THE WHIG, 78th YEAR. DAILY BRITISH WHIG, published at 104-110 King Street, Kingston, Ontario, at $5 per year.

The British Whig Publishing Co., Limited. J. G. Elliott, President. Leman A. Gault, Sec.-Treas.

Daily Whig. THE CLOSURE MUST FOLLOW. One thing further will follow as a result of the conflict which is now on at Ottawa.

The sooner the steel lamps are changed the better. They represent at the best a very dim and uncertain light, and they are using a lot of power to no purpose.

There is something suggestive in the reciprocity proceedings of the American senate. First, there was the special session which the president called.

Then the parties did not unite on the subject. It was a non-political issue surely, and one saw the agreement supported and resisted by all sorts of combinations.

It may be that the people will express their displeasure with this manner of doing things. As they differ on the trade agreement, without regard to party, they will probably differ at the polls.

A VERY POOR SESSION. The New York state legislature has adjourned, and the impatient critic is inclined to conclude that it has not done much for which praise can be bestowed.

Tammany Hall had a large part in the doings of the democratic party and Tammany stands for all that is damnable in public life.

It is unfortunate that when such a man passes off the scene of action there is a relapse into evil ways.

this in contrasting the last session of the New York legislature under Mr. Hughes, and the first session of the legislature under Mr. Dix.

EDITORIAL NOTES. The sooner the steel lamps are changed the better.

It is Halsey—dear old Hal, or bluff old Hal—against Lansdowne. Off or the other must lead the lords and Lansdowne is beginning to think that his sun has set.

The scenes in the mother of parliaments are suggestive. They show that human nature is the same the world over, and that at times some men will lose their heads.

The challenge of Mr. Fielding fell on dull ears in the commons—that the reciprocity bill be passed and tried for a year, that the redistribution bill be passed, and an appeal be made to the people.

WHAT RECIPROcity MEANS. What Farmer, Fisherman, Lumberman, Miner and Consumer Get.

Reciprocity with the United States is now at the disposal of the Canadian people. It rests with parliament or the electors to say if we are to have the benefits of the enlarged free market.

For the Farmer. Cattle, Horses and mules, Swine, Sheep and lambs, Poultry, Wheat, Rye, Oats, Barley, Beans, Potatoes, Corn.

For the Fisherman. Mackerel, Herring, Halibut, Salmon, Cod, Oysters, Lobsters.

For the Lumberman. Timber, hewn, sawed or squared. Sawed boards, planks, deals. Paving posts, railroad ties and poles.

For the Miner. Feldspar, Mica, Talc, Salt, Asbestos.

For the Consumer. Lower duties on a host of articles, such as: Meats, fresh or refrigerated. Bacon and ham. Beef and pork, salted. Canned meats and poultry. Lard. Tomatoes and other vegetables.

How's This? We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.
