LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE

ASK COMPANY TO WITHDRAW SUNDAY CARS.

Conference Held Friday Morning.—H. W. Richardson Informs Representative That Service Will be Continued During Summer as Long as Majority Wanted Them.

The street railway company has been asked to discontinue its Sunday car service, by the Lord's Day Alliance. H. W. Richardson, the president of the company, states that the service will be continued during the summer.

The request to withdraw the service came from Rev. Mr. Rochester, Toronto, representing the provincial Lord's Day Alliance. Mr. Rochester and G. M. Macdonnell, K.C., the local representative of the alliance, had a conference with H. W. Richardson Friday morning.

Mr. Rochester asked Mr. Richardson to discontinue the Sunday cars, and put forth the claim that the company had no legal right to run the cars on Sunday.

In his reply Mr. Richardson pointed out that in the franchise the company had received the right to operate Sunday cars, and he stated that as long as the majority of the citizens wanted the Sunday cars they would be continued.

Mr. Rochester contended that if any action should be taken against the company by the alliance the company would have to stand all the responsibility.

Will the alliance take action against the company? This is the question, and according to the report given at the conference Mr. Rochester did not state that the alliance would or would not take action. At any rate, if action is taken, Mr. Richardson has already stated that the company would fight the case.

Favored Sunday Cars in 1876. On Friday afternoon, Superintendent H. C. Nicks, of the minute book of the city council of 1876 in the city clerk's office, and found that the question of Sunday cars was then discussed. On June 7th, 1876, the minutes of a meeting of council shows that the agreement between the street railway company and the city was passed that night. Als. John McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. William McKossic that clause twelve be amended by adding the words "and no cars be permitted to run on Sunday." This motion was lost by this vote:

Yeas—Ald. Allan, Carson, McIntyre, McKossic and White—5.
Nays—Ald. Carnovsky, Drennan, Dupuis, Gildersleve, Hart, Power, Price and Tibbalds—8.

It is evident that the council conceded the company the right to run on Sundays, in view of the attempt to have a clause inserted in the agreement that the cars were not to run.

THE BEST YEAR YET

For the Crops in the Northland—Big Potatoes.

The Northland, Cochrane, Ont. Owing to the comparatively small acreage cleared around Cochrane yet, it not being much more than 100 years old, the main endeavor is still in clearing the land. Some of the settlers have, however, grown some very promising crops of hay, and they are now for their own use planting garden produce. Along the line of the transcontinental at the various divisional residences some remarkable results have been obtained not only in vegetable, but in fruit growing.

Owing to the opening up of some very choice land near the experimental farm, previously held by a Toronto land tract, there has been a remarkable influx of settlers in the immediate vicinity of Matheson some good clearings have been made by the pioneers of this settlement. The grass crop this year thought somewhat late is going to be a record, the growth being phenomenal. Some acreage has also been planted in wheat and oats, and nearly every green grows all the potatoes and green stuff he can eat, but the settlement is too young yet to show any results in mixed farming, the main crop being hay.

In spite of the fact that the season was late the crops about Englehart are further advanced than they have ever been in this part of the country. The season has been an ideal one, and the rapidity of the growth has been remarkable. The hay crop never was better, and the same applies to all other crops. In two weeks the settlers will be busy haying. The following is a record of the growth of clover and timothy: On June 1st timothy was seventeen inches, June 3rd, nineteen inches, June 8th, twenty-four inches, June 13th, thirty inches, and June 23rd, thirty-five inches. Clover at the present time averages thirty inches.

Near here there is a field of fall wheat that old Ontario would find some difficulty in beating. Oats look promise an abundant crop.

The crop prospects in the district around New Liskeard are very rosy, and the farmers class them as being the best they have ever had. There is every probability of a very heavy crop of hay, which will fetch at least two tons to the acre, although the prices have fallen considerably—from $22 to $13. It is computed that about one-half acreage is under clover. Many of the farmers are growing more timothy and less clover, as it sells much better. There is an exceedingly big yield of oats, peas and beans being responsible for about eight per cent. of the land. It is computed that good crop, twenty-eight bushels to the acre, and of peas, which are doing very good crop, twenty-eight bushels to the acre. Potatoes are expected to be very profitable and should fetch about 120 bags to the acre, although this ought to be enlarged in the case of the market gardener, who takes more pains with his potatoes than does the farmer. Wheat, which is responsible for about fifteen per cent. of the land, is expected to produce thirty bushels, and barley fifty.

