"BEAVER FLOUR"

makes ideal bread and pastry, because it is a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat. You don't need to keep two kinds of flour for bread and pastry. Beaver Flour makes both—a pure, white, nourishing, light loaf that "stands up" in the oven, and pastry that is crisp and appetizing. It is more economical than other flours, and appeals to all thinking women.

Use Sunlight Soap This Way

Wet the clothes well and soap thoroughly all over with Sunlight. Then roll the garments, put them into a tub of lukewarm hard or soft water and go away for thirty minutes while Sunlight Soap does its work. Rinse well in water of the same temperature, take special care to get out all the dirty suds, and then wring out.

A SOAP FOR WASHING FLANNELS AND SOFT GOODS

EVERY soap is compounded in a general way from similar basic materials; the significant difference between Sunlight Soap and other soaps is that Sunlight is a correct compound made scientifically exact by expert chemists—and that it is absolutely free from injurious ingredients of any kind.

There is no free alkali or chemicals in Sunlight Soap; there is just sufficient to render the process of soap-making complete, to leave the fats so that they dissolve readily in either hard or soft lukewarm water, so that they make a soft, quick suds and do away with rubbing and hard work.

Sunlight Soap may be safely used on any kind of underwear, flannels, merino, cashmere and any other soft materials without fear of shrinking or hardening them. It leaves them soft, fleecy and clean-smelling—no greasiness, no oiliness, no yellow color or no musty odor.

Use Sunlight Soap according to directions—try it just once—and convince yourself that it will do twice as much as other soaps.
