HAS WILL BEEN FOUND

REPORTED PLUMBERS FOUND GEORGE DOCUMENT.

William Mundell, Solicitor for Mrs. George, Knows Nothing About the Alleged Find.

A report was current in the city, Friday, that the famous Joseph George will be found that it had been unearthed in the old home of the deceased, on Wellington street by some plumbers who are doing some work there.

The Whig called upon William Mundell, solicitor for Mrs. George, told him about the rumor current on the street, and asked him if there was any truth in it.

"This is the first I have heard of," he said. "I have received no report whatever of the will having been found, and, further, I do not think the report is true."

The report, which went the rounds, was to the effect that the people who had made the find were keeping the matter a deep secret, and that nothing would be done in the matter at the present time.

Mrs. George is at present out of the city, having taken up her home at Collins Bay, for the summer months. As will be remembered, the missing will is that of the late Joseph George, an old resident of this city, which formed the basis of a case in the high court a short time ago, and will cause another controversy at the fall assizes.

MAHARAJA OF GWALIOR'S MUNIFICENT GIFT.

Handed $40,000 to King George for Charitable Institutions.

The London Chronicle says: The munificence of the Maharaja of Gwalior is a pleasant sequel to the coronation. His highness has handed to the king-emperor the sum of £8,000, with a request that his majesty will allot the money to charitable institutions at his pleasure, as a gift commemorative of the coronation. The king's distribution of the money seems to be extremely judicious; and the generosity of the Maharaja will, as his majesty says, "arouse in all hearts feelings of respect and gratitude."

This princely piece of munificence from the ruler of one of the native states is a pleasant prelude, also, to the great ceremonies, as the under-secretary, yesterday, described, will be the presentation to their majesties of 150 ruling chiefs. The ceremonies will be on a scale of great magnificence, and will involve a very large expenditure, but it is satisfactory to learn that the finances of India are flourishing enough to bear this cost without new taxation, and with the prospect of a considerable surplus. Mr. Montagu, in the course of an excellent speech, predicted that the visit of their majesties would be taken as an earnest of their desire, and of the desire of their British subjects, "to help and serve" the peoples of India. The splendid gift of the Maharaja of Gwalior to the king for the benefit of the British people is a graceful proof of affectionate loyalty.

Rev Beach's New Novel.

For rush of action, intensity of surprise and humor, Rex Beach has here outstripped himself. "The New Do Well" is a young American with a fight on his hands, and it isn't an easy fight to win. He goes to Panama. This new scene is ever richer than Alaska. Here are various kinds of Americans—and several of the other Americans with swarthy skins—and the Spanish girl, her father, his wife—a motley crew. And here the boy must needs win his fight—a fight partly of muscle and partly of character—and a struggle for great things. Through it all is the joy, the zest, the enthusiasm of "youth in action." "The New Do Well," by Rex Beach, illustrated by Christy, now ready at R. Uglow & Co's. Price $1.20 per copy.

Be Blue This Fall, But Not Too Blue

Grace M. Gould, writing the fashion talk in the September Woman's Home Companion, says that blue is to be the favorite color this fall. She adds: "Don't regard the choosing of a color for your autumn costume as a trivial matter. Colors are not always what they seem. They have traits that are anything but dependable. There is the 'blue' that seemingly, stanch, old reliable shade. Just look out for it. It may make you happy and fashionable in the daytime, but at night you may be bluer than you want to be."

Wolfe Island Won.

A week ago Saturday the Watertown Independents journeyed over to Wolfe Island, and played a friendly game of baseball. They went back to Watertown and announced to the papers that they won the game by a score of 7 to 6. Wolfe Island claims that the score should be reversed and that they won the game. The score at the ninth innings was 6 to 6, when Wolfe Island scored the winning run. They offered to put up $50 in the hands of the sporting editor of the Watertown Times if what the affirm is not the truth.

May Not Get Cup.

Queen street Sunday school team won the cup which was presented for the senior series, but they have not got it in their possession yet. The conditions accompanying the cup will not allow a team playing city league men to obtain possession of it. All teams in the league have played city league men but Bethel, last year's champions.

Late Marine Notes.

Would Like Pastimes to Come.

Fans who lived in the vicinity of Ottawa, but now reside in Kingston, and who were very much interested in the game between Victoria and Ottawa Athletics, say they would like to see the Pastimes of Ottawa play the Vice. Arrangements may be made to have an exhibition game here when the league season is over.

Wormwiths Have Protested.

A protest was placed in the hands of J. H. Welch, president of the Mercantile Baseball League, Friday in regard to the game Thursday evening, between Live Coals and Wormwiths. The latter claim that Crawford, who played for Live Coals, was not eligible to play. The protest will be dealt with next week.

Cremated Remains Here.

The cremated remains of Hugh Johnson arrived here, Friday, for burial. The remains were sent from Chicago, where they were sent to Chicago.

THE FLAG QUESTION

SKIPPER DECLARES THE LAMP-MAN IS RIGHT

Regarding the Place of the Union Jack—He Gives Some Interesting Information as to Flag Flying.