In a north-easterly and north-westerly direction for about fifteen miles around Liskeard there will be a crop for about fifteen per cent. of the land, cleaned up and cropped, and the machinery merchants have had a busy time. One of the largest farmers in the district considers that the prospects in New Ontario are far better than in the older part of the province. The crops are much heavier and of better appearance.

Some of the farmers on a large scale are already taking to stock and are contemplating rebuilding their barns and fencing their land in preparation for this. Of course, this branch of agriculture is quite as profitable, if not more so, than the produce grown.

GOOD NIGHT.
By Charlotte Carson-Talcott, Bloomfield.
Alone sat in the grey even-tilde,
Mid the stillness of nature's soft hushes;
I hear the quick flutter of night bird wings,
Whistle still thrill the hedges with thrushes.

Up from the earth comes the fragrance of flowers,
Sweet with the scent from the new mown hay;
Voices of night! I hear your low murmur—
"Watch! 'till there blossom the roses of day."

Borne on soft zephyrs—come faintly the breathings
That fan my fair cheek as they pass
On their flight—
I close fast my lids—in the semblance
Of slumber, from heart-depths,
And whisper from heart-depths,
"good-night! good-night!"

A Conservative Senator's Views.
From a speech by Geo. E. Baird at St. N.S.
"The time had come when he had to state that he was unequivocally in favor of reciprocity; that the good had come for plain speaking, and though it was a wrench for a man to break with his party, yet when he felt that his party's opposition to this measure was merely political, when it should not be, as it was the greatest menace ever introduced by any government for the benefit of the Canadian people, he could do nothing else but sever his relations with his own party and support what he felt was right."

POISONED BY VEAL

PORT HOPE RESIDENTS SUFFER BY EATING BAD MEAT.

Were in Serious Case—Believed, However, That All the Victims Will Now Recover.

Port Hope, Ont., July 14.—Over twenty persons in town are seriously ill from ptomaine poisoning, alleged to have been caused by eating jellied veal. Charles Massie was the first to show the symptoms, he having eaten veal on Thursday for supper. On Friday morning he was taken seriously ill, and on Saturday evening his condition was very serious, and fears were entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Massie and her daughter, Mildred, and Mr. Massie's sister, Mrs. Gaudrie, have also been very sick, and have been confined to bed, but are improving.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rauch and three children were taken sick and confined to bed. On Saturday Henry Reynolds purchased a quantity of the veal. He and Mrs. Reynolds, two sons, Clive and Eric, and a daughter, and niece, Miss Manie Hewson, were taken very ill. Mrs. Reynolds' condition still being serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McNaughton, Park street; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corthwaite, Cavan street; Mrs. William Moffatt, Park street, and Mrs. Evans, at Wildwood, are very ill from the same cause.

In many of the cases referred to above the patients' fever reached 104. The doctors report that, to-day, the patients are on a fair way to recovery.

"THE CURSE OF GOD" DESTROYED TWO TOWNS.

Statement of Minister at Oscoda, Mich.—Forest Fires Still Raging.

Au Sable, Mich., July 14.—"The curse of God destroyed Au Sable and Oscoda."
Rev. L. Bird, B.D., of the Oscoda Methodist church, vehemently makes this statement, and refers to his prophecy of the holocaust which he made from his pulpit last Sunday morning in a sermon on the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

"I knew it was coming, because of their shortsightedness," declared the clergyman, with tears in his eyes.

WRECK OF THE MAINE.

Should Proclaim Spain's Innocence, Says Newspaper.

Madrid, July 14.—La Correspondencia de Espana, commenting on the development in the work of raising the battleship Maine, declares that in the light of recent revelations, it is the duty of the United States to publicly proclaim Spanish innocence in the matter of the explosion that sank the battleship.

