TEACH THE INDIANS

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THE FOREST FIRES.

The Government is Building Look-Outs Connected by Telephone to Summer Assistance.

Ottawa, June 19.—A campaign of education and organization is being carried on by the forestry branch among the Indians between Manitoba and Hudson's Bay in preventing and fighting forest fires. Agents of the department are now among the Indians giving talks upon the disadvantages to the natives which follow the burning of forest areas. They have authority to enlist the Indians as volunteer fire fighters and have hand-some badges to distribute which will indicate the authority who will agree to undertake the work. It is believed that this plan will reduce the number of forest fires chiefly by making the Indians more careful to extinguish their camp fires.

To facilitate forest fire fighting on the wooded eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains, the department is establishing observation stations at prominent points and is making deposits of fire-fighting tools which can be drawn upon for axes, shovels, etc., when a fire is to be put out. Roads and trails are being cut through the forests to enable fire fighters to speedily reach any point where smoke shows a fire has started. The observation points, and the settlements are being connected by a telephone system which will enable fire guards to at once send out word of a fire to the nearest point where men are who can be called upon to attack it.

HEARD SERMON IN ST. GEORGE'S BY CANON STARR.

The Garrison Chaplain Preached on the Taking Up of The Cross—Anniversary of Battle of Waterloo.

The last church parade of the Royal Military College cadets was held on Sunday, to St. George's cathedral. The attendance was large and the church looked beautiful with the red and white flowers, which the cadets had sent as an offering.

Canon Starr, M.A., the chaplain, preached the baccalaureate sermon, taking for his text: "Then said Jesus, if any man will come after me let him take up his cross and follow me." St. Matt. xvi. 21.

He showed how the cross was not a popular idea in modern life, especially to young men. Old Christians realized its value, but young men liked to think of it as a thing apart, belonging to history rather than to the present. However, the speaker said no life could be of value without the cross upon it. He spoke of the splendid opportunities both this particular age and country afforded, and of the kindness and good fellowship to be met with, but the very kindness of spirit and comfortable surroundings often made men shrink from the hard work of keeping high ideals and to his principles. The discipline and self-sacrifice of the cross could alone enable them to do it.

The speaker referred to the battle of Waterloo, of which the day was the anniversary (June 18th, 1815). "What if the men who made the empire great on that occasion had said the demands of discipline and sacrifice were too great for them?"

The easy-going kindly spirit of our time needed the old message of the cross by which alone our new nation can be saved from sinking to low levels. Canada needed men who were willing for honor's sake to endure hardships as good soldiers of Jesus Christ. The young men who went out here to take their place in the struggle between the cross of Christ, the flesh and the cross of Christ. The places of honor can only be filled by those who are trained by discipline and sacrifice. Young men would lose it if they were now thinking only of a "good time" and gave way to "low standards." But they would find it, and prove worthy of the nation, if they kept the cross in their hand, and learned that the church has the right to their loyalty as well as the nation.

The canon referred to the splendid traditions of the Royal Military College and its growing importance in the educational work of Canada, and urged the graduates to make good their opportunities by stamping them with the cross of Christ.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Bible School Day Observed on Sunday.

The Bible school convened at the First Baptist church Sunday.

The pulpit platform was banked with beautiful flowers, while other parts of the room bore testimony to the touch of busy hands. The preaching colors were white and green with a fringe of pink. The young ladies who secured the flowers and did the decorating, came in for much well-merited praise. The members of the school, their teachers and friends were present in large numbers. The junior choir added greatly to the musical part of the service. The pastor preached an appropriate sermon, and the whole service was very beautiful.

The Bible school convened at the close of the morning church service. This too was a special service. Dr. Lake, the esteemed superintendent was in charge and there was a large attendance. Here again the junior choir, under the leadership of Sidney Salisbury, church organist and choir director, sang to the great pleasure of all. The whole session was full to be both pleasant and profitable. It was one of the best days of the kind the school has ever enjoyed.

CITY COUNCIL TO-NIGHT.

Question of Meter Rents Will be Discussed.

There will be a regular session of the city council to-night.

Although there is not a great deal of business on hand, there is one question, that of the meter rents, which is sure to bring about a lively discussion. The committee has reported that it will not be able to cut off the tents this year, but there are certain members of council who are anxious to have them cut off, and will give their views on the matter.

There is also the question of the purchase of a new ladder truck, for the fire department. The fire and light committee has asked that the tender of James Laturney of this city, to build a new truck, for the sum of $1,175 be accepted, and in view of the fact that the old truck has been condemned, and the fact that the committee has money to meet the expense, in its estimates, it is hoped that the recommendation will be passed.

Seymour Power Co. Engineers Here.

Messrs. Ridgeley and Doney, of the staff of Smith, Kerry & Chace, consulting engineers of the Seymour Power company, are in town for the purpose of investigating the steam plants of the large manufacturers.

The reactionaries of the city have been hanging fire so long that the manufacturers are becoming uneasy and cease to find out just what would be the result of the introduction of cheap power to Kingston. These engineers will be in Kingston for several days and will be pleased to investigate the steam plant of any Kingston manufacturer.

It is to be hoped that the power question will be settled for Kingston without further delay. Napanea, on the west, will have cheap power in the course of another month. Gananoque already has a water power, but in Kingston, cheap power appears to be as far away as it was a year ago.

Sang in St. Mary's.

At the benediction of the Holy Sacrament, in St. Mary's cathedral, Sunday afternoon, the solo in the "Eternal Light" was taken by Master Charles O'Connor, son of T. D. A. O'Connor. The enumerators have been refused information from some citizens, and their names have been kept, as they are liable to a fine of $100.
