SAD PICTURE PAINTED HAD A FINE TIME DIVERS ON THE SPOT

WITHIN THE WALLS OF POLICE VINCENT FAMILY HOLDS ITS BUT IT IS TOO ROUGH TO COURT ROOM. ANNUAL REUNION. SEARCH FOR BODIES.

Wife Took Stand and Testified Against Her Husband—Evidence Corroborated by Her Daughter—Drink Made Husband Threaten to Kill Entire Family.

The old police court room, at the city hall, has had many sad pictures painted within its walls, but that presented before Mayor Graham, on Monday, was one which the court, the officials, and the few spectators who happened to drift into the court, to hear proceedings, will remember for some time.

A father, perhaps sixty years of age, stood in the prisoners' box. His hair was quite gray. As he grabbed hold of the railing, one could see his hands trembling. It was the old, old story, so often told in police court. His love for strong drink had placed him in his present condition.

Such was the prisoner's condition. In front of the railing, sat the prisoner's wife and daughter, the mother almost moved to tears over her trouble. Any woman who has a drunken husband will sympathize with her.

But what of the charge? Just a plain drunk? No. Many a time he had been gathered in as a drunk, but this time it was something far more serious. The charge was that he did threaten to kill his wife and members of his family. The wife said that he was drunk, and chased herself and the children with a razor. The razor was produced in court, it having been found in the husband's possession, when he was taken in charge.

"He's all right when he is sober," said the wife. She hated to testify against the man she was wedded to, but she gave one the impression that she could not put up with his conduct any more, and so just had to come to court. Many a woman hates to bring her troubles to the police court, in fear of the publicity—but no doubt, there are many husbands who would be much better if they were given a "sentencing" in the paper once in a while. Perhaps they would then keep on their good behaviour.

The evidence of the wife, as to the husband threatening the entire family, was corroborated by the daughter. She too, said that when her father was not drinking, he was able to provide for his wife and children. The curse of drink was never put before the court in a more vivid manner.

As stated in the Whig on Monday, the accused was fined $20 and costs with the option of one month in jail. There is certainly a good deal of truth in the old saying that one half the world does not know how the other half lives.

Kingston is only a small place, but very sad, are many of the cases brought before the magistrate.

Seventy-four Members of Association Are Entertained at Cape Vincent.

Cape Vincent, N.Y., Aug. 21.—The tenth annual reunion of the Vincent Family association, which now includes seventy-four members, was held here yesterday. As the members arrived they were escorted to the residence of Frank D. Lowe, where Mrs. Lowe and Miss Florence Vincent, of Fox Creek and others of the committee made things pleasant while the roll was called and badges distributed.

Adjourning from there after a brief session, the party assembled at the Carleton, where at one o'clock dinner was served. After dinner the company assembled in a large parlor, where under the direction of the chairman, Frank Clark, of Dexter, the history was read by Mrs. W. A. Vincent, of Three Mile Bay, the historian of the association. It extended back to the seventeenth century, including some of the exciting events of the earlier years of that period.

Mrs. Lowe read a memorial to Governor Vincent, of Burlington, Vt., written by his daughter, Mrs. Jarvis. The history of the Beebe Vincent branch was read by Mrs. H. B. Case, of Rome. Mrs. William gave a recitation, "Showing the Album," Mrs. John E. Vincent, of Canastota, read an original poem and Prof. John E. Vincent, of Canastota sang.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Vincent, and especially to Mrs. Lowe, because of her attention to many details. There were members present from Arizona, Buffalo, Syracuse, Rome, Canastota, Watertown and nearby villages. The officers for the coming year are: John A. Vincent, Canastota, president; Mrs. Emma Lehr, Watertown, vice-president; Mrs. H. B. Case, Rome, secretary; Frank Clark, Dexter, treasurer; Mrs. Bessie Vincent, Three Mile Bay, historian. The 1912 meeting will be held in Clayton.

Tag Winslow Burned.

Sarnia, Aug. 22.—The tag Winslow of the Reid Dressing company, Sarnia, was burned to the water's edge Monday morning while crossing Meldrum Bay on its way to the Georgian Bay. One member of the crew was badly injured; the others escaped unhurt. The loss is $25,000, with insurance of $20,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Accident Occurred in Very Bad Place—Relatives and Friends of Victims Anxiously Awaiting for Water to Give Up its Dead.

The bodies of the four people, who were drowned near Quebec, early on Sunday morning, when the steamer Chieftain, of the Calvin company, was rammed by the steamer Hero, have not yet been recovered.

Ever since the accident occurred, the weather has been very rough in the vicinity where the accident occurred, and although divers have been on hand, ready to search for the bodies, it has been utterly impossible for them to make a start. And all this adds to the horror of the disaster, as relatives and friends of the victims are anxiously awaiting for the water to give up its dead.

The accident occurred in a bad place for the searching of the bodies, but everything possible is being done to get the bodies.

Owing to the rough weather it has also been very hard to see in just what state the steamer Chieftain has been left. She was cut in two, but it may be that if raised she will stand upright, but this, of course, cannot be ascertained as yet.

