

TWO GIRLS DIE

In Newburgh Road Family Within Fifteen Minutes.

DR. J. C. CONNELL CALLED

IN CONSULTATION, BUT TOO LATE TO SAVE.

The Kingston Specialist Pronounced the Illness of the Sisters Due to Septic Poisoning From Sewer Gas—Source of Trouble Found.

Napanee, July 28.—Inexpressible sad was the double bereavement that came to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Shannon, Newburgh Road, yesterday morning in the death of their two daughters, which had occurred within only fifteen minutes of each other. The youngest, Maud, had been ill about two weeks with what the doctors pronounced tonsillitis, and after a week another doctor was called and he also pronounced it the same. A few days ago the elder daughter, Hazel, was taken ill with the same symptoms, and Dr. J. C. Connell, specialist, of Kingston, was called in consultation. He at once pronounced it septic poisoning, caused by sewer gas.

About two months ago Mr. Shannon removed to the home on the Newburgh Road, which had been unoccupied for over a year. This house and another on the street have a private drain to the river which on account of not being in use for such a length of time, became putrid. This no doubt was the cause of the double fatality.

The elder daughter, Hazel, was but fifteen years and eight days old, and the younger daughter Maud St. John was eleven years and six months. She with her twin sister, Maud, were known and loved by every one. Both girls were exceptionally bright and clever. The sad event has cast a gloom over the town.

The funeral which will be private, will be held this afternoon, at 2:30 p.m., to Riverside cemetery.

BULLETS DID NOT PREVENT WEDDING.

New Yorker Obtained License, Though Suffering From Wounds Caused by Jealous Woman.

New York, July 27.—William Murray, a well-known democrat politician, former pugilist, and saloon-keeper, of New York, was shot three times yesterday by Miss Ray Mitchell, at the Woman's Home, 230 West 46th street, because he had announced he had come to New York to marry another woman.

Two hours later, after one bullet had been removed from his face, and with the other the bullets still in his body, Murray, accompanied by Miss Helen Coulter, of New York, went to the City Hall and obtained a license to marry his companion.

About the same time Miss Mitchell was admitted to bail in the West Side court for examination on a charge of attempted murder.

STOCK BROKER MURDERED.

Body Found in Hotel in Battered Condition.

New York, July 28.—Murdered apparently by robbers, William Henry Jackson, a well-known Wall Street broker, seventy years of age, was found dead on the floor of his bedroom at the Hotel Iroquois. The body was covered with bruises. There was a deep wound over the right eye, and finger marks on the throat, and arms. A wash cloth was stuffed in the mouth as a gag.

Later—Paul Geidel, eighteen, confessed, today, to the murder, yesterday, of W. H. Jackson, an aged broker, in the Iroquois hotel. Geidel, formerly a bell boy in the hotel, finding a bottle of chloroform, thought he could rob the old man in his room. Jackson put up a fight and the chloroform killed him. The boy got six dollars and a watch.

STEAD SEES THE SULTAN.

Writes of an Interview With the Ruler of Turkey.

New York, July 28.—W. T. Stead cables to the American the substance of an interview he has had with Sultan Mehmed V. He says the sultan is a short, heavily built Turk, sixty-seven years old, with gray moustache and a strongly short white beard. His face is not expressive, with somewhat dull gray eyes. He was wearing a red fez and was dressed in European clothes, with no decorations.

Stead was thanked by the sultan for calling him to congratulate the first constitutional sovereign ever reigning in Turkey. The sultan said he had always been in favor of the constitution, and was determined to maintain it. Stead congratulated him on being so much wiser than his ministers, and the sultan expressed the hope that Stead wouldn't find occasion to censure his generals for atrocities.

At one point the conversation took a curious turn, raising a discussion whether in a polygamous harem, there should be one favorite wife, or whether all should be treated equally. The sultan preferred the favorite wife system.

Southern Banker Kills Himself With Penknife.

Dallas, Tex., July 28.—Frederick J. Wilson, cotton operator and banker of Lancaster, Tex., committed suicide, last night, at that place, by cutting his throat with a penknife. He had spent the day with friends at Dallas and killed himself soon after going home. No cause is known for his act. He was a son of C. C. Wilson, of New York city, who was recently convicted in the United States courts of fraudulent use of the mails in the promotion of a wireless telegraph enterprise.

DR. MAGEE INTENDS TO LEAVE CANADA

On Account of Carp Trouble—Will Visit Murdered Man's Parents in Scotland.

