GLENBURNIE MOURNS

THE DEATH OF WILLIAM CRAIG, ITS "LAIRD."

Who Passed Away Monday at Noon—Deceased Was Born in Scotland in 1836—Lived in Glenburnie Sixty Years.

William Craig, so well-known as "the laird of Glenburnie," passed to rest at his residence in the Glen at 12:15 o'clock, Monday afternoon, after a long illness. It was known last autumn that Mr. Craig had a fatal disease, but the laird was very patient, and always hoped for the best. During his last illness he was very bright, though his sufferings were at times intense. By his passing Glenburnie has lost one who was known throughout the whole country.

The late Mr. Craig was a native of Roxburghshire, Scotland, where he was born in September, 1836. He came to Canada in 1871, and ever since lived on the same farm in Glenburnie. He was in the cheese business for ten years, acting as salesman of the Glenburnie factories, and in 1910 was president of the Frontenac cheese board. For four years he was reeve of Kingston township and for twenty-one years he was a school trustee. In religion, Mr. Craig was a Presbyterian, and he was a liberal. "The laird of Glenburnie" was known far and wide as the champion fiddler of the county of Frontenac. He possessed all the characteristics of the Glenburnie resident, and, therefore, an adept with the rod. He was also a fine huntsman, there being no better ground shot in the township.

The deceased is survived by his wife, four sons and three daughters: Andrew, in Glenburnie; John, in Kewatim; Joseph, engineer of the Kingston dairy school; Donald, of Kingston; Mrs. William Spooner, Albert street; Mrs. William Donald Hay, Clarence street, city, and Miss Gertrude, also of this city. Mr. Craig was an ardent Scotchman, and an old member of the Kingston Scottish societies.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

There Was a Short Session, Monday Morning. Monday's session of the police court was very short.

A young man his first appearance on a charge of being drunk, and was given a chance. Michael Hogan came next. Michael was registered as a drunk but as he is also a member of the "prohibited list" he had a great deal more to answer for. His story to the magistrate was that he had been given the liquor by a couple of men who went off on the train. He was fined $15 and costs or two months in jail.

DEATH OF ROBERT BERRY.

Passed Away Very Suddenly on Sunday.

The death occurred very suddenly, on Sunday, of Robert Berry, a well-known resident of Wolfe Island. Deceased, who was seventy-one years of age, was engaged as mate on the steamer Lamonde, and had only been in the Hotel Dieu since Friday. He suffered from cancer of the stomach. He is survived by a wife and family. The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning, at 9:30 o'clock, to the Church of the Sacred Heart, at Wolfe Island.

Impaled on a Fence.

Michael Tucker, of Collingwood street, whose father is employed in the penitentiary, met with a painful accident on Monday morning. He was playing with some lads on the fence around St. Paul's church. He slipped and one of the iron fence spikes caught him under the right arm, inflicting a nasty cut. The lad was taken to Dr. Keyes' surgery, where the wound was dressed, and then removed to his home.

Young Man Ran Amuck.

Campers down the river report that on Sunday a young man living on Wolfe Island became so affected by the heat that he ran amuck, and pulled down tents, and caused annoyance to people in the vicinity of Brophy's Point.

Opened an Office.

The company publishing Church Life and the Ontario Churchman has opened an office on King street, nearly opposite St. George's cathedral. The papers will be kept bright and sprightly. They are valuable publications.

Police Constable James Bateson made a find, at the corner of Wellington and Brock street, Saturday afternoon, when he picked up a ring which had on it seven keys. The owner can secure the same at the police station.

Richard Le Gallienne, tiring of the eternal wail of those who decry the present as a dull, prosaic, all-business age and bewail the passing of the "good old days of poetry and romance," has written for the August number of The Smart Set a strong argument against this theory.

Leroy Scott contributes a clever satirical novelette to the August number of The Smart Set. The title, "Mrs. De Peyster's Day," and the story tells of the pitiful straits to which one of the leading figures in New York's four hundred is reduced through the curtailment of her income due to a period of financial depression.

AT GANANOQUE ON SUNDAY. Kingston Oddfellows Assisted in Decorating Graves.

At Gananoque, Sunday afternoon, the annual decoration of graves, for departed members of the Oddfellows, took place, and a Kingston party, composed for the most part of members of Kingston canton, No. 6, in uniform, assisted. The weather was very warm, but in spite of this fact there was a very large attendance. The Kingston party made the trip to Gananoque, on the steamer Lamonde.

In all, twenty-eight graves were decorated, and the usual service was held. The service was conducted by the noble grand of the Gananoque lodge, and the speakers were Dr. Elliott, of Seely's Bay, and Robert Meek, grand patriarch, of this city. The Thousand Island Railway company carried the party to within two hundred yards of the cemetery, and also brought them back to the town.

SITE FOR NEW BARRACKS

Is Now Being Considered by Salvation Army.

Brigadier Rawlings, of the Salvation Army, Toronto, was the speaker to-day, in connection with the purchase of property for the new salvation army barracks.

As stated in the Whig, a few days ago, the army has an eye on the property of John Green, on the north side of Princess street, near Clergy. The Whig was informed at headquarters of the army here, to-day that the deal has not been put through as yet, but it is understood that it will pass all right.

RECOVERED STOLEN WHEEL. Constable Bateson Traced the Missing Wheel.

About six weeks ago, a wheel was stolen from in front of the Collegiate Institute. The wheel, owned by a son of Dr. Garrett, had been left on the outside while the lad was attending his classes.

