

WHO PUT THE GEORGE WILL

Behind the Baseboard in the Bedroom of the Deceased?

Sensational Finding of the Missing Document--The Widow Gets Only $4,000--Albert Cottenden, Son of Deceased Gets Bulk of Estate.

Whether there will be sensational developments in connection with the finding of the will of the late Joseph George remains to be seen. A good deal will depend upon whether there will be opposition to the probate of the will, in view of the fact that his father told all along declared that his father told him he had left him the bulk of his estate, will receive in the neighborhood of $25,000. All that is left to the widow is $4,000. The sum of $600 is left to deceased's niece, Mrs. Cleary, Wolfe Island.

It is alleged that attached to the will were several pages of writing by the deceased, who directed his son to pay quite a number of amounts to close friends. The memorandum was signed, but not witnessed, but the son knew its contents and was prepared to carry out his father's wishes. It is said that the memorandum directed him to pay $1,500 to John Elmer, assistant fire chief; $1,000 to Elmer Lawsonson, plumber; $600 to R. H. Elmer and other amounts to a number of people. When the will is proven and the estate divided, it is said that the son, Albert Cottenden, of Toronto, will carry out the wishes of the deceased.

It is possible that the widow will appeal on the ground that she has not been left enough money for her support, when there is an estate valued at from $80,000 to $35,000.

The will is written on a sheet of foolscap paper, and in the hand of the deceased, which is known by a number. It covers about a page and a half and is in good condition.

Some one made a very amateur attempt to change the amount willed to the widow from four thousand to forty thousand dollars, by adding the letters "ty" to "four." The attempt is most glaring. The word would be incorrectly spelled by the addition, and then there are no initials of the deceased or of the witnesses in the margin opposite the change, as is required by law.

How the will came to be there is a mystery. When the house was gone over some days before by people who were thinking of leasing it, the document was not there, it is alleged. One of those who went through the house was interested in the will case, and made a careful search, and declares that there was no document sticking out from behind the base board. Those interested are asking, "Who placed the will in a position where it would be seen by workmen or a new tenant?"

At ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL:

ACCUSED OF THEFT.

An Assyrian Was Arrested on Saturday Afternoon.

Sunday, the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, was duly observed in St. Mary's cathedral, solemn mass being celebrated by Rev. Father McDonald, assisted by Rev. Fathers Hanley and Halligan, as deacon and sub-deacon.

The sermon—a glittering little gem by Rev. Dr. Hanna, of Rochester, N. Y., revealed the philosopher as well as the priest. His words couched in faultless diction and ardent persuasion were much appreciated by the large congregation present.

At the offertory, N. E. O'Connor sang an "Ave Maria," with much feeling and expression.

PRESERVATION TO D. J. EVANS
By Nine of His Randolph Hotel Companions.

David J. Evans, who has resigned as auditor of the Canadian Locomotive company, to accept a still more responsible position in Montreal, was surprised by a number of his friends who waited upon him in the Randolph hotel on Saturday evening to express their regret at his coming departure from Kingston and to wish him all success in his new position and home. On behalf of the little gathering W. H. Penwarden presented Mr. Evans with a short address and a handsome travelling case. The recipient was taken completely by surprise, and was very deeply affected by the kindness of his companions at the Randolph. He thanked them heartily for their kind words and most acceptable gift, and hoped they would all come to see him in Montreal. Those who made the gift were J. S. Randolph, A. W. Waggoner, W. H. Penwarden, R. A. Grant, H. O'Brien, William Jackson, G. H. Williamson, Prof. Paul Denys and William Baillie.

SHE WORKED IN KINGSTON.

Woman Held in Toronto Former Employee of Local Hotel.

Mrs. W. D. Joyner, arrested in Toronto for having a concealed weapon and acting in a threatening manner to Staff Inspector Kennedy, of the Toronto morality department, was formerly a waitress in a Kingston hotel. She belonged to Olden township, Frontenac county. About three years ago she left here and married a brakeman on the C.P.R., who was a widower with several children. A separation followed, the husband claiming that it was impossible to live with the girl, as she was abusive. The morality department of Toronto settled the trouble, the husband agreeing to pay his wife $25 a month for her support. The payments were made regularly until a short time ago, when Joyner claimed that his wife was supporting a child which was not her own. Hence he refused to pay any more. The young woman will be examined as to her sanity.

Their Holiday Extended.

The local members of the Canadian navy, who have been holidaying in the city, received word to leave for Halifax on Saturday, but the local recruiting officer, Postmaster James Stewart received a message stating that their holiday had been extended ten more days and as a result the sailors and boys did not leave on Saturday.

They were much pleased that the time had been extended as they have been enjoying their stay at home very much.

BELLEVILLE BEATEN

IN BASEBALL GAME BY THE KINGSTON C.L.C.'S.