Ottawa, July 28.—Driven from Canada by the sad circumstances surrounding the shooting of Shaw, Dr. C. F. Magee, of Carp, leaves in a few weeks for the old country. While it is the doctor's intention to take a post-graduate course in the old country universities, it is stated by his close friends that he may never return. This view is supported by the fact that Dr. Magee has sold his medical practice and his drug business to Dr. George H. Groves at Carp.

One of the duties Dr. Magee will have to perform on his coming visit to Scotland will be to visit the parents of the late William Shaw, formerly his drug clerk at Carp, who was shot and killed while assisting his employer to obtain an interview with his wife and young son, separated from him owing to church difficulties, at Bridge End, near Cornwall, Ont., a short time ago. For the murder of J. P. McKee is now on trial at Cornwall.

Dr. Magee may also bear a tender message to Shaw's parents from the young Carp girl who, had Shaw not been killed, would by this time have become his wife.

"HANDS OFF" SHOUT GERMAN NEWSPAPERS

Warning to Britain by the Kaiser's Press—The Tone is Belligerent.

Berlin, July 28.—"Hands off" is the blunt warning to England sounded by the German press in the Moroccan crisis.

Unmistakably aggressive and belligerent is the tone of the press today throughout Germany. In language that cannot be misunderstood, and which lacks all diplomatic phrases, the German newspapers declare that it is a question between France and Germany. Irritation over England's interference is plainly discernable.

The "Lokal Anzeiger," one of the largest and most influential newspapers in Berlin, in an inspired article today declares that England has adopted a policy of "unwarranted intervention and open hostility toward Germany," and adds: "Germany is not disposed to tolerate wantonly interference and issues the warning 'hands off.'" This is generally interpreted as reflecting attitude of government.

CREATE ONLY 60

New Peers in Order to Pass Veto Bill.

LANSDOWNE'S FRIENDS

TO REFRAIN FROM VOTING AGAINST THE BILL.

An Alleged Agreement Between Asquith, Balfour and Lansdowne—It is Not Desired to Create Peers by Wholesale.

New York, N.Y., July 28.—The New York American's London cable says:—It has been learned on unimpeachable authority that as the result of the conferences between Asquith and Lansdowne and Balfour, it was arranged that exactly sixty new liberal peers should be created when the veto bill is presented in the house of lords. This arrangement between the opposing parties was revealed in a telegram sent last night from an important legation here to the king of a country whose ruler is a relative of King George.

The future of the constitutional crisis was revealed when it was told that in order to create sixty new peers only by arrangement with Asquith and the liberal leaders, Lansdowne and his followers would abstain from voting when the veto bill reached the house of lords thereby carrying the bill and overcoming the necessity of creating peers by wholesale, which action the leaders of both parties are much averse to.

By abstaining from voting Lansdowne preserves his pledges to the unionist party, he having promised not to vote for the bill since the first agitation. With the Lansdowne party neutral and sixty additional liberal peers to support it the government bill will become law and the enormous power of the lords be eternally proven.

London, July 28.—The Birmingham Post says the king may possibly visit Canada during the Duke of Connaught's governorship. Ottawa, July 28.—The output of the Yukon gold fields this year will exceed that of last year, in the opinion of F. T. Congdon, M.P. for the Yukon, who arrived in the city after his long journey from Dawson city this morning.

Mr. Congdon stated that he was very pleased to note according to cables from England that the South African Gold Fields company, the wealthiest mining company in the world, would enter the Yukon field.

The German Bluff.

Paris, July 28.—The Matin, to-day, devotes an article to what it styles "The German Bluff," claiming that no one in Germany would think of daring the risk of a struggle against the triple entente. The paper adds: "The Agadir incident demonstrates that Emperor William's efforts to obtain better relations with Great Britain were pure hypocrisy. The real aim was to separate England and France."

Berlin, July 28.—General Callisthene Foucheard, the Haitian minister to Germany, who ten years ago was an opponent of General Firmin for the presidency, is still here. He is again willing to be a candidate for the presidency, but awaits a call from his former followers in the south of Haiti before leaving for home.

HOLLAND AND BELGIUM ARE DRAWING TOGETHER.

Significance Attached to Queen Wilhelmina's Visit to Brussels.

Brussels, July 28.—The opinion in authoritative circles is that the visit of Queen Wilhelmina to King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, which began yesterday, will prove more than a simple act of courtesy. Belgium and Holland feel that the time has come for them to reach an agreement to act jointly in the event that international difficulties threaten the invasion of the two countries. The possibility of a European conflict is openly discussed. A great crowd cheered the queen, as with her consort, Prince Henry, she was driven to the palace.