The matter was reported to the police, and on Monday morning Constable James Bateson, who had been working on the case, succeeded in locating the missing wheel at a home just outside the city limits. The wheel had been repainted, so as to prevent a clue. The party having the wheel had purchased it from another.

Sermon for Children.

At St. James' church, Sunday morning, Rev. T. W. Savary gave a special talk to the children, which was most interesting and helpful to the little folks. He took as his subject "Bells," telling the different messages given by the bells, pointing out the call given for attention, gladness, etc. Special hymns were rendered at the service.

AN OPEN AIR SERVICE

HELD IN MACDONALD PARK ON SUNDAY EVENING.

Under the Auspices of the Evangelical Alliance—Another May be Held Next Sunday Evening.

A fine and enjoyable open-air service was held in Macdonald Park, Sunday evening, at half-past eight o'clock, under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance. It was conducted by Rev. T. W. Neal, while with him on the bandstand were nearly all the pastors of the evangelical churches of the city, and other well-known Christian workers.

E. F. Trimble, of the Y.M.C.A., presided at the small portable organ, and a number of familiar gospel hymns were sung, the large orderly company joining heartily in the singing. Rev. Dr. Macgillivray opened with prayer. Rev. T. W. Neal gave a fine gospel address, well suited to an open-air service. The many hundreds who stood around listened attentively.

Rev. Dr. Macgillivray closed with prayer, and the service was concluded with a number of familiar hymns were sung, closing with the grand old doxology, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." When asked if they would like another such service, every hand in the assembly of people seemed to go up. If weather conditions are favorable it is intended to hold another such open-air service next Sunday evening, after the church services.

HAD A GREAT TIME. Theatrical Fishing Party Return to City.

With a big string of fish—and a string of fish stories, all true of course, and looking as brown as berries, as the saying goes—a theatrical party returned to the city on Monday morning, after giving members of the finny tribe a lively time up the Beattau channel, Horsehoe, Simcoe, The Brothers Islands and Collins' Lake.

The party composed of James Cowan, manager of the grand opera house, in Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Haystead, Toronto, and D. P. Branigan, the general manager of the opera house, in Kingston. The party had a great time. The visitors were under the guidance of Mr. Branigan, who is a veteran follower of Isaac Walton, and he was able to take his friends right where all "the big ones" were holding forth. Mr. Haystead, formerly Miss Josie Mills, who was formerly a well-known actress, made a fine catch. She used two hooks and managed on one occasion to haul in two at the one time, and the members of the finny tribe were given the name of "The Twins." The outing was a most successful one in every respect.

FRONTENAC GIRL SOUGHT. She Went Away to be Wedded to a Married Man.

No trace of the girl named Murray, belonging to the rear end of Frontenac county, who went to Toronto on Thursday last to meet a man from Buffalo, N.Y., who had promised to marry her, has been found. George H. Hunter, justice of the peace, sent word to a detective agency to be on the lookout for the girl's mother, who went up on Friday in an endeavor to find her daughter, but in a letter sent to the city on Monday, the mother had not appeared at the detective agency yet. Nothing can be done in Toronto until the mother is seen by the detectives to get a description of her daughter, and the Buffalo man, since the girl left home, it has been found that the man is already married, and it is now feared that the girl is wanted for immoral purposes. The mother, when in the city on Thursday, was nearly distracted, as she feared that her daughter had a long enough start that she would get away to the other side with this man before the fleeing pair could be apprehended. The girl is only eighteen years of age, and is the prettiest girl in the township, to which she belongs, having taken a prize at a picnic as being the prettiest girl present. Keen anxiety is being felt in the neighborhood to which she belongs, as to her probable fate, and everything possible will be done to trace her.

PLEASED WITH TRIP

CORONATION CONTINGENT ARRIVED HOME MONDAY MORNING. All the Boys are Delighted, With the Trip—Say They Could not Have Received Better Treatment—Accidents Encountered on Way Home.

In fine health, and well pleased with their trip, members of the Kingston contingent to the coronation, returned home, on Monday morning, at eleven o'clock, on a special train over the Grand Trunk.

All the local members came home, with the exception of Sidney McCann, a member of the engineering corps, who is staying a few days at Quebec. There were about twenty-five in the party, including the men from the battery.

The members say that they could not have been used better, during their stay in the old country, and as one stated, he would not have liked to have missed the event for any amount of money.

The boys left Liverpool at two o'clock on the afternoon of July 3rd, and made the trip out, on the Empress of Britain. They had a fine trip out. Many icebergs were encountered.

"We had a good trip out," remarked one member, "but it was very cool. Just a few days ago I was wearing two sweaters, so you can imagine how we feel the warm weather, striking Kingston. He was informed by a number of Kingston friends that a few icebergs in this vicinity would have been greatly appreciated the past two weeks.

As stated in the Whig a few days ago, the local members were given a good position for all the proceedings, and they say that the arrangements were fine; they could not have looked for better attention.

A despatch from Quebec states that members of the contingent, a while pleased with the public hospitality, were much disappointed by the official treatment, laying the blame on Lord Kitchener. "We went to be seen; we were allowed only to see," is their complaint. Of eight hundred in the contingent—only forty were in the king's procession while the others were put to lining the streets and on sentry duty.

In reference to the above despatch, a member of the Kingston contingent stated that all in the procession were mounted. He did not think the Canadian contingent had cause to complain over the matter, as they had been given the very best places on the line forward, to view all the proceedings.
