

MISERABLE WITH STOMACH TROUBLE "FRUIT-A-TIVES" BRINGS THE HAPPINESS OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" cures Stomach Troubles because it cures the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Skin. In digestion etc. is not usually the fault of the stomach itself. The bowels are irregular—the kidneys are weak or strained—the skin is inactive—and consequently the blood is impure. It is the impure blood that really makes bad digestion.

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER. Herpicide is Death to Dandruff Germs.

The germ burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or seborrhea, and digging at the root of the hair where it cuts the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lusterless and dead-like hair, then falling hair, and finally baldness. Nine-tenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff. Without dandruff, hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ leaving the hair to grow unimpeded, as it does with the American red man.

MAN HAS FOUR HOMES AND THREE OF HIS "WIVES" ARE SISTERS.

He Has Twenty-one Children—Three of the "Wives" Live in the Same County.

Meridian, Miss., Aug. 19.—How a man maintained four households for eighteen years, three in addition to that of his legally married wife, was revealed when F. L. Deason, who lives near Collinsville, was tried in the circuit court here, yesterday. Three of the women in the case were sisters, Crickett, Dorsh and Ellen Cockren, and they were shown to be the mothers of sixteen of his children. In addition to his five natural children, Deason was able to maintain these four families during the period of eighteen years without action having been taken against him does not appear from the record, but his neighbors profess that they knew nothing about conditions existing.

When the three women and Deason faced Judge Buckley they were accompanied by their children, and admitted their guilt. The women were given a sentence of one day each on the provision that they leave the county in sixty days. Deason was given sixty days in jail on one case and three sentences of five hundred dollars and sixty days were suspended. The three sisters reside close together, and at one time at least during their relations with Deason two of them were under the same roof.

Died by Measure.

An Irishman had as his constant companion an exceptionally fine bulldog, of which he was very proud. One day, however, a friend met him without his favorite, and, noticing that the Irishman looked very depressed, he enquired about the dog. "Oh, he is dead," said the Irishman, "he's dead?" "Dead? Why, that is sudden!" "Yes, it was an accident. The dog was playing with the wife's tape measure, and he swallowed it." "Oh, I see," remarked the friend. "Then he died by inches?" "No, sure," said the Irishman, "he went round to the back of the house and died by the yard!"—San Francisco Bulletin.

DOCTORS' TRUST. Uniform Schedule Adopted for Births and Amputations.

The schedule of rates of the doctors' trust of Manchester, Conn., has been made public. For officiating at the birth of a child the fee will be $15, but if the lady cares anything about bargains she will be interested to know that twins will cost her only $5 more. There are no rates for first or second triplets. Boys will cost as much as girls. As Manchester is a silk manufacturing centre the schedule includes amputations. There will be a charge of $10 for cutting off one finger or one toe, but if the victim is economical he might have either two toes or two fingers amputated, for it will cost only $5 extra for a pair. Examinations of insane persons will cost only $5 each. Telephone calls for advice will cost 50c, collecting and railroad cases at least $5, and when the physician finds two patients in one home he will treat the second one for 75c.

BOYS.

Carolyn Wells, in Life. There are ever so many kinds of boys—Rollos and Tommys and Fauntleroyes; Boys that are crude and blunt and rough. And boys who are made of a finer stuff. Boys who try, in their blundering way. A kindly, chivalrous thing to say. And only succeed in stammering out. Some words whose meaning is left in doubt: Boys who are awkward, boys who are bold. Boys who will never do as they are told. Boys who are bashful and painfully shy. Who can't be at ease however they try. Boys who are dull and boys who are bright. Boys who are always ready to fight. Boys with ambition and boys without. Boys who whistle and boys who shout. Boys who wheeze and boys who tease. Boys who wear holes in their trousers—knees. And of them all which is the best? Away ahead of all the rest? 'Tis not a matter we need discuss— He's just the boy who belongs to us!

LEFT A BIG FORTUNE

Which Will Ultimately Revert to Chicago Charities. Chicago, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Myrtle Reed McCullough, the authoress and poet who killed herself, left an estate valued at $200,000, according to friends. This sum will revert to eight Chicago charitable institutions. A friend of Mrs. McCullough's said that her will provided that the estate shall be held in trust during the lifetime of Mr. McCullough, his two sisters, and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram V. Reed, father and mother of the dead writer. Each is to be paid a monthly sum and at their death the entire fortune is to be divided equally among the institutions named in the will.

Devilish Chased Him.

Some bathers in the Morris canal were driven to the bank by a cry of "Devilish!" raised by one of the men, who declares he saw the monster following him with his head out of the water. He says he clambered up the bank just in time to escape. The "fish" then turned and went down stream. Albert Woodrow, of Brookdale, N.J., who had a good view of the monster as it passed, says it was at least ten feet long, with a round, greenish body and a head as large as that of a bulldog. "If it was a water snake," he declared, "it was the biggest I ever saw, and I have seen hundreds of them."

