POPULAR HAND BOOKS

Some books are designed for entertainment, others for information. This series combines both features The information is not only complete and reliable, it is compact and readable. In this busy, bustling age it is required that the information which books contain shall be ready to hand and be presented in the clearest and briefest manner possible. These volumes are replete with valuable information, compact in form and unequalled in point of merit and cheapness. They are the latest as well as the best books on the subjects of which they treat. No one who wishes to have a fund of general information or who has the desire for self-improvement can afford to be without them. They are 6 x 4 1-2 inches in size, well printed on good paper, handsomely bound in green cloth, with a heavy paper wrapper to match.

Of course, the at traction is the exhibition in connec the proclamation of Rome, as being the capital of United Italy. It is es timated that Rome will be crowded during the whole of the months June and July, as sartes of rooms have been engaged at the different hotels and pensions for people who intend to remain during that period. Thousand of visitors to Rome are expected this summer from America, so many, indeed, that all the principal hotels, etc., will remain open long after their regular season has closed. At one time it looked as though the demon cholera would keep many away during the present year, and no doubt Rome would have sheltered a far greater number of tourists had th scourge not fallen upon Italy at all.
