

THE BOARD OF WORKS

ASKED TO MOVE CAB STAND, AS IT IS NUISANCE.

Tenants Leave Property Along Which the Horses Stand—Mrs. E. A. Draper Asks Damages for Injury to Her Son.

At the board of works meeting on Thursday afternoon a communication was read from Mrs. E. A. Draper, Albert street, saying that on May 24th her son, aged eighteen years, had fallen and injured himself on the boardwalk running from Brock to Mack streets, as the result of which he was disabled for several days. The letter claimed that it was owing to a defective walk that her son fell. City

Engineer Craig said he sent men to repair the walk as soon as he was notified and that there were other places that needed fixing. Mrs. Draper asked for fair compensation for the expense attached to the injury done her son. The matter was referred to the city solicitor. A communication was also received from W. H. Compton, Frontenac street, relative to the action of a high named Ashley, who proposed to erect a building on the west side of Frontenac street, between Princess and Mack streets. The petitioner claimed that the house was built projecting further out over the street line than the houses in that vicinity, and therefore would prevent a good view, and would also destroy the good appearance of the street. It was shown that an act had been passed in the legislature regarding the building of houses past the line of others on the same street, but it only governed cities with a population of 50,000 and over. This matter was also referred to the city solicitor. A communication was received from A. B. Cunningham regarding the cab stands opposite the British-American hotel. Mr. Cunningham owns property there and as a result of the offensive odors arising from the horses standing along there so much of their time several tenants have left the premises. The board held that this was a matter which needed looking into as it injured business to a great extent. The cab stands in front of the government buildings, such as the custom house and post office, where private business would not be harmed. A committee consisting of the chairman and city engineer was appointed to look into the matter. Isaac Allen wanted a concrete walk along the south side of Earl street, from Collingwood street to 110 feet west of Victoria street, and the board granted the request. A glass window was broken in the American cafe, on Wellington street, as the result of a heavy blast which was set off in the street, and the city engineer was instructed to have it replaced. A further petition from Robert Noon, asking for compensation for the work he had done on a drain running from Alma to Erie streets, was received, but it was decided that Mr. Noon was not entitled to compensation. Members present, Aids. Rigney (chairman), Harrison, Toye, Carson and Bailey.

REPLY TO FR. HANLEY

BY FIVE SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS.

Secrecy Makes Cowards, They Declare—They Refuse to be Intimidated—Will Use Their Civil Rights.

Kingston, June 16.—(To the Editor.) In answer to the statement of Rev. Father Hanley to the Catholic members of the separate school board wish to say that feeling, as they do, that secrecy makes cowards, the time has come for them to make use of their civil rights and assert their manhood. Further, they never pledged themselves to the apparently permanent secrecy spoken of by the chairman, and strongly deplore it, except in individual cases, when it may be justifiable to withhold information from the press. They maintain that the report printed in your paper is substantially true, and while it may cut to the quick, insults no one. The reverend chairman should not take for himself remarks that apply purely to laymen. Our stand was dignified, is approved by the people in our midst, whose opinion is worth minding, and causes us no pang of conscience. As for the ambiguous warning that "this matter will be dealt with at the proper time, in the proper place and by the proper authority," we look upon as a threat unworthy of Father Hanley and of the free country in which we live, or an attempt on his part to displace the issue, cover a Catholic opinion in favor of certain parties who have shown of late no small amount of animosity and spite towards a man not absolutely undeserving of esteem and sympathy. But we hope that the good people of Kingston are intelligent enough not to be misled in believing that a question of re-engaging teachers affects some vital point of church discipline. Finally, if the above intimation is meant to intimidate fearless men who understand their duty and enjoy the confidence of all citizens and of all creeds, it is useless and petty.

Principal Rielly's Letter.

