DR. EDWARDS CHOSEN TO AGAIN REPRESENT COUNTY CONSERVATIVES

Reciprocity Opposed by Speakers—Speeches Delivered by George Taylor, M.P.; W. F. Nickle, M.P.P.; Candidate, and Others.

Dr. J. W. Edwards, the present member, will again be a candidate for the conservative party of the county of Frontenac, at the coming election. He was selected, by a unanimous vote, at a well-attended meeting of the conservatives of the county, held in the division court room, at the court house, on Thursday afternoon. Two other nominations were made, but both gentlemen retired in favor of Dr. Edwards, and both took occasion to compliment Dr. Edwards, for his service already rendered, and to continue their confidence in him.

The president, James Martin, presided, and when the meeting was called to order there were three nominations, as follows:

Dr. J. W. Edwards, proposed by A. E. Freeman, Hartington, seconded by John Taylor, Storrington.

Anthony Rankin, Collins Bay, proposed by George Stuart, Pittsburgh township, seconded by Daniel McLean, Pittsburgh township.

Richard Hamilton, of Hinchinbrooke, proposed by John Lowry, of Olden, seconded by John Clow, of Portland.

Messrs. Hamilton and Rankin retired in favor of Dr. Edwards, after thanking the men who had proposed their names, and thus Dr. Edwards got the nomination, by a unanimous vote, amidst much cheering.

Speech making followed the nomination, and in addition to Dr. Edwards, addresses were delivered by George Taylor, M.P., for Leeds, J. S. Gallagher, M.P.P., for Frontenac county, W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., Kingston, and Rev. Edmund A. Neville, of Mincey, Indiana, an Englishman by birth. The latter came out very strong against reciprocity, as did also the other speakers.

Dr. Edwards criticized the government for not extending the rural post-offices, holding that the big surplus of this department should be returned to the people in the way of additional postal service. He claimed that the government wasted a large amount of money in doing other things. He claimed that while large sums had been expended on the militia, that agriculture had been neglected. Reciprocity had been brought on by the liberal government as a sort of "blanket" to cover up the misdoings of that government. The speaker argued that reciprocity would not be the best thing for Canada, and that in its passing, Canada would not get a square deal. He was a protectionist, and endorsed the policy of Hon. R. L. Borden, who asked that an independent commission be appointed to consider the conditions with the other countries, before the tariff was regulated.

The speaker claimed that now that Canada was doing well, the States wanted to get in on the ground floor as it were, because their resources were gone. The main object in the minds of the American statesman, as regards reciprocity, was that of making the United States and Canada one nation. He thought that Canada had good reason for being suspicious along this line.

Dr. Edwards said he was not a free trader, and that he could not understand how it was that a farmer in this country could be anything else but a protectionist. His motto was "United for Canada," and this should be the motto of the conservatives of the county. The motto should not be "United States."

George Taylor, M.P., spoke strongly against reciprocity, and said all the farmers should oppose it. He characterized the liberal government as the most extravagant, the most disloyal and the most corrupt. The government, he said, had been complaining of the extravagance of the conservatives when they were in power, yet the present government had expended far more money. The speaker paid a warm tribute to Dr. Edwards and asked that he be given all the support possible.

J. S. Gallagher, M.P.P., did not touch political issues, but stated he would be glad to do so at some of the future meetings. He presided and appealed to his supporters to work hard.

Rev. Edmund A. Neville, of Mincey, Indiana, who came up on the train from Gananoque with Mr. Taylor, and who, by the way, is filling the charge of Rev. Mr. Seaton, of that town, who is ill, was then introduced, and he made a short but strong address against reciprocity. He said he had studied up the question and was of the opinion that the reciprocity scheme was but the first step towards annexation, on the part of the United States. President Taft, he claimed, was making use of reciprocity for election purposes, in order that he might get the convention next year. He could not see that Canada stood to gain by reciprocity, and he wished to warn the country. He asked all to vote against it. Canada should be independent and work her own resources.

W. F. Nickle, M.P.P., spoke briefly, and was given a warm reception.

JUDGE HIT HIM ON JAW.

Judge Macbeth, of London, Resented Street Rowdyism.

London, Ont., Aug. 11.—If a judge hits a man who uses a trolley on his wife, is he breaking any of the laws which he was appointed to enforce? The question must be of interest to Judge Macbeth, for on Tuesday night he planted a scathing blow upon the face of a merry-maker who had the audacity to tinkle Mrs. Macbeth.

The judge was walking with his wife along Richmond street just north of the station. He saw the rollicking crowd all about. He saw women tinkle and be tiddled. But he walked along confidently. Then a young man raised his feather-tipped stick and tiddled Mrs. Macbeth. It was too much for the judge. He did not suspend sentence. He never thought of bringing action against the frolicsome person. He got his arm, hardened from much gold, into action, hitting the tiddler fair upon the jaw.

The young man staggered, but said never a word. He was surprised. Judge Macbeth took the arm of his wife, and with head up marched along the street.

Joslin, of Voorheesville, in a room in the Edison hotel in this city and demanded $50 from him on the threat that he would be thrown from the window. The doctor said the three men got all the money he had, which was $8. It was said that the trio have confessed, saying that they were much in need of the money.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 11.—"What is a high ball?" This question is puzzling a committee of the central body of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of this city.