Kingston, Aug. 18.—(To the Editor of the Daily British Wjig.)—The Lampan and Britisher are writing up the Victoria Park flag-pole well. As to the flagpole, the man that made it did not know how to make one right. There are many faults in it. He should have looked at the one in Macdonald Park before he made it. The Lampan is right when he says the proper place for the Union Jack is at the mast-head, and the ensign should fly from the gaff or peak end, that is when there is a gaff on the flagpole. All sailing vessels fly the ensign from the mast head of the after mast. If she should have three masts the ensign flies from the mizzen topmast head, the barge with her name from the main topmast head, and if she should have a private signal at the fore topmast head, and the Union Jack from the fore stays at the bow. If she should have no private signal, then the Jack flies from the foretopmast head. All steamers and yachts fly the ensign from the stern flag-staff and the Jack at the bow.

Will the Lampan tell me what right has any one on the land or water, steamers or sailing vessels, except the government and the navy, to fly a British Union Jack without a white border up it. If there were a British warship in our harbor they would soon make you put these Union Jacks down that have not a white border around them.—SKIPPER.

MARKET, GARDENER DEAD.

The Late John Girey, Aged Eighty Years.

John Girey, formerly a market gardener, died in the House of Providence on Thursday. He had lived here nearly all his life, having been a gardener for years, only giving up the business a few years ago. He was eighty years of age. Death was caused by pneumonia, he having been sick only about a week. The late Mr. Girey is survived by two sons and one daughter, Mrs. McDonald, of Brockville, is a daughter. He was a Roman Catholic in religion. The funeral took place Friday morning to St. Mary's cathedral, where a solemn requiem mass was sung. The remains were laid in St. Mary's cemetery.

The Lost Was Found.

Quite a stir was caused in the vicinity of Victoria Park, on Thursday night, over a lost child. The youngster wandered away from his home on lower Brock street, Sergeant Scott's, happened along at the time and he was careful to see that the little stray-away got home in safety.

MISUSED BY ENGINEER

OILER ON STEAMER KINGSTON IN HOTEL DIEU

As Result of Quarrel With Chief Engineer—Alleged Engineer Struck Him—Court Proceedings to Follow.

An oiler belonging to the steamer Kingston has found that it does not pay to dispute the orders of his boss, the chief engineer. As a result of being too slow in obeying orders this particular unfortunate person is badly used up and is in the Hotel Dieu, getting his bruised skin pieced together.

It is understood that court proceedings will follow as the following claims he was grossly misused. He is not in a serious condition, and will be out in a few days. The affair caused quite a stir in marine circles.

Tories and Bourassa.

"Reciprocity is the dominant issue today," said Hon. Adolphe Lemieux, in Simcoe. "It will be the dominant issue in my own province of Quebec. But we know that an alliance has been made to thwart the will of the people. In Ontario they tell you that Laurier has formed an alliance with the people of the United States to sell and deliver Canada. In my own province of Quebec Mr. Monk and my dear friend Mr. Bourassa are telling quite a different story. There, where once they were warning the people to vote against Laurier for their souls' salvation, and where the people voted for Laurier and did not imperil the salvation of their souls, they now say that Laurier is selling the birthright of the French-Canadians to the jingoes of Great Britain."

"The opposition speakers are not talking of annexation in Quebec. The last shot in defence of British connection will be fired by a French-Canadian, and Laurier is neither an annexationist nor a jingoist, but he is a true Canadian to the hilt."

Scene of 1865 Recalled.

Waterloo Times. Major Henry Reed Rathbone, who died in an asylum for the criminal insane in Hanover, Germany, the 'other day, was undoubtedly a victim with President Lincoln of the assassin Booth. Major Rathbone was military aide to President Lincoln and in the box with him on the fatal night at Ford's theatre, April 14th, 1865. In trying to defend the president from the assassin, he received a stab wound in the chest. He was appointed consul general at Hanover, Germany. In an insane attack he murdered his wife and was incarcerated in the asylum where he died. It is not unlikely that the horrible scene of Lincoln's assassination may have been the beginning of the insanity which led him to the commission of a horrible crime and incarceration for the remainder of his life with clouded mind.

Was Born in Kingston.

Perth Courier. The death of an old resident of Bathurst took place on Tuesday night at his home in Perth in the person of Mrs. John Mezzies. Deceased was born in Kingston, February 21st, 1837, and was married to the late John Mezzies by the late Rev. J. B. Duncan. She lived at Harper until the death of her son, Jacob, when she moved to Perth, taking rooms in Peter street. Four of her children survive—Robert and Archie and Mrs. Burris, of Perth, and Mrs. John Gardner, of seventh line, Drummond. The funeral took place from the latter's residence in Drummond to Elmwood cemetery on Thursday.

A SUMMER TONIC

For that worn out, tired and run down feeling there is no better tonic than a combination of BEEF, IRON AND WINE.

Ours is delicious in taste, contains iron to enrich the blood, peptonized (digested) beef to feed the tissues, and choice wine as an appetizer. In a recent Government analysis a bottle taken from our stock of Beef, Iron and Wine proved to be a superior article ranking as first class.