Fixing Time of Trial.

Los Angeles, July 14.—A vigorous argument has been proceeding in court, to-day, as to the date of the McNamara trial. The prosecution wants it August 1st, and says otherwise the witnesses may get out of the state. Defense asks for December and says the defense cannot be properly prepared before then.

men, whose mills are at Carle Bay, Ont.

The timber destroyed has been nearly all spruce and jack pine. There were some splendid opportunities to establish pulp and paper mills in the district which has been swept," said Mr. Gordon, who is a guest at the Russell hotel.

"Are any of the lumber companies heavy losers?" was asked.
"No, the timber burned was practically all on crown lands."

Devilry of the Elements.

Toronto, July 14.—"When it is understood that the fire approaching us was twenty-five miles wide, that seven townships thirty-six miles square were burning, and that the wind was blowing at the rate of sixty miles an hour, some appreciation can be formed of the devilry of the elements we were up against," was the statement made by George Green of this city, who has been prospecting and dealing in properties in the Cobalt and Porcupine districts for half a dozen years.

"Nobody," he added, "can understand the horror of the situation who has not been in it. It was awful, but the grandest marvel, the wonder of the whole thing, was the bravery with which the situation was met. The women were as courageous as the men, of course, there was some hysteria, but as a whole, the fortitude exhibited by the women and even the children was beyond description, grand."

"We were absolutely last to take to the water, and then we only had a canoe, which was five times upset. There were five of us in the frail craft, James A. Brook, a Montreal capitalist, who floated the Crown Reserve, and who was with me to look over some mining properties, such as the Macaulay at Bristol, and the Walsh properties, Jack McMurrich, son of the late W. B. McMurrich, a mayor of Toronto, William Moore, a young man aged thirty, and the discoverer of the Armstrong-McGibbon mine, now known as the Doble, and the Booth-Armstrong mine, and a barber, whose only name I know was 'Mert.' The latter rushed to the shore just as we were shoring off and prayed us for God's sake to let him aboard as he couldn't swim, or even to tread behind us. We took him on, 'Billy' Wilson, an old-time prospector, happened down about the same time. He, too, pleaded to be taken, but we told him he would be safer clinging to a log. He took a log and arrived safely at the other side of the lake."

A Student Dies.

New Liskeard, July 14.—"Jack" Taylor was burned in West Dome. He died in the hospital here. He was eighteen years of age, and a Toronto university student. His home is Whitehorse, Yukon.

The Fire Spreads.

Haileybury, July 14.—Fires are now encroaching Matheson and threatening it. J. L. Thomas, of Montreal, who is just in from Matheson with his wife and child, says flames are now raging around that village, and if the wind should rise it would probably be wiped out. Matheson has a population of 2,300.

Across Lake Temiskaming from Haileybury, on the Quebec side, fires are raging as far as the eye can see. That region is only sparsely settled, and the settlers' lives will be in serious danger.

Dead Will be Under 100.

Toronto, July 14.—Over long distance telephone S. B. Clemend, chief engineer of the T. N. O., reported to Chairman Englehart that the reports of the dead in the north are greatly exaggerated. He says there will not be over one hundred. The chairman of the Purcupine relief committee is able to account for only fifty-two bodies. Nobody is starving and all able to find some kind of shelter. Only eight are known to have been drowned in the lake. Other estimates put the dead at two hundred.

Marysville, Tyendinaga, July 12.—Raspberries are almost a failure on account of the drought. Arthur Bafce wheeled to Belleville, on Monday. Many from here attended the horse races at Napanee. The Electric Power company has a gang putting up poles. J. McNeil, is spending his vacation with his uncle, Edmond McNeil. Mrs. A. Campbell and daughter, Carrie, spent Friday evening with Miss Mary Traynor, Mr. and Mrs. D. Stewart were at Deseronto, on Saturday. The many friends of Mrs. Benjamin Stewart were sorry to hear that she was thrown out of her carriage by the horse taking fright at a auto and badly shaken up. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Henderson spent Tuesday in Belleville, with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Yeomans.
