R. Waldron

WILL SELL HER FINGER

DR. MARY WALKER'S OFFER TO WEALTHY WOMAN

Who is Eager to Buy a Living Right Index Finger to be Grafted on Her Hand.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Reginald Waldorf, of Philadelphia and Los Angeles, Cal., who advertised for a "living right index finger," can buy the desired member if she likes from no less a person than Dr. Mary Walker, the woman who wears trousers. Dr. Walker now lives in Oswego, N.Y. Yesterday she sent this letter to Mrs. Waldorf:

"Mrs. Reginald Waldorf: I have just read that you desire to purchase a right index finger. Will you give me enough to erect a consumptive ward on my estate?"

"I have saved hopeless cases, and because I declare consumption is not contagious money is not forthcoming to erect a ward."

"I finished this letter not using my index finger."
"MARY E. WALKER, M.D., Surgeon of War 1861-65."
"P.S.—If return ticket is sent will come immediately so you can decide if my finger is desired by yourself."

Dr. Walker has been trying for some time to find Mrs. Waldorf. She had sent letters to Philadelphia and to Los Angeles addressed to the woman whose advertisement for a finger appeared in a Chicago newspaper, but each time her letter was returned. Yesterday she sent the letter which has been travelling back and forth across the continent to a newspaper in this city.

She declared that she was willing to sacrifice her finger provided Mrs. Waldorf would pay her price. Mrs. Waldorf desires a finger to replace one she lost in an accident. She is reported to be independently wealthy and capable of paying almost any price for a finger provided it suits her. She believes that the finger can be grafted on her hand and that eventually she will have a perfect one. Dr. Walker is eighty-one years old.

She figured prominently in the civil war as a surgeon, and was one of the first women suffrage workers in the country. For years she has worn men's attire. She is anxious to erect a hospital for consumptives and in a note she says she would sacrifice much more than a finger if it were possible to realize her dream.

GIVES UP THE BATTLE.

Dr. Wiley, Food Expert, Surrenders His Authority.
Washington, Aug. 18.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, testified before the house investigating committee that he has surrendered practically all of his authority for enforcing the pure food law to Dr. P. L. Dunlap, associate chemist, and George P. McCabe, solicitor of the agricultural department.
Overruled in two-thirds of the cases he has brought before the foods and drugs inspection board, composed of these two men and himself, he declared that he had found it useless to appeal to Secretary Wilson, and had not even received an answer to one of the most important appeals he had made to the secretary.

Social at Verona.

Verona, Aug. 18.—The lawn social of Tuesday night was a success in every way, the sum of $111 being realized. On account of the threatening weather the programme was delayed for some time, but during the interval the booths were kept exceptionally busy. When the storm, which only threatened, passed by, the programme was given and was much enjoyed. The little folks in their drill did remarkably well. The young ladies' drill was well performed. The dialogues and boys' pantomime were all splendid. The music was of a high order. The pantomime, "Nearer My God to Thee," to have been given by the young ladies of Godfrey, owing to a slight accident, had to be cancelled, to the regret of all those who had seen it at Bethel. Mr. Yorke performed the duties of chairman.

STRIKERS HAVE LOST

THE SYMPATHY OF THE BRITISH PUBLIC

Since They Refused Premier Asquith's Offer of Royal Commission—Parliament Continues in Session.

London, Eng., Aug. 18.—Public sympathy has been lost by the strikers for refusing Premier Asquith's offer of a royal commission, and in some places the men ignored the strike orders. The British press regards the situation as very much like a civil war. The strike affects Ireland, but the Scotch employees were slow to go out. Nottingham, Dublin, Glasgow, Leeds, Manchester and Sheffield are among places affected. The government is still working for a settlement.

At noon parliament decided it was impossible to adjourn to-day as scheduled, owing to the critical labor conditions.

Liverpool, Aug. 18.—Suffering among lower the classes owing to the strike is widespread in Liverpool, which is under military rule and all supplies are carried under escort. Many works are closed down for lack of power.

Birmingham, Eng., Aug. 18.—Sharp close quarter fighting occurred between the police and the strikers here, this morning.

Whole System Paralyzed.

London, Eng., Aug. 18.—Strike leaders this afternoon asserted they had practically paralyzed the railway system of the United Kingdom, two hundred thousand men having quit work.

TWENTY PER CENT. MORE

Than Was Harvested in Any Other Year.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 18.—From critical correspondents in the western provinces the information is gleaned to-day that the wheat yield will be at least twenty per cent in excess of other years. No damage by frost is reported at all, and only a few isolated cases of damage by hail. Rust, is reported in many districts, but no material damage is reported.