The following letter has been sent to the Rev. (Chairman and members of the Separate School board. A few weeks ago, in the interest of peace and harmony in St. Mary's school, I cemented what differences had existed between certain members of the board and myself, and I received from these members a candid assurance that all differences between us had been buried. With this understanding I applied for re-engagement for 1912 on the merits of my work for the past four years, understanding however that there still exists a spirit of animosity against me on the part of these same members who have no children to attend the school. Although I quite realize that my re-engagement would be endorsed by the majority of the board and if put to popular vote ninety per cent of the school tax-payers of this city, I feel that my personal dignity and my duty as a practical Catholic demand that in the interests of harmony and to prevent further discussion on the board I should withdraw my application for re-engagement. Permit me to state however, that the motion of "Trustee Duffy at the last meeting of the board (although I can sincerely believe that Mr. Duffy has enough intelligence to frame such a motion himself), I consider as an insult not only to myself and to the members of the board, but that it should arouse the indignation of the vast majority of thinking parents, who have had children pass through my hands, who know and appreciate the sacrifices I have made to elevate their children and to lift their school from the gutter in which I found it to its present respectable standard. I cannot close my remarks without expressing to my friends on the board my grateful appreciation of the many and dignified support they have accorded me, and of their disinterested discharge of duty—intelligent, intelligent and conscientious men who seek to promote the educational advancement of the pupils they represent, and not gratify personal malice. My decline in health through over-exercising in poorly-lighted, poorly-ventilated and over-crowded forms of the schools and the nervous and mental strain to which I have been subjected for the past six months, is another cause of this withdrawal, but while leaving the service of the board I shall always feel an interest in St. Mary's school. I shall follow the future progress of grand characters of students whom it has been my pleasure year by year to instruct, and I trust that the future of the school will be as successful as during the four years of my regime. I am, gentlemen, yours respectfully, BERNARD J. RIELLY.

Jarrell-Reid Marriage.

An interesting event took place at the residence of Andrew Reid, Amherstburg, on June 7th, when his youngest daughter, Miss Luba, was united in marriage to Frederick Jarrell, of the steamer Varana. The bride wore mauve silk with cream trimming, and was given away by her father, Miss May Williams, Belleville, a cousin of the bride, played the Wedding March. Both the bride and groom are well-known and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends, who wish them many years of happy married life.

He Knows It All.

AFTER BETTER SERVICE.

Want Benefits Between Kingston and Montreal.

At the board of trade meeting, held last evening, a communication was received from the secretary of the Gananoque board of trade regarding better railway service between Belleville and Montreal. It was pointed out that the traffic is heavier between Belleville and Toronto than it is between Belleville and Montreal, consequently they had better service. The way the schedule stands at the present time a person cannot get from here to Montreal on a fast train except in the middle of the day or the middle of the night. The Gananoque board of trade thought if Kingston co-operated that a request for better service would be met. The matter was referred to the railway committee.

Another matter brought before the board was that of unused power at the city light plant. Men are employed to run the plant known as the "day load" and coal is used to fire it and no revenue is forthcoming. The plant is capable of manufacturing 750 horse power and the one who brought up the matter thought the power could be utilized and sold to small consumers at a reduction as it costs but very little to manufacture it. The power committee was requested to deal with it.

District Meeting.

The district meeting of the Women's Institute, held at Newboro on June 2nd, was highly successful. A splendid programme was given by local talent and the address and practical demonstrations by Miss Laura Rose were greatly enjoyed. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. E. C. Leggett, Newboro; first vice-president, Mrs. J. B. Darling, Lansdowne; second vice-president, Mrs. (Dr.) Elliot, Seely's Bay; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. George Godkin, Oak Leaf; directors, Mrs. H. W. McNally, Westport; Mrs. R. Grozier, Newboro; Miss Laura Bracken, Seely's Bay; Miss J. B. Delt; Miss N. Donevan, Malcombe; auditors, Mrs. E. G. Adams, Westport; Mrs. W. H. Whaley, Newboro.

Gave a Tea.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Bidwell gave a five o'clock tea for the members of the Synod and ladies, and the event was a most enjoyable one. Mrs. Bidwell was assisted by Mrs. P. G. Campbell, Miss Constance Cook, Miss Mabel Dalton and Miss Elsie Pense. The tables were prettily decorated with peonies. At the close, Bishop Mills tendered the thanks of the members of the synod to Mrs. Bidwell for the kindness. Judge McDonald and Canon Starr also spoke, and Archdeacon Carey returned thanks on behalf of Mrs. Bidwell. Miss Annie Daley also assisted Mrs. Bidwell.

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS

Removal From Jail of Prisoners of Unsound Mind.

The grand jury in connection with the county court a court of general sessions reported to Judge Madden, on Thursday afternoon. Regarding the jail, the jury stated that an imbecile and a blind man were found there. Recommendation was made that prisoners of unsound mind should be removed from this institution. Ament was made upon the making of tile by the prisoners of the jail, which was proving very profitable. Better accommodation was urged for the turkeys. The jury visited the various charitable institutions. It found that more adequate provision was being made at Rockwood asylum for water supply and for improved sanitation. Larger grants were recommended for the various hospitals.

Very Wise Precautions.

