REID & CHARLES

WENT TO PETAWAWA

MEMBERS OF R.C.H.A. LEFT FRIDAY MORNING.

Given Royal Send-off by Band and Their Many Friends at the Station—One Hundred and Thirty-two Men in the Party.

With the band playing "Auld Lang Syne" and a large crowd wishing them a safe journey, and a fine company of the R.C.H.A. left the Kingston and Petawawa railway station, shortly after nine o'clock, on Friday morning, via a special train, bound for Petawawa.

The band will not go to the camp until about August 1st, and will thus be here to give their concerts in Macdonald Park.

There were 132 men and 116 horses, Major J. S. N. Leslie in command. It was expected that the "soldier boys" would arrive at Petawawa about three o'clock in the afternoon.

As usual, the soldiers took with them their pets, dogs and cats, and as the train pulled out, it looked like one happy family. "Teddy," the bear, the mascot of the battery, went to the camp, with the horses, on Thursday, but he did not care much about the journey. He has been attending the camp for several years, and is about tired of it. He would rather stay in barracks.

Municipal Ownership.

St. Thomas Times.
The greatest municipal enterprise in the world is nearing completion in Los Angeles, where the city has undertaken to bring pure Mountain water a distance of 250 miles in sufficient quantity to supply a city of 2,000,000 inhabitants.

It is the gravity system throughout, no pumping plants being required. It will deliver 258,000,000 gallons (net) every twenty-four hours into reservoirs located nearly 100 feet above the city.

It consists of ninety-eight miles covered concrete conduit, forty miles uncovered, twenty-one miles of open forty-three miles of inverted siphons and thirteen feet in diameter; four reservoirs along the line holding three months' supply. Bonds issued for $23,000,000. Total cost will be safely under Chief Engineer Mulholland's estimates.

In addition, the water power will be utilized in producing 1,200 h.p. peak load, of electrical energy, the sale of which will take care of the bonds and interest of both the aqueduct and the electrical plant.

AT LAKE ONTARIO PARK.

A Fine Vaudeville Performance is Being Given.

The band attraction in the city did not deter a large crowd from being present at Lake Ontario park, last evening. The pavilion was well filled. The programme was entirely new and one of the best yet presented. The Harris twins gave an elaborate presentation of their work and were warmly applauded. Miss Mille Clarke sang with great sweetness "To The End Of The World With You," and in the duet gave "H-I Should Plant a Tiny Seed."

In response to a recall she sang the old favorite "Annie Laurie," in a manner to win her many admirers. Miss Rosevear's two songs "Sing Me An Old Sweet Song Of Love," and "Shine On The Moon," were greatly appreciated. Pathe's "Coronation Of King George V," were first-class representations of the procession to the abbey and the return to Buckingham palace. The different scenes in the route were shown vividly—the king in the royal coach, the colonial troops, foreign visitors and the Duke of Connaught were recognized. They are beautiful and well worth going out to see. The other views were "To The End Of The World" and "Niece to the Chorus Lady." The same programme will be repeated nightly for this week. The announcement of Sunday cars was received with an outburst of applause.

Why at Kingston?

Stratford Herald.
The Galt Reporter expresses a view with which the Herald concurs in the following: "It is a pity that the Hon. William J. Hanna was not in control of the Kingston penitentiary for five years by Stratford's Police Magistrate for stealing four bicycles. The Guelph prison farm is the place for this youth—not Kingston penitentiary, where the hardened fellows are to be found." It does seem as if our police magistrate, doubtless with good intentions, made a mistake in sending that boy to Kingston. He should go to the place where reformatory work is best developed—to the Central prison farm near Guelph, if it is possible to send him there. We express the hope that there is yet time for a change in the boy's destination.

Tribute to Sir Wilfrid.

Montreal Star.
There are occasions upon which the prime minister is more than a party leader; and this is one of them. He becomes the official representative of all Canada. We forget party and public questions in acclaiming the First Canadian. Personally, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is an ideal personage for this position. That he comes from the bosom of the minority race makes it all the more fitting that he should so splendidly fill up the measure of our pride. In truth, the touch of the winged poet in his eloquence is the gift of his race; and the picturesque quality which is never absent from his public appearance, is another heritage that Latin birth gives to its favored sons.

Killing Its Thousands.

Montreal Herald.
One of the features of the king's visit to Dublin was the opening of a dispensary for the fighting of tuberculosis. They are taking up this battle very seriously in the British Isles. Our parliament is about to meet, and there is no problem to which it could more profitably devote its attention. We are terribly "panicky" about smallpox, but the white plague goes on silently killing its thousands.

CLERGY CHANGE MARRIAGE FORM.

Objections Were Raised to Certain Phrases in Ceremony.

London, July 13.—It has long been suggested that the form of marriage service of the Church of England is unsuitable to present-day decorum in speech, and at last action has been taken by the Lower House of Convocation at a meeting held in the Church House at Westminster.

It was suggested that one clause should be altered to read: "It is not by any to be taken in hand immodestly, lightly, or wantonly, but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly and in the fear of God."

"There is a great deal too much prudery about in the twentieth century," said Canon Rhodes Bristow in opposing the proposed alteration.

Canon Henson, supporting the proposal, said prudery was a bad thing, but the sixteenth century, from which this particular exhortation came, was a coarse age. After discussion, the alteration was agreed to.

There was a keen debate on the proposal to modify that part of the marriage exhortation which describes the first cause for which marriage was ordained. A committee recommended that the clause should begin: "It was ordained for the increase of mankind; instead of 'it was ordained for the procreation of children.'"

The Archbishop of Birmingham said he did not think the inclusion of the word "procreation" was at all effective. To a large number of persons it was widely offensive, and, as a priest uttered it with hesitation and slurred over it, a great deal of the effect of the teaching which the exhortation was meant to convey, and which he regarded as extremely valuable, was lost.

The committee's recommendation was agreed to.
