THE PEOPLE ARE UNCHANGED. The further west Mr. Borden went the hotter became the demand of the people for tariff revision and reciprocity.

The farmers of Alberta were as pronounced upon their wants as the farmers of Saskatchewan, even more. They intimated in places that they were not allied with any party.

Mr. Borden, in the later reports, is not reported as talking much. He set out to say "no" very emphatically to the requests of the farmers for reciprocity, and to persuade them of the error of their way.

THE IDEA IS TAKING. Sir Richard Cartwright will be required probably to give further light upon the question of proportional representation.

Italy is going to monopolize and manage all the life insurance? The great American life companies are withdrawing from the field.

our national aspirations. There are several ways of repeating history, of making it impressive, and one way is to present certain facts or recall them to mind vividly.

What progress has been made in the forty-four years since Confederation became a fact? Canada in 1867 had a small population and a somewhat uncertain outlook.

The country is fast opening up. In the west towns appear and grow in a night. At one time, and twenty-five years ago, one transcontinental railway was a burden which seemed to imperil the fortunes of the men who put their all into the work.

Crude oil is all right as a medium for the laying of dust. It must be less expensive than water, laid daily, and one has not to breathe in and occasionally swallow pulverized dirt and microbes.

What is the matter with the Ross rifle? There should be some way of determining its real value, and of proving or disproving what is said about it.

Borden & Co., in the west, drew a glowing picture of the prosperity of Canada under liberal rule, of course, for the annual deficits were piling up under conservative rule.

Of course the opposition in the federal parliament will support proportional representation. It is simply, says the Montreal Star, minority representation by another name.

Soured milk-wheated milk, after it has been boiled so as to kill the bacteria derived from the dust, air, hair, etc.—and milk on which The Bacillus Bulgarians, or The Bacillus of Long Life, has been will be developed in the prescription of an eminent Edinburgh physician.

THE MONTREAL GAZETTE MISSES THE POINT when it supposes that objection is taken to the knighting of Sir Max Aitken because he is a conservative.

The Man On Watch.

The Lampman can see no reason why there should not be a little bit of church union in Portsmouth. It is ridiculous, he says, for the Methodists and Presbyterians to be paying out money to maintain two church buildings and two ministers for a handful of people.

When President Taft took his slate and pencil and figured up how many thousands of Yankees are now singing "God Save the King" in their new homes in Canada, and how many are blown up each year while celebrating the fourth of July in the U.S.A., he began to fear for the future of the Yankee race.

The other day the Lampman was asked why Lawyer Cunningham did not have the name of his regiment changed, since there is now no Princess of Wales. This is the first time since the 14th was formed that there has been no princess.

THE LAMPMAN HAS HEARD THE QUESTION asked, is it worth while to keep up a theological college at a cost of $20,000 a year to educate three or four students for the Christian ministry.