Evidently the precautions which have been taken to be assured that the water conditions and gas pipes which are laid under the streets which are to be paved are in good shape before the road is sealed over is manifested by the faulty pipes which have been found in different cases. The other day, in front of Waldron's store on Wellington street, while laborers attached to the water works department were engaged in fixing a water main, they found a crack in a gas pipe, which was fixed while the excavation was open.

A Clerical Yachting Party.

On Friday morning, Charles Macdonald, of Gananoque, took out of Kingston, on his yacht Kate, for a trip among the Thousand Islands, a party of synod clergymen and some of their wives. Among those aboard were: The Bishop of Ontario and Mrs. Mills, the Dean of Ontario and Mrs. Bidwell, Canon Starr, Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Serson, of Gananoque; Rev. J. W. deP. Wright, of Murray, and Rev. S. P. G. Wright, of Maitland. Lunch was served aboard the yacht, and the party was expected back at six o'clock.

Received Fine Position.

Ross Donaldson, who has been employed by the Dominion Express company for the past few years, has secured an excellent situation, and left here for Winnipeg a few days ago. Athletics Line-up.

"Buz" Joyce will make his first appearance with the Athletics on Saturday, in centre field. Dick will be at left and Reid at right. Mueckler and Walsh will hold the first sack and occupy the pitcher's box, although it is not known yet where each will play. The remainder of the line-up will be the same as the last game.

To be Decorated.

The post office, custom house and revenue offices will be decorated for Coronation day. George Mills has the contract for decorating the post office and S. S. Corbett has the contract for decorating the custom house and inland revenue offices. Things are in preparation now and the work will be commenced on Monday.

Brought From St. Thomas.

Angus Macdonald, from St. Thomas, was brought to the city, last night, by a constable from that city. He was recently sentenced to four years for forgery. He spent the night in the police cells, and was taken out to the penitentiary this morning.

THE OFFICERS CHOSEN Hall Furniture FOR ANGLICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION. Formed as Result of the Passing of Canon at Ontario Synod—Meeting Held in St. George's Hall Thursday Night. At the final meeting of the Ontario synod, on Tuesday afternoon, a canon was passed, which called for the formation of "The Sunday School Association of the Diocese of Ontario," and this association was duly organized at a Sunday school conference, held in St. George's hall, on Thursday evening, which was well attended. This newly-formed association will act in conjunction with, and for the purpose of carrying out, the objects of the Sunday school commission, created by the general synod of Canada. It shall consist of the bishop, who shall be ex-officio president, of the clergy of the diocese, the teachers and officers of the Sunday schools, and the lay delegates to synod. At Thursday night's meeting, officers were elected, and a general discussion was taken part in, on Sunday school work. Bishop Mills opened the meeting with an address, and then retired, owing to press of business, and the chair was taken by Dean Bidwell. In his address, the bishop pointed out the great lack of knowledge some children had of the holy scripture, prayer book and the church itself. He had thought that perhaps, at this session of the synod, that arrangements might have been made for the appointment of a secretary for the Sunday school work. He thought that if a suitable man could be secured, there would be no difficulty in the securing the money to pay his salary. The great question of training the teachers should not be forgotten. No one but a qualified teacher, would be allowed to teach in the day schools, yet in the Sunday schools this is not the case. The bishop said he hoped that this idea would be abandoned. Trained teachers were a necessity. After the bishop retired, and Dean Bidwell took charge of the meeting, the latter called upon Dudley Hill, of Napans, who has, for many years, been actively engaged in Sunday school work, to explain the new canon, and after he did so, the officers for the association were elected, as follows: Chairman, Dean Bidwell; secretary, Dudley Hill (Napans); treasurer, G. F. Rague. After the election there was considerable discussion on Sunday school work. On June 13th, 1911, seventy years ago, was the opening of the first winter parliament at Kingston, by Lord Sydenham.

JAMES REID'S The Leading Undertaker. Phone 147. HIS WIFE WENT OFF With Another Man—Breaking Up of a Local Home. To return from his work to what he supposed to be his happy and settled home in the lower part of the city, and find a note on the table, saying that his wife had gone with another man to the American side, was the unpleasant surprise of a Kingstonian on Monday last. He didn't use hard language and go after the pair with a pistol, threatening the lives of one or both, neither did he swear out a warrant for the arrest of the fleeing pair, but he took things as a matter of course, saying that it was through no fault of his that she was forced to go away. He went straightway to a second hand dealer, sold all his furniture and household effects and is now boarding and still keeping his job. Before going, the woman took her one child to her mother, with the excuse that she was going away for a short time. The deserted husband said that he had always used her as well as he knew how.
