FIGHT ON VETO

In House of Lords to Begin To-day.

SWEEPING AMENDMENT

TO BE INTRODUCED BY LORD LANSDOWNE.

This Amendment Will Exclude From the Operation of the Bill Any Measure Affecting Prerogatives of Crown.

London, June 28.—The great struggle in the house of lords over the veto bill is scheduled to begin to-day. Lord Lansdowne has given notice that he will introduce an amendment of the most sweeping character.

It is designed to exclude from the operation of the bill, should it become law, any measure affecting the prerogatives of the crown, the right of succession to the throne, the establishment in any part of the United Kingdom of a separate legislature, and provides that on all issues of great gravity, where the sentiment of the country has not been sufficiently ascertained, a measure pertaining to such issues must be submitted to a referendum vote.

SEPARATED THIRTY YEARS.

Kansas Man's Appeal to Governor of Iowa.

Junction City, Kan., June 28.—Carl Stevenson, a contractor of this city, has just found his brother after a separation of thirty years. The brother is a business man of Omaha, and the Stevenson family will go there in July for a reunion. The Stevenson family lived in a small Iowa town when the brothers were separated. The mother died when Carl Stevenson was two weeks old and he and his sisters were taken by their grandparents. The elder brother was taken by friends who moved away. Since then many efforts were made to find the lost brother. A few years ago the matter was published in the Iowa papers, but the brother was not found. Appeal was then made to the governor of Iowa, who said that if the missing brother was in the state he would find him. The newspapers took up the case and the story was read by the Omaha business man, who immediately communicated with Mr. Stevenson, with the result that his identity was established.

Masked Man Commits Outrage in Pastor's Study Taking Church Funds.

Wheeling, W.Va., June 28.—Brooke Adams, treasurer of the First Christian church, was held up by a masked bandit and robbed of the church collection, Sunday, in the pastor's study, when a large congregation was listening to the morning sermon, not twenty feet away.

His face masked with a handkerchief, the man made his appearance through a rear door. He levelled a revolver at Adams, who was counting the collection, took the small basket and disappeared. Adams immediately called help from the congregation, but no trace of the robber was found.

THEY NEVER SPEAK AS THEY PASS BY.

Jeff and Jack Johnson Exchange Stormy Glances in London Restaurant.

London, June 28.—"Jim" Jeffries and "Jack" Johnson met accidentally in the Thodoros restaurant, Saturday night. The meeting of the former ring antagonists created a sensation among the diners, who seemed for a moment to fear a renewal of the Reno hostilities.

Jeffries, who has just arrived from Carlbad, where he has been taking a course of the waters, was dining with his wife and several friends, including Walter Kelly, the "Virginia judge," when Johnson entered.

The fighters saw each other, but Jeffries glared steadily in the other direction and refused to recognize Johnson. The noise of the gay restaurant immediately ceased. Johnson, however, avoided a scene. With his wife scintillating with diamonds, he passed Jeffries, and took a table at the other side of the room.

Jeffries appeared highly uncomfortable and hastily finished his meal and departed, leaving Johnson laughing over his wine.

There Have Been Hundreds of Deaths—Had Aid Been Sent Earlier it is Thought Thousands of Lives Would Have Been Saved.

Washington, June 28.—After several months of extreme suffering, resulting in hundreds of thousands of deaths, the Chinese famine is coming to an end. Reports from the consular offices in various sections of the affected district forwarded to the state department by Minister Calhoun, bring the news that the crops are now being harvested and there is no longer need of assistance from the United States.

The American Red Cross upon receipt of this information announced that no further contributions for the Chinese relief fund are desired.

It is said that had all the aid contributed by American people been available a month to three months earlier thousands of people who perished from starvation could have been saved.

CHILD SEEN WITH GYPSIES.

And Some Think It May be the Laidly Lad.

A story has been circulated to the effect that there is great reason for suspecting a band of gypsies who were in the vicinity of Kingston on the day that little George Laidly was missed from the wharf where he was seen last. It seems that some one who came from Gananoque had heard that a child was seen with a band of gypsies near that town. The parents and those who are assisting in the search are much interested and are ready to take up any reasonable clue. Those who know friends back along the K. & P. railway, where numbers of the soldiers are known to have come from, have written their friends to be on the lookout for the little fellow if he should happen to be back there.

The parents think that perhaps some drunken soldiers have taken him away with them, thinking at the time that it would be a lark. The police are keeping a strict watch, doing their work very quietly and have sent descriptions through the country of the missing lad. Several clergymen have interested themselves.

The bottom of the harbor surrounding the wharf was dynamited again Wednesday morning, without any apparent result. A large pile of refuse which had been dumped in the water was uprooted, but produced nothing. It is the request of the parents that no more refuse be dumped anywhere near this particular place until the body of the boy rises at the end of the nine days, if it is there. Dating from the time the boy was seen last, his body should rise to the surface Saturday afternoon.

FELL OUT OF WINDOW

WILLIAM TROY HAD MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Sat in His Window to Cool Off, Went to Sleep and Suffered Bad Fall—Suffered Two Fractures of Left Arm.

William Troy, a middle-aged man, employed as yardman at the Queen's hotel, had a miraculous escape from death, early on Wednesday morning, when he fell from his bedroom window on the third floor of the hotel, into the yard. He suffered two fractures of the left arm, and in addition, he had a bad shaking up. He was attended by Dr. McCarthy, and is now a patient at the Hotel Dieu, and is doing nicely.

The accident occurred about 12.30 o'clock. As it was a very warm night, Troy sat in his window to cool off, as it were. His room is at the rear of the hotel, and the window gives ample room for a person to sit comfortably in it. Troy was enjoying the cool breeze, when he fell asleep. Some time afterwards, however, he was awakened by some noise, and the sudden start he was given caused him to lean too far out of the window, with the result that he fell out.

Had Troy struck on his head, he would certainly have been killed. He is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.
