

The garbage system is working well in the city. Although a few complaints have been received, they have been of a very minor character, and due to the fact that the system has only been in running order a very short time. Inspector McCammon is looking after the complaints, which are sent to the police station. A book is kept at the police station for the complaints, and these are afterwards given to Mr. McCammon to investigate.

RETURN FROM WEDDING TOUR.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hallett, well-known residents of Watertown, have returned from a tour, following their marriage last Thursday in Kingston, by Rev. T. E. Bourke. Mrs. Hallett was Miss Fanny E. Mitchell. The couple will reside in Watertown. The groom has been employed at the New York air brake plant for several years.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL CHANGES.

The separate school board has decided to make improvements to St. Mary's school during the summer recess. The rooms now occupied by the caretaker as a dwelling will be converted into class rooms and it is expected that other alterations will also be made so that more room and accommodation will be secured for the convenience of both teachers and pupils.

PORTSMOUTH METHODISTS.

sold to Mr. Davis for a price much less than they had asked the city to pay. They wanted the city to pay $2,000. Afterwards, Mr. Davis had stated that he would sell the city whatever portion it wanted in proportion to the price he had paid. Now, he refused to carry out this arrangement. Ald. McCann declared that the city should expropriate the marsh, and in the meantime tax it for its full value. At present it was assessed for nothing like its value.

Ald. Bailey said that when the council learned all the facts, it would not be so hard on Mr. Davis. The Davis tannery was a growing industry, and required more land. There was a possibility of it expanding during the next few years, and Mr. Davis was waiting to see just how much of the marsh the company would require for extensions. Ald. Bailey said he did not believe in doing anything that might hamper an industry like the tannery.

Mayor Graham declared that Mr. Davis had not dealt fairly with the city in slipping in and buying the marsh as he had done.

Ald. Hoag remarked that he would be in favor of taxing to the limit any private individuals who persisted in holding up the city for a big price for their property, when it was of no use to them, but he would not want this done to one of the city's best industries.

Ald. Graham stated that he had tried to get a price on Belle's Island, for purchase by the city, and was told that it would be sold for $4,000. The island was assessed for $1,000, and he thought that the city assessor should see that the assessment of this island was raised accordingly.

FIRE IN TIMBER LIMITS.

Report from Sharbot Lake states that quite a serious fire has been raging for a couple of days, in the timber limits about four miles from there at the head of the lake, and owned by M.
