JUDGE WILL DECIDE

HOW MUCH FIVE TOWNSHIPS SHOULD PAY

Towards the Purchase of the Storrington Road—Evidence Was Taken on Monday by Judge Price.
An arbitration case was heard at the court house, Monday morning, before Judge Price. The question about which he was asked to give his decision was regarding the amount of purchase money each of the following townships should pay toward the purchase of the Storrington Road: Longford, Portland, Kingston, Pittsburg and Storrington. Some of the townships were unwilling to pay the amount of money which had been suggested, claiming that they did not use the road as much as had been declared. The county authorities had been unable to settle it satisfactorily, so it had been left to arbitration. Numerous witnesses were examined as to the amount of travel on the road done by residents of the different townships. The case was long and proceeded very slowly. Judgment was reserved.

Rejoicing at Wolfe Island.

"Who defeated the foot of the island? We did, we did, we did." This cry at Wolfe Island, late Saturday afternoon, was heard enough to be heard almost to Kingston, and it told of the defeat of the ball tossers at the foot of the island, at the hands of the lady who live at the head, by the score of 28 to 2. After looking at such a score the reader will not be surprised at the enthusiasm.
The players conveyed the news to Providence's hotel, and it was received with great delight. The boys from the head of the island showed great form for so early in the season, and great things are expected of them later on.

WERE INTERDICTED

SIX MEMBERS OF CATHOLIC CHURCHES IN TROUBLE.

Bishop Walsh, of Portland, Ore., His Powers Against Some Very Prominent Men.

Cadillac, Me., May 15.—Six members of a Roman Catholic church of Biddeford and Lewiston, all prominent, were interdicted by Bishop Louis F. Walsh, of the diocese of Portland, in a general letter to the clergy, read at churches here and elsewhere in the diocese, Sunday. The action, which is without precedent in the annals of the church in this state, follows the introduction of a bill providing for the abolition of a corporation of the Portland diocese, by which control of all church property is vested in the bishop. This bill, which was backed by a petition signed by nearly 600 Roman Catholics, sought to place the management of the property of the church in Maine in the hands of a board of directors. It was adversely reported on by the legislative committee which considered it, and was overwhelmingly defeated in the house. The then mentioned in the bishop's decree signed the petition as "Members of the executive committee of the French-American Roman Catholic church of Maine." They are Godfrey S. Dubre, attorney at law; Dr. George Pessourt, and Dr. Albert C. Maynard, prominent physicians; Albert J. Deland and Alfred Omeau, editor and publisher of a French-American weekly newspaper, and Joseph Biddford, and John B. Couture, of Lewiston.

BRIBE OFFERED

To a Rebel Chief to Quit Mexico.

Juneau, May 15.—Notification by Provisional President Madero to Senator Esquivel Obregon that he was in this city was no longer desired by the revolutionists, as the culmination of what is believed to have been a general plot to influence the military chiefs of Madero to desert his standard.
A large bribe is said to have been offered General Pascual Orozco, but he indignantly refused it.
Senator Obregon emphatically denied any connection with the alleged affair. Obregon had been one of the go-between in peace negotiations between the federal army and the federal army, but Minister Limantour as having disinterestedly offered his services with Senator Braniff in the cause of peace.
He was a candidate for president of Mexico in the last election on the anti-revolutionist ticket against Madero, but the supporters of that party since then have largely merged with the Maderistas.
SHOT BY MOONSHINERS.
Dallas R. Smith, Formerly of Kingston, the Victim.
A letter received Monday afternoon from Opelika, Alabama, states that Dallas R. Smith, jr., formerly manager of the Richardson mica works of his city, and who left here some weeks ago, has very dangerously wounded at his home in Opelika. He was on a tour of inspection of his brother's mines in that region, and was mistaken by moonshiners for a revenue officer, and fired upon. Two shots took effect in his back and a third in his left leg. The wounds in his back are not serious, but the one in his leg is, and the doctors said that he would probably have to be amputated. The letter was written by his brother on the 10th. Mr. Smith's man friends in Kingston are deeply grieved to hear of his misfortune, and anxiously await news of his recovery.

BISHOP FALLON'S WARNING.

Britain Has Not Fought Her Last War, He Says.
London, May 15.—Bishop Fallon preached a sermon to the 17th Regiment, which attended divine service in St. Peter's cathedral. He put himself on record as a man of peace, but stated it would not be a foolish idea for Canada to prepare for war. He pointed to Germany and Japan as two giants, for whom he said he saw what the future had in store. The letter was written by his brother on the 10th. Mr. Smith's man friends in Kingston are deeply grieved to hear of his misfortune, and anxiously await news of his recovery.

A Lively Runaway.

A team of harness belonging to John Sexsmith, Rideau street, ran away Monday afternoon, and came nearly killing Mr. Sexsmith, who was driving them. Mr. Sexsmith is a resident of this city, who is moving to the west. He purchased a fine team of horses and was taking a load of furniture to the station, when the accident happened. A John street street the wagon became loose and this frightened the young team. They started to run as Mr. Sexsmith, who is experienced along the horse line, could not get control of them. They ran into a telegraph pole in front of the House of Providence and leaped it to the ground. This stopped the progress for the time being, as they ran into another rig which was standing along the sidewalk. The rig which they ran into was almost smashed to pieces and the harness was damaged considerably. The team which was the cause of all the mischief was not damaged very much and escaped with a few bruises. Mr. Sexsmith, who was driving them, sustained injuries which may be serious. When the wagon came in contact with the telegraph pole, he fell down in front of the wagon, in between the whiffletrees and the box. He went to a nearby house, where he was attended to for the time being, until a doctor could be summoned. He regards this adventure at the beginning of his trip to the west as an omen of ill-luck. The wagon was a new one and was not damaged at all. The accident drew quite a crowd.
Col. Matheson, provincial treasurer, is improving daily at his home in Perth.