WILL MAKE FOOD CHEAPER.

Mackenzie King Discusses One Phase of Reciprocity.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, has been making speeches at various points in Ontario, in which he pays much attention to food prices. Speaking at Long Branch last Saturday, he said:

"What the liberal party, however, wants to do, and will do by reciprocity, is to break up food monopolies, and help the people in their everyday life, especially in the cost of living. For example, by the agreement we will remit about $2,500,000 of taxes. Take the single instance of fish and oysters. Under the present tariff there is a duty of ten cents a gallon on oysters, that is to be taken off altogether. The duties on fish also are to be removed entirely.

"Are you women," asked Hon. Mr. King, "going to advise your friends to vote against such a reduction in taxes and in the cost of living? There are also reductions in the duties on bacon and ham, for example, besides many other food products.

ANOTHER WITNESS.

A Conservative Who Talked Well for Reciprocity.

In the session of 1891 Mr. Foster, then finance minister, pronounced in favor of reciprocity on the basis of the treaty of 1854, which provided for the free exchange of natural products—practical as the same pork packing interests are howling. The common people will save a little money, but they themselves will lose a time, and they don't want to help the people.

"Believe me, however, it is what will be in the interests of the people as a whole, and not of the moneyed classes, that is going to count, and that will have weight."

Fair to Everybody.

Reciprocity is a measure that is absolutely fair to the manufacturer, the farmer and the artisan. But the manufacturer is afraid that once you—the farmer—have a taste of a freer market you will demand more freedom. Therefore he tells the farmer that it is not to his advantage to vote for reciprocity. Did you ever know of any enemy offering good advice to a friend? Vote for reciprocity—for your own interests—the millionaires of the Manufacturers' Association have done this for years. Hence they can sport diamonds, go to Europe, wherever they feel like, and have summer residences at the sea shore and in Muskoka—take Pullman palace cars to summer resorts. While you pitch hay and stock grain in the hot sun of summer they take toll of every dollar that you earn by a process of tariff-legalized robbery. Go to the ballot box and vote for yourself and free markets—reciprocity is what you want. The Canadian trusts don't want it.

And All of Them Americans.

An English visitor has recently been expressing his wonderment at the facility with which America assimilates its stream of immigrants. A friend with whom he was talking on the subject remarked: "My household in a Norwegian, my grocer a Scotchman, my butcher is a German, my druggist is a Finn, my barber an Italian, my newsmen a Jew, my laundryman is Irish, my fishmonger English, my florist Greek and my tailor Russian."

AN ELECTRICAL DISCOVERY.

New Form of Producing Tungsten May Revolutionize Lighting.

London, Aug. 22.—A discovery which, it is said, may revolutionize electric lighting was made public this week.

It was announced by H. R. Spoorberg of the British Thomson-Houston company that after three years' research work the company had succeeded in producing tungsten in such a form that it could be drawn into a continuous wire one-thousandth of an inch in thickness, and used in any length or bent to any shape. At the same time its tensile strength had been increased.

Hitherto tungsten has been producible only in short lengths. The new discovery makes it possible to use a continuous wire in a lamp, so that the risk of breakage is reduced to a minimum, and the life of the lamp is considerably extended.

Port Milford Notes.

Point Milford, Aug. 21.—The cannery factory started this week on a fine lot of tomatoes. W. Groom is the proprietor. Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Ackerman and Mr. and Mrs. A. McKee took in the trip to Quebec; they report having a fine time. Rev. Mr. Farasworth is on his holidays; Rev. Mr. Minley took his place here. Miss Welbanks, visiting at H. F. Grimmon's; Mrs. D. Thompson and son, Horace, at A. McKee's; Dr. Morley Currie, M.P., brought a young daughter to Mr. and Mrs. F. Starr on August 13th. H. F. Grimmon's first picking of ten acres of tomatoes were 225 bushels. The harvesting is over here and the threshing machines are out again. About twelve from here attended the excursion to Clayton on the steamer Quinte Queen. Mr. and Mrs. Almer Thompson are away for a few days to Fish Lake. Ray Gilmore has gone as deck hand on the steamer Waterlily. Some of the farmers are busy picking and packing early apples. They are a fine price. P. A. McKee is acting as bookkeeper for the Port Milford Packing company again.

House Was Destroyed.

Flower, Aug. 21.—Mrs. John McGonigal's house, at Clyde Lake, was burned on Saturday afternoon. The cause of the fire was probably a defective chimney. Austin Shields, who rents the place, was a heavy loser, having severely damaged out of the house. Mrs. John McGonigal had just left on Tuesday for Kisby, Sask. A Cain came out from Kingston and spent Sunday at home, returning today. Miss Edith Appleby is visiting friends in Ottawa and at points up the Gatineau. The painters are giving our station a new coat of paint.

Sleep You Need.

A child of seven years requires twelve hours. A boy or girl of sixteen years must have at least nine hours. The average adult should sleep seven hours or a little more. Some can do with less than seven hours, but for the majority this is a minimum. And this must be seven hours of sound and peaceful sleep if it is to do its restoring work successfully.