Excursion to Western Canada.

The Grand Trunk railway system announces that on Tuesday, August 8th and 22nd, September 6th and 19th, 1911, homeseekers' excursions will be run to Western Canada, via Chicago and Duluth or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, at reduced round trip fares. The double track line of the Grand Trunk to Chicago, appeals to the traveller, and with the superior train service offered, including the famous "International Limited," many passengers will be attracted this way. The route via Chicago is interesting. Baggage is carried in bond without requiring special attention. Inspection is not necessary. The sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarasa and the Northern Navigation company's magnificent steamers. For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk railway system.

Looking for Excitement?

There will be plenty of hitting powder developed against the agreement when it is again taken up by Mr. Sisson, Mr. Lash, Sir James Whitney and Mr. Rogers. The men who want to make a reputation on the other side had better spend a few hours in study of the methods of Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill and then roll up their sleeves and go out hunting for those who have ordained that the farmer must not be permitted to have his turn.

THE LURE OF CARDS IS A SOCIETY CRAZE IN THIS AGE.

How Society Women Gamble in Dear Old London—Their Daily Round Their Common Task. A few years ago Father Bernard Vaughan preached a course of sermons on the meta for bridge-players was an invading smart society. As a matter of fact, bridge is only one of the many forms of gambling in which the up-to-date society woman indulges. Her field of operation includes the Stock Exchange and the turf, as well as the bridge clubs and the tables at Monte Carlo and Bieppie. The following is a fair sample of how a member of the "smart" gambling set spends her day. In the morning after a careful perusal of the sporting news in the daily paper, she telephones to her bookmaker looking what she considers the likely winners for the day. His finished, she enters, through to her stockbroker or else motors into the city for a personal interview with him. Nowadays, many society women have a very shrewd business instinct. It was the great ladies of Mayfair and Belgrave who were the first to reap a profit from the rubber boom of last year. After lunch, one fair gambler travels to her club, where she will play bridge, or its latest development, auction bridge—ill dinner time. After dinner more bridge or baccarat, usually at home or at a friend's house. What is known as the "bank" instinct seems to be more strongly developed in women than in men. At any rate, the proficiency of ladies of many prominent families of society is astonishing. At the present moment the best bridge player in London is the wife of a well-known Guardsman. This lady is generally supposed to make $6,500 a year at bridge, and this result is due entirely to skill. A curious feature of the gambling spirit in society is the way bridge tournaments have taken the place of bazaars. At these tournaments the entrance money and a percentage of the stakes is devoted to some charitable object. A fund organized by the Lord mayor last spring largely profited by one of these tournaments.

Texas Law.

A white man during reconstruction times was arraigned before a colored justice of the peace for killing a man and stealing his mule. It was in Arkansas, near the Texas border, and there was some rivalry between the states, but the colored justice tried always to preserve an impartial frame of mind. "We've got two kinds of law in dis yer co't," he said. "Texas law an' Arkansas law. Which will you hab?" The prisoner thought a minute and then guessed that he would take the Arkansas law. "Den I discharge you fo' stealin' de mule, an' hang you fo' killin' de man." "Hold on a minute, judge," said the prisoner. "Better make that Texas law." "All right. Den I fin' you fo' killin' de man, an' hang you fo' stealin' de mule."—Ladies' Home Journal.

At a Quick-Lunch Counter.

The youths who wait behind the counters in the quick lunches acquire a certain kind of crude but ready wit from their constant association with all sorts of men who think it is part of their duty to make remarks about the things they buy to eat. The lady who wears the white apron and hands out the steaming dishes do not always come out second best in the exchange of pleasantries. A week or so ago a "general grouch" went into one of the lunch counters and proceeded to complain about everything. "Say, waiter, did you make this coffee of chewing tobacco?" and "Say, waiter, how many people have refused this egg?" were sample remarks. At last he ordered a chicken patty, and tried it. "Look here, there is no chicken in this," he exclaimed. "I guess not," was the unexpected reply of the waiter. "Perhaps it is veal." "Then what do you call it chicken patty for, if there is no chicken in it?" inquired the irate customer. "Well, if you bought a dog biscuit, you would not expect to find any dog in it," retorted the waiter.—Saturday Night.

Must Wear Small Hats.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 21.—A bill making it a misdemeanor for a woman to wear in church a hat more than two feet wide was introduced in the Georgia legislature by State Senator Edwards. It was referred to the committee on education and hygiene. Because he bigamously married Miss Tilly Walker, on Thursday last, Richard E. Taylor, Toronto, was sent to the Central prison for a year. Talbot's first wife is still living and he admitted bigamy. At Plymouth, Eng., Philip Max Schmutz, a German army officer, was arrested, charged with espionage. It is alleged that a mass of incriminating correspondence was found in his possession. The death is announced at St. Hyacinthe, after a few days' illness, the result of an attack of appendicitis.
