The farmers throughout the district are highly elated over the conditions under which they were able to plant their seed. They had admirable weather for the work, and the seed was planted uniformly. They were able to get all their seeding done in two weeks' time, the ground being in fine condition, and this was followed up with warm rains and hot weather. Farmers all over the county are expressing their conviction that the prospects for a great crop this year are excellent.

A ROUSING GOOD-BYE

TO 14TH REGIMENT CORONATION MEMBERS.

Supper at the Armouries—Ten-dollar Gold Pieces Presented to the Three Representatives by the Sergeants.

The coronation contingent of the 14th Regiment, P.W.O. Rifles, will long remember the send-off which their brother-sergeants gave them Monday night, just before their departure for Quebec to go in training, prior to leaving for England. The citizens will not forget either, for the songs of the boys at one o'clock Tuesday morning woke everyone on the line from the Armouries to the outer station.

Q.M.S. Frank Ludlow, Colonel-Sergeant, William McCullagh, Sergeant, Charles Hall, Alexander Flett, of the signal corps, belonging to the 14th Regiment, and Nelson Gibson, representing the 47th Regiment, were made the guests of honor at a supper given in the Armouries by their brother-sergeants, on Monday evening. The affair was very jolly and will be remembered with feelings of joy by all those who were there. During the evening, the three members of the 14th Regiment who form part of the contingent, were presented with three $10 gold pieces, as tokens of esteem. Neat speeches were made by Lieut.-Col. Cunningham and other officers. "Sam" McCullagh, father of William McCullagh, sang his favorite ballad, entitled "Old Black Joe."

At one o'clock the contingent, accompanied by about eighty of their friends, started for the G.T.R. station. They marched down the centre of Princess street singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," "Yip-I-Aldy-I-Ay," and several other well-known pieces. Faces appeared at windows all along the line of march, wondering where all the noise was coming from, but as soon as they saw who it was they smiled good-naturedly and went back to bed. The contingent boarded the colonist car at the inner station, which was assigned to the Kingston boys, and accompanied them as far as the outer station, where the car was coupled on the train which was composed of coaches bearing other contingents to Quebec. Here the jolly fellows boarded the train and went the entire length of it until at last they had everyone awake on it. Then a joyful good-bye was said.

THE WEATHER RECORD. Highest Point Reached Monday Was 84.6 Degrees.

Is it warm enough for you? This old greeting is again the order of the day, and just a short time ago, people were grumbling about the cold weather.

According to the official weather man, the highest point reached on Monday was 84.6 and this was between twelve and one o'clock. At three o'clock, in the afternoon, the official thermometer registered eighty-three degrees.

These are the figures, but, no doubt, the man on the street will tell you that it looked to him as if the thermometer had been smashed into pieces, so great was the heat.

For Summer Supplies.

People will be now turning their thoughts to their special list for their summer cottages or hunting expeditions. Every article to go in the "Midget Larder" must be absolutely worthy of its place, otherwise it is sure to get crowded out. The article to place at the top is surely Oxo cubes. They are so extremely handy, and each cube is measured to be exactly the right size for a sturdy lunch, and moreover each cube contains the right portion of both its stimulant and nourishing properties.

They may be kept for an indefinite length of time. A huntsman in carrying a tin of cubes in his pocket is sure of delicious warming drink whenever he feels like it.

A Clash in Council.

Ald. Givens had a clash in the city council meeting on Monday evening with Mayor Graham, during the discussion upon the request of D. Campbell for a restaurant license. At one time, the mayor wanted to make an explanation, but Ald. Givens claimed he had the floor and intended to finish his little speech. Then the mayor ruled Ald. Givens out of order and ordered him to sit down. The St. Lawrence ward representative complied with his worship's request, after making a few remarks. Mayor Graham notified Ald. Givens that he intended to keep his eye upon him at future council meetings.

Close at 1 O'Clock.

RETURNING TO WORK.

Although There Will be No Arbitration.

The mason contractors had another meeting on Monday evening. Owing to the absence from the city of Mr. Izzard, the mason's representative, the arbitration arranged to settle the present labor disputes had fallen through, so it was decided that it was now time to take some action to save the City of Kingston from continuing to be the laughing stock of the Dominion.

Some union laborers have returned to work and others will do so as soon as the contractors go on with their work, so that the contractors will have plenty of unskilled labor at the old rate of wages.

It is quite expected that by the end of the present week all work in the city will again be going ahead as it should.