Paving Progressing Well.

The laying of the paving blocks on Clarence street is progressing as well as can be expected. With the fine coat of sand for a bed, the bricks can be laid quickly, but the rain Friday afternoon stopped work for over an hour. A thin coat of cement will be put over all to fill up the cracks.

ROOSEVELT IS SCARED, SO BRYAN DECLARES

Steel Trust Used Panic Bogey to Make Him Consent to the Tennessee Merger.

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 18.—William J. Bryan, speaking before a Chautauqua audience, last night, declared that former President Roosevelt was "intimidated" by the steel trust in consenting to the Tennessee Coal & Iron company merger. In this connection, Mr. Bryan said:

"Isn't it a pitiful, a pathetic fact, that such an organization can be so all-powerful as to walk into the office of the president of the United States and intimidate him with the fear of a panic in allowing it to carry out its designs?"

The physicians of Edmond Rostand on Friday morning reported him out of danger at Biarritz, France.

BULL OF FIGHT.

few weeks, and I can assure you that for twenty years past I have scarcely known what rest meant. But Providence has always treated me well, and has given me to-day a good health which I did not enjoy even when I was young. (Applause.) And, gentlemen of the province of Quebec, I say to you that I should be ashamed of the intelligence Province has given me if I did not devote my old age to the honor and advancement of my country. I do not know how much time for work there is left in me, but for fifteen years I have done all that was in my power for my country, and in this fight I will say, without attempting to prophesy, that if I were a betting man I would put my money up that the old cock will win. (Applause.)

"My opponents," declared Sir Wilfrid, "perhaps, with their coalition, can defeat me. But there are things they cannot take away from me—the love of those who have worked with me for so many years; they cannot take away from me the prosperity which Canada has enjoyed during the past fifteen years of liberal administration. I see before me men who are white-haired, as I am to-day, whom I remember when they were young, and they know that never has Canada been so happy and prosperous as during these years of liberal government." (Applause.)

Reciprocity the Real Issue.

Proceeding, Sir Wilfrid dealt with the increasing revenue of the country during the past fifteen years, and declared that it was plain that increasing prosperity had had its effect in Quebec province, since the old exodus to the states had stopped, and now the young men of the province were going to Montreal and the west when they needed work. (Applause.) "But in the face of all this," said Sir Wilfrid, "the opposition says 'Tuen Laurier est.' I thank heaven, which has been so good to me in the past, that now I can appear before you with a policy of reciprocity with the United States, which will make our country more prosperous than ever. (Applause.) Despite the efforts to make it appear that the naval bill is the important issue in this election, I am convinced that reciprocity is the real issue to be faced."

Sir Wilfrid declared that nowhere was this reciprocity pact of more importance than in the Quebec counties facing the St. Lawrence, and predicted that once it was adopted the whole district would be visited by buyers from the States anxious to secure the products of the country.

Free Market for Produce.

The premier then briefly dealt with the history of the old reciprocity negotiations until finally the Americans had sent to Canada and succeeded in getting a bargain agreed to, as soon as this is adopted in Canada," he said, "you will obtain entirely free entry for your grain, hay, and vegetables into the markets of the United States without paying any tax. (Applause.)

"We tried to pass this measure," said Sir Wilfrid, "but such was the obstruction of the opposition that apparently the will of the majority did not count. So I said the people of Canada were the masters, and they must be consulted, and now it is for you to say, you want to see reciprocity passed or not, so that you can send your animals and farm products to the American markets." (Applause.)

Sir Wilfrid expressed confidence that the election would result in favor of his government, and that soon after the reciprocity arrangement would be accomplished.

Some one in the crowd shouted: "What about Drummond and Arthabaska?"

"Don't be afraid," said Sir Wilfrid, "there will be no fog there this time, and we shall win."

Sir Wilfrid then took up the nationalist cry against the naval programme. "Why have we created this navy?" he asked. "Because we have become a nation of eight million people, and shall soon have fifteen millions. And it is an unfortunate necessity that as nations grow they must take steps for self-defence, just as with the increase of towns they must develop their police force in order to secure the safety of persons and property. That is what is happening to England to-day, with the navy as the police of the sea, and the army on land. We also have this protection, and it will cost us a good deal of money. But our naval programme will cost only three per cent. of the revenue, and that will not prove hard to bear."

On Tour of World.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huntley, aged twenty-nine and twenty-eight, reached here, this morning, on the first lap trip of forty thousand miles, touching every country in the world from New York, for the ten thousand dollar prize of a New York magazine.
