

SERMON TO ORANGEMEN

BY REV. SAMUEL SELLERY ON SUNDAY MORNING.

Reference to the Murder at Carp as a Result of the No Temperance—Strong Denunciation of Romanism.

On Sunday morning the Orange lodges of the city attended divine service in a body at Queen street Methodist church. There was a good turnout of all the Orange lodges of the city and Portsmouth, comprising the Young Britons, Loyal True Blues, Orange Boys and Loyal Orange Lodges. They formed in a procession at the lodge rooms on Princess street and marched up to Clergy, to the church. They occupied the central pews. The choir rendered a fine anthem, the obligato duet being taken by Mrs. Evans and John Shea. At the close of the service Mrs. Ross Bradley (formerly Miss Mitchell), formerly soloist of Queen street church, sang.

REV. S. SELLELY, M.A., B.D.

tingling with charges against the Roman Catholic church. Before announcing his text, taken from Luke 1, 3, he extended a very hearty welcome to the Orange lodges which were assembled. He did this, he said, on account of the things which Orangemen as a body hold as the highest ideal which can be placed before men—British freedom, equal rights and an open Bible.

His text was, "Faithfully content for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." Mr. Sellery proceeded to pick to pieces the doctrines and teachings of the Roman Catholic church. Referring to the text he dwelt upon the phrase "which was once delivered unto the saints," as being an evidence that this was the true faith, the one gospel of Christ, which was first and last, flawless and would admit of no changing. Christianity, he affirmed, did not need to be supplanted by any other religion; it was perfect; nothing to be learned by contact with other religions. The speaker said he did not mean to infer that there was no truth in other religions, but that there was nothing wanting in Protestantism.

Referring to the early writings he said that nothing could be found in any of them to warrant the Catholics to believe that there was the only religion. The Roman Catholics freely admitted themselves that their teachings are not to be found in any of the early writings. Their doctrines were not known then. He challenged any Roman Catholic to read the scriptures as taught in their faith in the early testaments.

"How does Rome justify herself by adding from time to time such edicts as are added?" enquired the speaker, and answering, he said: "These in authority say there are gaps to be filled in the Protestant faith." "Who are these Protestants as I do not Catholics?" asked Mr. Sellery. "Before we found the teachings of Christianity to-day the same as laid down in the early testaments. Where do we find anything in the new testament about predatory Christ? Was this day then shall be with Mr. in paradise? Is that negatory? Where is anything maintained about penance or worshipping of idols? Where is there a record of the infallibility of the pope?"

Mr. Sellery went on to say that the Protestant church denies the truth of these doctrines because they cannot be found in the only true record, the Bible. What about absolutism? The Bible says: "There is but one mediator between God and man and that is the Lord Jesus Christ."

"Why should we contend earnestly for the Protestant faith? Because of the glorious results which have been accomplished by the Protestant church in comparison with Catholicism. By their fruits ye shall know them." The speaker's argument was that history showed us that without true religion no nation could have prospered long. The chief element in national prosperity is national character, and national character is national religion. Why do Italy and Spain not enjoy the same prosperity as Holland and Germany? Because they were ruled by the iron hand of the pope. Roman Catholicism has always been the enemy of liberty, he declared. That is why these two nations do not enjoy the prosperity of their sisters. It might be said that all Roman Catholics were in bondage. They obeyed the priests, and all others in church authority without questioning their motives.

The speaker did not wonder why the priests wanted separate schools. They would teach the children more passive obedience than they were exercising now. More Catholicism is taught in the separate schools than literature. This is more in evidence in the Province of Quebec. Even the M. P.'s do not represent the people, but the pope, priests and bishops. Catholic newspapers in the province must regard the feelings of the "povets that la." Mr. Sellery said he could name numerous papers who had come under the ban of the priests, and were just out of business because they ran counter to the wishes of the priest. The spirit of passive obedience is evidenced everywhere. He was glad to note that the Protestant church of Canada had said that this move for coercive power must cease.

"Touching upon the 'no temperance' decree, Mr. Sellery spoke of the murder at Carp, which had resulted from the interference of a priest in a once happy home. He did not agree with mixed marriages, but he thought that once they were consummated it was sacrilegious to enter the sacred precincts of the home. He wanted to see religious liberty, but when the Roman Catholic priests interfere the Protestant church should say, "Hands off." He hoped that it would be possible in the near future that a dominion marriage law should be passed. In conclusion he hoped that the Loyal Orange Lodges would recognize their duty and prevent encroachment upon the laws of the province.

A Kindly Act. A pleasing feature of the tour of the members of the Toronto Board of Trade, who visited New Ontario recently, was the clearing of the mortgage on the Matheson Union church by the visitors. It was an incident which touched the hearts of all beholders. It was an unprompted act, entirely unexpected as it was magnificent. During the visit of the special party to Matheson, a number also strolled into the handsome little church, which is used by all the Protestant bodies in Matheson as a church edifice. Somebody made a suggestion that they take up a collection for the church. This was started simply as a small tribute to the place of worship. Quite a collection was made, and while this was going on some resident of Matheson remarked that this would be a very appropriate gift towards their little debt. This was the first intimation that the visitors had that there was a debt. They ascertained that the amount was $500, and then the collection began in earnest. Bills came where silver had been placed on the first collection and within ten minutes the entire debt was raised and some $23 over, which was made a donation to the young student pastor.

STILL MORE TROUBLE

IN THE BUILDING OF THE NEW SCHOOL.

W. J. Savage, Who Was Awarded Contract for Painting, Has Refused to Sign the Specifications—Board Has Been Called to Meet To-night.