A PRIEST IS WED TO HIS HOUSEKEEPER

Organist's Love For Golden Haired Girl Causes Secret to Be Revealed.

Baltimore, Md., July 28.—Father Joseph Zielonko, pastor of the First Independent Polish Catholic church, yesterday made the startling confession that his pretty young golden haired housekeeper is his wife. They were wed four years ago, he said. The exposure came about through the organist of the church being too attentive to the priest's wife.

"When the new organist came," said the priest, "I took him into my house. He began to make love to my wife. I was forced to ask him to leave the house."

Father Zielonko came to this city two years ago. He brought the golden haired girl with him. The congregation thought she was merely the housekeeper, none knowing of the wedding at Sunbury, Pa., where the couple were married August 29th, 1907, by J. P. Carpenter, a justice of the peace. "I shall not announce from my pulpit that I am married, but, if necessary, I will call my congregation before me in a special meeting and announce that I have a wife. If they are not satisfied, I will leave them," declared Father Zielonko.

DISSOLUTION IS NEAR

SIR WILFRID LAURIER CONFERS WITH EARL GREY.

Another Day of Obstruction—Only a Quorum Kept in the House—Members Busy Corresponding With Their Constituencies.

Ottawa, July 28.—Parliament is having a long death rattle, but yesterday's further twelve-hour rattle, provided as usual by the obstructionists, brought the final dissolution perceptibly nearer. Both patient and patience are nearly exhausted, and the last throes are now almost hourly expected. There was a persistent rumor that dissolution might come before the week is out. Sir Wilfrid is, however, keeping his own counsel as to the psychological moment to ask Earl Grey for the inevitable dissolution, and perhaps only the two of them know the probable hour when the agony shall be ended.

His excellency and the first minister have had several conferences, but the result is hedged about with the greatest secrecy. The members themselves have no reliable information as to when they will be released. No pairs are being allowed on either side, and the whips on both sides are kept busy keeping their men on hand for a good showing on a party division at any time. The task is a difficult one, for there is no interest taken in the long-drawn-out obstruction talk in the chamber, once it has got well under way for the day.

Members are, for the most part, busy with their correspondence with constituents, sending out campaign literature or discussing election prospects in corridors or smoking-rooms. Attendance in the chamber is for the most part only under instruction from the whips to preserve a quorum. All are tired of the farce and anxious to get away to their constituencies.

Indications point to a release by Wednesday or Thursday next, though it may possibly come sooner. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will welcome an opportunity to discuss with the opposition before dissolution his attitude at the imperial conference.

A brilliant and vigorous speech from the premier covering the vital issues that will be thrashed out in the coming campaign—namely, reciprocity versus obstruction, imperialism versus ultr-imperialism, and majority versus minority rule—will probably mark the last scene, Sir Wilfrid, if the opportunity offers, will thus give a rallying cry to his followers and sound the war notes of the campaign.

Meanwhile the hours of obstruction talk still being endured emphasize one chief moral of the present session—namely, that the new parliament must take prompt steps to prevent a recurrence of another eight months' session with less than half the business of the house put through. Liberal members have been loath to advocate dissolution, but patience has now ceased to be a virtue. There is a general consensus of opinion that no sane man can be expected to long remain a member of parliament under present conditions, when there is absolutely no remedy for needlessly long sessions and a hold-up of the country's business at any time by a stubborn minority. In the coming campaign the liberal members will frankly declare the necessity for some form of closure, and when the government is returned to power it will have a mandate to change the rules of the house in accordance with the present obvious need for reform.

The Dominion Navy.

Ottawa, July 28.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to-day, tabled the agreement reached at the imperial conference regarding dominion navies. The navy to be exclusively under the control of the Dominion government. Training and discipline will be uniform with British service, and men and officers interchangeable under arrangement. Canada desiring to send a ship to a foreign port, must arrange through the British foreign office. While a Canadian ship is in a foreign port, the commander must send a report of its actions to the British admiralty and obey orders from the British government. When in company with British ships, the senior officer will have command, so long as orders do not conflict with orders from the Canadian government. In time of war, when the naval service of the dominion has been put at the disposal of the imperial government, the ships will form an integral part of the British fleet, and remain under the control of the British admiralty during the continuance of war. The Canadian Atlantic station includes water north thirty degrees, north latitude, and west meridian forty degrees, west longitude. Pacific station included waters north thirty degrees, north latitude, and east meridian one hundred and eighty degrees, longitude.
