THE SPORT REVIEWQUEEN'S RUGBY TEAM TO START PRACTICE.

Coach Not Yet Secured—The Bowling Club Had a Splendid Season—Notes on Sports.

With the season of fall in the air, the mind reverts to rugby and associated with rugby is the name of Queen's University. The baseball season is just over, and yet in a week's time those who are at the head of Queen's rugby team will be here whipping things into shape for the season. In less than a month the first game will be played with Varsity. Queen's has not done a thing yet, while Varsity is skirmishing for material to replace some of last year's graduates.

Queen's will have some difficulty in securing a coach this year as one cannot be found for the price the committee is willing to pay. The authorities have been considering the possibility of "Chancery". Elliott in charge of the team here, but there is scant hope of getting him. There is hardly a reliable coach in the whole country that is obtainable and able to instruct a team. Every one knows that George Richardson and Norman Crothers, who coached last year's veterans, haven't the time to spare to look after the team properly, but it is understood that they will take charge of affairs if no one else can be found. Queen's receipts last year were not so large as those of Varsity, and the management resigned, giving ill-health as the reason.

"Bob" Waddell's recent feat of pitching and winning a double-header for Minneapolis shows that the old boy is not all in by any means.

"Freddy" Savage says he has retired from the gridiron for good. Walter Wilson is another Montreal rugbyman who says he will never chase the pig again.

"Joe" Lally will stay in British Columbia to referee the extra Vancouver-New Westminster lacrosse games. The first will be played at Westminster next Saturday.

That "Jack" Johnson will receive

$90,000 for three fights in Australia this coming winter, and that after these engagements retire from the ring is the announcement made by Hugh McIntosh.

The National Baseball commission will turn a pretty trick on the American association if the latter refuses to keep in line. The commission is ready to put clubs in some of the association cities.

John H. Cusack, of Brooklyn, who was John L. Sullivan's backer when the former champion was defeated at New Orleans in 1892 by James J. Corbett, is dead at his home in Brooklyn. He is said to have lost $68,000 on Sullivan in that fight.

Cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, boils and such mishaps carry no risk of blood poisoning whatever, and cause little discomfort, if you promptly apply that sure cure, "Mecca" Ointment. None should be without its 3 oz. jar 25c., at all druggists.

Dr. D. Jordan in Europe.

Dr. Dennis Jordan, son of Prof. W. G. Jordan, who is one of the house surgeons in the Royal Victoria infirmary, Newcastle, England, is at present on a European holiday. He sends a photograph of himself and a party of friends taken in the Alps. Dr. Jordan expects to return to Kingston next February.

Lecture List Prepared.

Prof. Robert Laird has prepared a list of lectures offered by members of the staff of Queen's University for organizations that are planning lecture courses. For years, professors of Queen's have been called over Ontario to deliver addresses upon various educational subjects. The university offers about 100 lectures on a wide range of subjects.

Yankee Couple Wedded Here.

A quiet wedding took place at the parsonage of Sydenham street church on Thursday morning, when Rev. T. W. Neal united in marriage Miss Ethel Wilcox, of Tully, N.Y., to Bertram Bartholomew, of the same place. They arrived on the morning boat and left on the Cape boat for their home in Tully, N.Y., in the afternoon. They were unattended.

A Dangerous Spot.

A citizen has complained to the Whig about a dangerous piece of walk about on Ridout street, between Ridout and North street, between two Smiths, Leslie, Shier and Elliott, although there is slight possibility of either of the latter being able to play during the first part of the season. McCleish, who was here two years ago, may be back again. With such an absence of old players it means that there will have to be a lot of drilling done and that mighty quick. College opens Sept. 28th, barely a week before the first game.

Training will take place on the lower campus until the new one can be rolled, and in the meantime the rugby fans will be waiting with what patience they can muster for the first practice.

Good Bowling Season.

The bowling season is now about over, and it has been a most successful one, with the members of Queen's Bowling Club. Last year, the club only had a few members, but at the present time there are about sixty members. The game is growing in interest from year to year.

At the opening of the season, these officers were elected: D. Murray, president; R. J. McElroy, vice-president; W. R. Sills, secretary. Mr. Sills has worked hard in the interests of the club, and its success is largely due to him.

Every day, that is when the weather was at all favorable, the greens have presented a very busy appearance. All the match games have been played in the evening, and in the afternoon practice matches have been held to get the members in trim for the great struggles. A number of very close and exciting games were pulled off during the season.

Two of the rinks went down to Picton during the summer to attend the bowing tournament, and, although they were unable to capture any of the trophies put up, they made a good showing. Four of the players, Messrs. W. R. Sills, J. C. McGonagle, J. W. Corbett and W. H. Wormit, were successful in winning second and third place in the Scotch doubles.

A still larger membership is promised for the club next year. The green is looked upon as one of the best in Canada. It is splendidly lighted.

Sporting Notes.

Only three amateurs are included in the English cricket team to tour Australia.

Toronto R.C.Y.C. successfully defended the Fisher and George cups within a week.

Charlie Gage, flying wing, of last year's Varsity Canadian champions, has joined the T.A.A.C.'s.

Brydon-Jack, Mathewson and George Murray will be familiar figures missing off the McGill rugby line-up this season.

Chairman James E. Sullivan, of the New York state boxing commission, has resigned, giving ill-health as the reason.

"Bob" Waddell's recent feat of pitching and winning a double-header for Minneapolis shows that the old boy is not all in by any means.

"Freddy" Savage says he has retired from the gridiron for good. Walter Wilson is another Montreal rugbyman who says he will never chase the pig again.