There is still more trouble in connection with the building of the new school. Friday night, the board had everything "cut and dried," as it were, but now new trouble has appeared. W. H. Savage, who was awarded the contract for the painting and glazing, has refused to sign the specifications, and as a result, a meeting of the board has been called for to-night, to take up the matter.

"We might just as well have called for new tenders at the last meeting," one member of the board was heard to remark to-day. At the last meeting of the board, a suggestion was made that new tenders be called for, but it was voted down. This suggestion was made because a firm which had tendered for the building, asked permission to withdraw the price submitted, claiming that a mistake had been made in the price.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. The City Council Urged to Provide Place for Bathing.

Kingston, July 9.—(To the Editor)—It would be interesting to know what the council intends doing for the swimmers of Kingston. I and a friend arose at an early hour the other morning for the purpose of indulging in a swim, but we were sorely disappointed at the result.

We found on arriving at the lake that it was necessary for one to walk into the water some thirty yards or more before it was anything like deep enough to enjoy a nice, comfortable swim. During this process, mark you, we ran the risk of injuring our legs and feet, owing to the sharp shingles and stones (which abound the lake shore) projecting at an awkward angle.

My I venture to suggest, that swimmers of Kingston desire a convenient stretch of water, deep enough to swim in, which is easily reached without running the risk of injuring our limbs. I myself consider (with all due respect to our worthy council) it is high time that these learned gentlemen thought about providing suitable accommodation for the bathers of this city. Hoping this letter will stimulate activity into the minds of the council and public at large.—A CITIZEN.

Grocers Asked to Close. Kingston, July 10.—(To the Editor)—Many of the grocers closed their stores last Wednesday afternoon to give their clerks a few hours to get fresh air and breathe and they enjoyed it and I don't think the merchants lost many dimes.

Is the Water Good? Kingston, July 10.—(To the Editor)—May I ask a question as to the water now being supplied by the city at a time when nearly everyone is crying out for something wet. Is the water fit to drink just as the city gives it to us? I have asked several leading citizens who replied that generally speaking the water was pure but that perhaps it was a wise precaution to go on boiling it because when the wind is in a certain quarter microbes and other germs are apt to blow in to the intake pipe.

Notice, too, with regret, that there are some recent cases of typhoid fever in our hospitals, and as I have been boiling water for about a year I am a little tired of both preparing and drinking it. You, Mr. Editor, who know so much, will perhaps tell us whether we are to keep on boiling the water for the rest of our natural lives.—Yours truly, BELINDA.

HEART RIGHT. Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble. The reason is obvious. This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an uncorrected thing and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings."

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till, on applying for life insurance I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether and having been attacked by the advertisements of Postum I began its use.

"The change in my condition was remarkable. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared, and most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the Life Insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the change." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ontario.

Saturday Was a Scorcher.

Saturday afternoon, was a scorching day. It was, indeed, a hard task to find a cool spot. There was hardly any breeze at all, and even at Lake Ontario park, which is nearly always a cool place, there was not one breath of fresh air. Sunday at the park was a grand day, however.

ABERNETHY'S

Y.M.C.A. TO THE RESCUE

IT WILL ESTABLISH A BATHING PLACE FOR BOYS

And Teach Them to Swim and How to Save Life—Subscription to Defray Cost Asked From Citizens.

The city council having taken no action in the matter of bathing facilities for the boys of the city, the Y.M.C.A. has stepped into the breach and will endeavor to give the very best instruction available to the boys of the city during the next two months.

Satisfactory arrangements have been made with Mr. Gravelle, who has the property commonly known as "Sandy Bottom," lying immediately west of Lake Ontario Park, whereby the Y.M.C.A. will have certain bathing privileges so long as the boys are willing to abide by the rules and regulations which will be laid down in connection with the use of the property.

Funds will be necessary at once in order that a suitable bathing house may be erected, and if a number of public-spirited citizens will come forward with subscriptions, a building will be erected immediately, which will accommodate a large number of boys. A few gentlemen have already agreed to assist in this matter in a financial way. It is to be hoped that the Y.M.C.A. will not be delayed any time for funds, as the season is now well advanced.

Not only will the boys be taught to swim, but they will also be given instructions in life saving, first aid to the drowned, and the resuscitating of the drowned. This is of great importance, and will be appreciated by everyone. First-class men have been secured for this work, and great good will, no doubt, be accomplished.

Those boys who are anxious to learn to swim, and every boy should be, will be required to register their names with the secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who will immediately have a schedule made out for the different days when the boys will have swimming lessons. Either two or three afternoons a week will be given over to the younger boys, while the business boys will be given the privilege in the early evenings. The boys entering will have their turn according to their registration; that is, the first boy to register will go out on the first day, an so on. In this way a great many will be taught to swim this season. Only those who register and abide by the rules will be given lessons. This is so that the matter can be properly regulated. Any boy who lives within the city limits may register, and if the boys really want to learn to swim, now is their opportunity. The first lot of boys will be taken out on Wednesday afternoon, after they meet at the Y.M.C.A., at 2.30 o'clock. Registering of names will commence Tuesday morning.

For some years back Mr. Gravelle has had considerable difficulty with bathers, who insistently abuse the privileges so courteously accorded them by him, and their actions while bathing, naked at that, have become exceedingly offensive. Why the county constable does not take some action is hard to understand. Mr. Gravelle has determined, however, to put a stop to this at once, and will immediately prosecute any further offenders.

It is to be hoped that the city fathers will take note of the success of this arrangement, and act accordingly for next year, as the present site may not be available longer.