The Score Was 5 to 1—Victorians Beat Athletics 8 to 4—Games at Locomotive Works' Picnic.

The annual picnic of the employees of the Canadian Locomotive company, on Saturday was a great success. The chief attractions were two baseball games, the first between Victorians and Athletics, and the second between Grand Trunks, champions of Belleville City league and C.L.C.'s near winners of Kingston City league. The ability of the visiting team to play ball and the supposedly extraordinary ability of Ashton the near professional pitcher had become widespread among the fans in the city, and a large crowd was on hand to see the rival teams fight it out.

The first game was between the Victorians and Athletics. It ended in a win for the Victorians. Athletics wanted that game and wanted it badly, but when the game was finished, the score board said that the Victorians had won the game by a score of 8 to 4. With Muckler in the box, the Athletics put up a good game. The Victorians got fourteen hits of Muckler and the Athletics got nine of Gillespie.

It was a scoreless game for the Athletics up till the seventh inning. With Dunlop on second base, "Shawnee" Reid made a three base hit, which scored Dunlop. This hit came as a great surprise to the many friends of "Shawnee" for he had never been known to hit that before. Rae, who followed Reid, got his base on balls, and Walsh's two-base drive scored both of the base runners. The last run came in the eighth, when Muckler got home from third base on an error of Cotman.

Gillespie started the scoring for the Victorians in the second innings. "Spiky" Dick was the first man up, and he made a double. Davidson singled and with a man on third and one on the field scoring both men. Nicholson's hit to left scored Gillespie in the fourth inning, while Pound's hit separated him again in the sixth.

Nothing more doing until the ninth innings when four runs were scored. At the end of the eighth, the score was tied, 4-4, and things looked as though Athletics might get the game. McMahan, the sure hitter was the first man up and true to expectations, he cracked one out to right field. Duncan hit his base on an error of the center fielder's, while Cotman, who followed him slugged one out to left field. His hit scored both these men and Dick's sacrifice brought "Cottie" in. Davidson made a hit to pitcher and beat it to first base and Gillespie allowed him to make a circuit of the bases by putting a well placed hit out to right field. The Athletics failed to do anything in the ninth.

Races for the Folks.

Before the baseball games and after them, races for the young and old were participated in which produced a great deal of amusement for the spectators and a great deal of rivalry among the contestants. The results are:

Girls, nine years and under—Margaret Pelow, Bertha Pelow.

Boys, nine years and under—George Maxam, Wilfrid Sharman.

Girls, twelve years and under—Margaret Pelow, Sadie Walker.

Boys, twelve years and under—W. Graham, G. Stewart.

Three-legged race—W. Laird and H. Nicholson, Fitzgerald and Darragh.

100 yards dash (open)—J. Brooks, H. Dickson.

Married men's race—William Laird, James Brooks.

Married women's race—Mrs. Brant.

Fat men's race—William Kelly, Thomas Moore.

A number of the races were not pulled off, but will be contested for at an early date.

The motor boat races caused quite a lot of excitement and were eagerly contested for. The course was five miles long and the whole race could be watched from the park. G. E. Lee took first place; C. Reed, second; A. Rescorla, third. The best time for the whole race was thirty-seven minutes and twenty-three seconds. Thomas Yellowley acted as clerk of the course.

Acquaplaning, the newest thing in sports, was one of the features of the water sports. It is an affair attached to the rear of a motor boat and viewed from the distance gives one the appearance of walking on the water. Lawrence Fitzgerald gave a good exhibition of the art of keeping one's balance on this craft while being pulled through the water at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour behind Thomas Yellowley's boat.

The prize for the best waltz in the evening went to Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson.

The baby show in the afternoon was the source of a great deal of amusement. Bernard Tierney and William Kennedy acted as judges and everyone said they decided in an impartial manner. The first prize went to Mrs. Daniel Driscoll's baby, and the second to Mrs. Walker's child.

C.L.C.'s Beat Belleville.

The spectators watched with patience the first game, but they were eager to see the second game where the C.L.C.'s were matched against the Grand Trunks of Belleville. Belleville would not win the silverware if they were playing in Kingston city league, that is a sure thing. People were expecting great things from the visiting team, but they did not see them, at the conclusion of a nine-inning game the C.L.C.'s had almost shut them out, the score standing 5 to 1.

Outside of Ashton, the pitcher, the Belleville team is not as good as either batting or fielding as the Athletics, tail-enders of the Kingston League. The local boys got ten hits off the Belleville pitcher, and one of them a three-base smash and two double hits, while the ironsmen of Belleville got away with only one hit off Brooks.

The Belleville team as batters are not good. Even Ashton did not get a hit while Brooks struck him out twice in the three times he was at bat and the other two times he went out on a fly to short stop.

Lucas and Esford, the first two runners, got to the plate and were out on strikes.
