WARM WELCOME GIVEN

AT THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION TO DELEGATES.

Rev. A. E. Garvie Gave Stirring Address on the Work of the Christian Church—A Call for Well Equipped Ministers to Preach the Gospel.

There was a good attendance, at the evening session, on Wednesday, of the fifth annual meeting of the Congregational Union of Canada, which is being held in the First Congregational Church. Rev. F. J. Day, M.A., of Montreal, the chairman of the union, presided. The choir was present, and sang a special anthem, "Soldiers of Christ Arise," and Harold Angrove favored with a fine solo, "Beyond the Gates of Paradise."

REV. W. T. GUNN, M.A., General Secretary of the Congregational Union of Canada.

At the opening, the chairman called upon Mayor Graham, to extend a welcome to the delegates, on behalf of the city, and the pastors of the Congregational churches of the city were also called upon.

Mayor Graham referred to the fact that just fourteen years ago, the union held its meeting in this city. Since that time, Kingston had not increased a great deal in population, but it must be stated that the city was making progress in many lines. He was very glad of having the opportunity of welcoming the delegates to the city. They would be given the freedom of the city.

Rev. E. LeRoy Rice extended a welcome on behalf of the First Congregational church; Rev. A. P. Mershon, for Bethel church; Rev. H. D. Whitmore, for Calvary church, and all the speakers made appropriate remarks.

Mr. Whitmore, in addition to welcoming the Canadian delegates, also gave a warm welcome to Rev. A. E. Garvie, M.A., B.D., principal of New College, London, England, and Mrs. Garvie, who were in attendance.

Rev. James T. Daley, B.A., ex-chairman of the union, responded to the welcome given the delegates. He expressed the thanks of the delegates for the kind hospitality tendered the visitors since reaching the city, and in addition, took occasion to refer to a remark which had been made, that the Congregational church was becoming weaker all the time. He was pleased to say that the reports of the secretary went to show that the church was making good progress, showing that there was no truth in this statement, and commented at some length on the growth of the church.

The address of the evening, was delivered by Rev. A. E. Garvie, introduced by Rev. W. H. Warriner, who gave a stirring address on the work of the Christian church.

In his opening remarks, he paid a warm tribute to the members for the warm reception given to him and his wife. He had only been in the city for seven hours, but in that time he had become so well acquainted as to be able to address them as "dear friends." He conveyed to his audience greetings on behalf of the English Colonial Missionary Society.

Dealing with his subject, the speaker referred to the great unity now existing in church work. The gospel was for all mankind, and the spreading of this gospel was the world-wide task. In order to be able to accomplish the great work which it was intended she should do, social problems should be understood. The primary duty of the Christian church was to work for unity. The work should not be bound down by traditions. The speaker believed in inspiration of the Bible. And there must be organization by which this inspiration could be exercised. There was need of machinery to do the work. There was great need for clear sound theology. The church needed ministers who knew the gospel, and who had the courage to stand by it.

The speaker was of the opinion that the Christian church had not spoken in the past as it should. The men preaching the gospel should be properly equipped, and ready to face all the problems.

At the close of his address, the speaker was tendered a vote of thanks.

Wednesday Afternoon Session.

At the Wednesday afternoon session home and foreign missions met, in the lecture room, and the Young People's conference met in the auditorium with Rev. H. I. Horsey, of Ottawa, presiding. The chairman referred to the absence of Rev. E. H. Tippet, now in Cleveland, who was president of this movement. Mr. Horsey referred to what had been done by some of the young people, especially those of Ottawa, where they had been instrumental in starting a church. He urged a forward movement in the Sunday school.

Rev. H. Moulie then gave a ten-minute address on "The Boy Problem." The more he had to do with boys the more difficult the task became. Solomon tried to solve the boy problem. "Spare the rod and spoil the child." So he proceeded to club the boy. A boys' club in church is a good thing if you have a competent leader. You must appreciate the value of the boy. A leader must have a genuine motive to help the boy. The boy's character must be studied. If you lead the boy the right way you'll get on with him. He will sacrifice anything to help another. That characteristic must be used. The boy over twelve is different from the boy under that age.

The boy's nature is impulsive—do not disregard but use this feature in his life. One of the biggest problems is to get the right kind of man or woman to deal with them. We must win them for Christ. Hold up the life of Jesus Christ before the boy and it will appeal to him. Jesus was a hero and boys like to follow a hero.

Rev. A. W. Main said if we are going to win our country for Christ we must catch the boy. The pastor has got to be a boy and go out with them.

Mrs. Wickson thought that we must present Jesus not as a hero only but as one who died for us.

Dr. Schofield said that one boy had a great influence. Give every boy something to do.

Mr. Sleep urged that we must bring the boy into the kingdom by using our common sense.

Miss Silcox then read a paper written by Miss Elsie Jamieson on "The School Missions." The paper suggested some points of interest in winning the boy for Christ: (1) Create a missionary spirit in the school; (2) Have definite prayer for opening and closing; (3) Have a missionary committee who will arrange for this special service; (4) Establish systematic giving in school; (5) Have definite missionary instruction given; (6) Have missionary books in the library; (7) Superintendent and teachers should urge scholars to give themselves to Christ and His work.

Rev. B. V. Tippet, of Barford, Ont., spoke on "Young People and Missions." We must have the vision of the world before us and that Christ died for the world. We must see Christ in every man and woman. We must have a definite goal in view in our young people's society. It would be well to have a missionary to support. Too often the father gives to missions, the boys having no money. When these boys grow up they will not have the same interest in missions as they would have had if they had themselves given to missions. We should impress on our young people that Christ works through men. We are to "tell the others" the message of the gospel.

Rev. E. McCallum, of Marsh, Turkey, then spoke of the work in that field. The work of the young people there is the same as here. We must depend more on prayer in carrying on the work of missions.

George Mills spoke on "The Adult Bible Class." He was glad to have been a member of such a class. He had been a teacher of such a class and the work was among the happiest.

MENTAL ACCURACY.
Greatly Improved by Leaving Off Coffee.

The manager of an extensive creamery in Wisconsin states that while a regular coffee drinker, he found it injurious to his health and a hindrance to the performance of his business duties.

"It impaired my digestion, gave me a distressing sense of fullness in the region of the stomach, causing a most painful and disquieting palpitation of the heart and what is worse, it nuzzled my mental faculties so as to seriously injure my business efficiency."

THE NEW S.A. BARRACKS.
One is Likely to be Built on Princess Street.

A new Salvation Army barracks is to be erected in Kingston, and may be started this year. Several locations have been under consideration, viz., the corner of Clergy and Princess streets; the property lately occupied by John Green, shoemaker, Princess street, just below Clergy; and the old marble works lot at the corner of Queen and Ragot streets, just opposite the present barracks building. It is said that the second named property is likely to be chosen. The present barracks building, it is reported, will be taken by Mayor Graham for a garage.

Boats Must Show Lights.
United States Customs officials are making a determined effort to stop the practice of running motor boats without proper lights. As a result of the campaign ten motor boats at Alexandria Bay were held up and their owners were fined $100 for violating the law.

Frank D. Lowe, customs collector at Cape Vincent, said that the customs department had issued special orders for a thorough enforcement of the new law, which went into effect last fall, requiring all craft to carry lights when plying in navigable waters.

Must Pay His Dog Tax.
In the police court, on Thursday morning, a resident was summoned for neglecting to pay his dog tax. He explained to the court that he was leaving the city. He was found guilty and in addition to paying for the tax, he will also have to pay the costs of the court. This goes to show that it pays to pay in the first place.
