Demorestville Anniversary. The first anniversary of the new Demorestville Presbyterian church proved an interesting event. Rev. James Binnie, Tweed, convener of the home mission committee of Kingston presbytery, preached at both services on Sunday. On Monday a dinner party was held on the church lawn to which many went from Picton and other places besides the immediate vicinity. A good musical programme was given by the Picton friends, including solos, duets, recitations, and several pieces by the boys' orchestra of the Methodist church. There were speeches also. The event of the evening was the burning of the mortgage. That this really beautiful little church is only one year old and free from debt is surely a matter for congratulation to this plucky band who have just decided to assume the dignity and responsibility of an augmented congregation. It forms a fitting close to the work of Rev. Peter Nichol, who retires from the active ministry in October. During his three years' pastorate new churches have been built in Demorestville and Crofton. It was, therefore, an impressive moment when Dr. Cryan, treasurer for over twenty years and now an elder as well, stepped forward and presented the mortgage while Mr. Nichol applied the match and the smoking ash fell into the baptismal font.

Prof. Beard, Cobourg, late of Fredonville, N.B., has been engaged as organist of the First Methodist church, Picton. Mrs. Phoebe Ann Kimmerly, relict of the late William Kimmerly, died in Deseronto, on June 25th, aged seventy-four years.

SHOCKED THE BATHERS EMMA CARUS WAS ORDERED OFF THE BEACH. Actress Appeared in a Dip Costume That Showed Her an Nature, and Caused a Sensation. New York, July 8.—Emma Carus "got the hook" for the first time in her career, yesterday, when she was shooed off the beach at Glen Island, where she shocked the modesty of the bathers by appearing in a Parisian creation that would make Anthony Comstock flush with righteous indignation.

As she emerged from the pavilion and tripped lightly down to the beach, a gasp escaped the hundreds of bathers, but though they were terribly shocked they nevertheless kept a fixed gaze on the actress until she was politely, yet firmly, invited to leave the beach and don her street attire. The women admonished their husbands and male escorts to concentrate their gaze elsewhere, but they had as much chance of being obeyed as roses have of blooming at the North Pole. The costume which caused such a furore was a one-piece suit of royal purple hue with socks, cap and high-leaved French slippers to match. It was décolleté, cut low in a V-shape, both front and back, with a network of lace interwoven on the neck which faded the peek-a-boo effect into a dim insignificance. The actress' arms were bare and a narrow strap over each shoulder supported the upper part of the garment. The sides were also cut V-shape, converging from a point under the arms to the waist line, with the same peek-a-boo effect as in the bodice.

VILLAGE OF SYDENHAM. The Death of Mrs. Edward Pixley on Wednesday. Sydenham, July 7.—Farmers are busy with their hay and report a good crop. The weather has been very hot and dry for the past week, but the splendid rain which visited this locality was needed. J. P. Lacey and family are moving to the "Cove" for the summer. Rev. A. E. Smart, of Sharbot Lake, will preach, Sunday morning, at St. Paul's church, also to the I.O.O.F., No. 444, who will attend service at three o'clock. Rev. Mr. Fokes will fill Rev. Mr. Hanna's place at the Methodist Episcopal church during the latter's absence, on vacation. Among those who spent Monday at Nanawau were John Welsted, John Switzer, H. B. Woodruff and Edward Kuttan.

The local train men are working hard these days, and bring in heavy loads of freight and ties nearly every night. Mrs. Edward Pixley died, at the home of her son, Gardner Pixley, Wednesday morning. A 20-0X TEAM With the Wild West Show, Here Tomorrow. Agnie Oakley, the peerless wing and rifle shot of the world, will appear as the bright particular star of the Young Buffalo Wild West show, which will exhibit in Kingston Tuesday, July 11th, afternoon and night. She is known as America's "shooting star," and is the world's most famous wing and rifle shot. During her career she has travelled over fourteen countries and has exhibited her skill before all of the crowned heads of Europe. The late King Edward of England, before whom she gave five exhibitions, and for whom she was named, was the greatest shot I have ever seen. America should be proud of you." To this the peerless woman replied: "Your majesty, I am proud of America." In company with Annie Oakley, the Young Buffalo Wild West show will present Capt. Curtis Liston and Col. O. H. Stevens, the three making up the greatest trio of marksmen ever seen in a single attraction.

The Young Buffalo show opens its engagement in this city with a great free street parade, which is entirely different from that offered by other attractions of this nature. It is more than a mile in length and one of its features is its great team of twenty oxen driven through the streets by one man. The 700 men and women of this aggregation will participate in this street demonstration.

