GOT AN EXPENSIVE LESSON.

An iron manufacturer, of Toronto, builder of fire escapes, fences, and decorative work of different kinds, while in the city, yesterday, said he had learned an expensive lesson with regard to reciprocity.

At this time the first outbreak against the trade agreement occurred. It came from men who were foremost as financiers. These declared that the trade pact would be the ruin of things.

INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS. Over two years have passed since the minister of education inserted in the School Act the provision which gives to boards of trustees the right to institute a medical examination of school children.

EDITORIAL NOTES. The Toronto school board proposes to exclude women from the principalships, and the women teachers are in rebellion, and when they talk they say something.

Two applications of road oil will, it is contended, lay the dust of a city for the season. Is it not, therefore, the cheaper? Watering must be done every day, and the dust is never effectively laid.

War has been declared, by a cut in rates, between the electric commission and the electric company in Toronto. It will finish in the damage of one or the other, but meanwhile the people will come to their own in very cheap light.

There is a clear misunderstanding with regard to the desire of the Kingston Medical Society to co-operate with the teachers in medical inspection. The teachers' duty will simply be to call the attention of the nurse to any case, and the medical men will indicate how that duty may be better performed.

Verdes Unfrooked by the Pope's Order. Rome, June 8.—Verdes, the former priest who accused certain officials of the church of violating the secrecy of the confessional and who was sued for libel by the Jesuit priest, Father Breirelli, was found guilty and sentenced to ten months in jail.

Liability for Lost Baggage. New York, June 7.—It will interest prospective voters to know that they are not bound by the rule of the railroad companies limiting their liability for lost baggage to $150.

Knighthoods at Coronation. Ottawa, June 8.—According to special advice knighthoods will be conferred, at the coronation, upon Mr. Fielding and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, and King George himself may perform the ceremony of tapping the Canadians with the royal sword at Buckingham Palace.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

REV. DR. R. P. MACKAY ELECT. ED. MODERATOR. The Chief Matters Before the Presbyterian Church Court are Church Union and Queen's University Separation.

Among the important matters which will come before the assembly the one in which the members are most deeply concerned is the proposition that the church should unite in an organic way with the Methodist and Congregational churches of Canada.

As a result of the deliberations of the assembly, the next will, in all probability, secure a closer control of western church affairs. In the past the home mission work of the church has been administered from Toronto, which is the headquarters of Rev. E. D. McLaren, the secretary of the home mission committee.