WOULD TRAIN FOR CHILD REARING Kansas Professor Wants to See Standard Brought Up to That of Pig Raising. Topeka, Kan., July 10.—Fathers and mothers go right on rearing children in the good old fashioned way, guessing at what should be done to make better men and women, while the old man is out in the barnyard studying carefully how to grow better wheat and corn and how to raise more meaty steers and fatter pigs," says W. A. McKeever, professor of philosophy of the Kansas Agricultural College. "Crop production, stock raising and breeding are sciences taught by schools but child rearing is a guess combined with hearsay and superstition," continues Mr. McKeever. "In our eagerness to herald to the world the magnitude of our corn and wheat crops, the superiority of our beef cattle and our thoroughbred sows, and the tremendous productiveness of our good old faithful hen we often lose sight of the real issue—the splendid crop of strong sons and fair daughters the country is producing. "Droughts and deluges may destroy our grain crops; disease and degeneration may lay havoc with our cattle on a thousand hills and our treasured porkers in the fields of alfalfa; yet, our boasted helpful hen may occasionally cease her productive labors. All these calamities may come upon us, one in its turn, and yet our glory may not be dimmed, provided only that our growing boys and girls be so safeguarded in the home, so educated and disciplined in the school, the church and other institutions that they will develop into well rounded, magnificent specimens of manhood and womanhood. "Go where you will throughout the length and breadth of this fair land, and I challenge you to find a more pleasing aspect than that of a rosy-cheeked twelve-year-old girl, garbed in a loose fitting house dress and a dainty white apron, while with a snowy towel in her hands she is engaged in drying the dinner dishes. "It is much to be regretted that we do not give its just measure of honor and praise to this exalted home life. There is certainly need of a great poet or painter who will, by means of high art, divert the attention of many young girls from the airy phantoms which they are now pursuing and help them to fix their affections upon the things that make for more substantial character. "In the colleges are special courses in pig raising, poultrying, horse breeding, production of special types in cattle for beef and milk, crop rotation and seed selection, but the fathers and mothers go on making experiments in rearing children. Children may be well born, but their prospects for the useful career are often blighted through ignorance on the part of the parents. "I want to see established college courses in child rearing, so that parents can know how to train and care for their first born without hurting the moral and physical fibre of the child through a long series of experiments and trials which teach little to the parents and do much less to make the child a useful citizen when he grows up."

EXCITED OVER SEARCH FOR CHESTS BURIED YEARS AGO IN MICHIGAN. Boys Unearth a Rusty Iron Box Which Contains the Secret of a Spiritualist Regarding Turning Sable Stones Into Gold. Corey, Mich., July 10.—A romance of the days when much of the state of Michigan was a wilderness was brought to light yesterday when boys of the South Bend, Ind., Y.M.C.A. summer camp, while digging a hole for a flagstaff, brought up a rusty iron box, containing pistols, books and several documents. In the chest were found two rusty pistols of an ancient pattern, a plain gold ring, a silver cased watch, of Swiss manufacture, a small dagger and a rust-stained hunting knife leather bound books, dating from 1767 to 1819, among them a Bible, "Children of the Abbey," and "Book of Passion." There were several school books and a number of pennies, bearing dates from 1781 to 1854; samples of silver, lead and copper ores, arrow heads and a collection of pebbles. Deeds, dating back as far as 1739, related to property at Plymouth, Conn. An explanation of the mystery was found in a letter left by the owner of the chest, in part, as follows: "This chest is the property of Hezekiah Thomas, formerly of New England, later of the Michigan wilderness. A spiritualist of God, believing, and my spirit still roams over these lakes in the full moon seasons, guarding all my valuable deposited possessions, they are many and varied—great treasure, wonderful secrets, but because of the great sin he took them all away but one—the least of them—this turning of Sable stones into gold. I have buried this secret by the body of old Duck Wing in the big swamp." George Kneivits, who lives in a portion of a house built by Thomas, says that as a boy he recalls finding carefully secreted collections of pebbles in the house. It is said that the queerness became noticeable about the same time. Thomas' body was found in the woods about fifty years ago. He had been frozen to death. The whole neighborhood is now excited over a search, immediately begun, for the remaining chests.

A GLAD REUNION. Of the Survivors of Late Richard Newton Family. A reunion of the family of the late Richard Newton, son of Rev. Richard Newton, who came to this country in 1811, settling in Hungerford township on the farm, now owned by Wesley Maynes, took place on July 1st. There were present four sons and four daughters, ranging in age from forty to sixty-one years, being the total surviving members of this well-known pioneer family. They were: Dr. J. V. Newton and wife, of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. T. B. Newton and daughter, Mrs. Culver, with her young son, Newton, of Orillia; Mrs. John Prouse and daughter, Mrs. George Wood, London, Ont.; W. K. Newton and wife, Salford; Mr. and Mrs. W. Chambers, Salford; R. W. T. Newton and wife, Woodstock; Mrs. W. Dutton, Aylmer; also Miss Eva Moore, daughter, of Rev. T. A. Moore, Toronto, who read a letter from her brother, H. Moore, expressing his regrets because of his inability to be present owing to absence in England as a reporter at the coronation for the Montreal Herald. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Newton and Master Laurison, of Tweed, with an ample and dainty luncheon joined the party at the old home and all had dinner on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Maynes threw wide their gates and doors, rendering a very hearty welcome and giving them the freedom of the house and farm. A happy time was spent in recounting many of the incidents of the old, old days. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Maynes for their great kindness. A brief visit was then made to the old cemetery, made sacred as the final earthly resting place of "Mother." The party here separated to meet again at the great Ketcheson family reunion.
