

UNHOLY PACT

Is Going to Beat Borden All Over Ontario.

OLD CONSERVATIVES

DESERTING PARTY BECAUSE OF ALLIANCE.

They Refuse to Allow Bourassa to Dictate to Ontario—Cannot Stomach Such an Anti-British Compact.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—That the alliance between Borden and Bourassa is hurting the conservative party in Ontario is the opinion of Senator J. P. B. Casgrain, who has just returned from a trip through that province, where he has been at various meetings and sounding the political spirit.

"They call it the Borden-Bourassa alliance," he said. "I have heard it denounced in every part of the country. A good many old conservatives are leaving the party in disgust because they cannot swallow Bourassa's statement. They feel that if Mr. Borden should win Bourassa would dictate to Ontario and they cannot stomach that."

TERMINABLE ANY TIME

The Reciprocity Pact will only continue in force during Canada's pleasure. There is a specific provision that Canada "shall be absolutely free to make any change of tariff policy, or of any other matter covered by the present arrangement that may be deemed expedient."

TWIN SARE BORN IN DIFFERENT TOWNS

Arrival of First in Agawam, and Second in Springfield, Causes Much Worry.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 9.—(By wire.)—Mrs. Strenozarne left home to visit Springfield friends. The first manifestation of the storm was under a strange roof in Agawam, four miles from here. A taxicab brought Mrs. Strenozarne to Springfield. The second twin was born in this city.

Dr. E. C. Collins, the attending physician, says the incident has no precedent in his experience in 3,000 births. However, he is surely perplexed as to how he is to fill out the birth certificates required by law, but to be on the safe side has practically decided to file certificates of birth in both Agawam and Springfield.

"At that," said Dr. Collins, "the authorities of each will telephone me to ask, where is the other twin?" "The legislature may have to pass a special act to straighten out this tangle."

FAVORS RECIPROCITY.

He Thinks it Will be to Canada's Advantage.

DR. A. P. KNIGHT.

Dr. A. P. Knight, a professor of Queen's, and an ardent conservative, supports reciprocity. He regards it as a great advantage to Canada. He considers much of the opposition as published in conservative newspapers as an insult to the intelligence of Canadians who think for themselves.

FARMERS HOLD

Their Barley Until Reciprocity Pact Passes.

EXPECT A BIG RAISE

IN THE PRICE UNDER THE AGREEMENT.

Farmers Will Not Sell at Present Prices—Brewers Offer Eighty Cents as Against Sixty-five Cents Last Year.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—A fact has developed in connection with the brewing and malting industry of this province, which suggests a very significant index to the attitude of a large body of farmers towards the question of reciprocity. A prominent malster yesterday stated that at this time of the year it is usual for brewers and malsters to buy their winter stocks of barley today in their winter stocks of barley they send out their travellers, who visit the various barley-growing districts and purchase their necessary supplies. By this time the crop has been harvested, and most of it threshed. Under ordinary circumstances, the major part of the purchases would now have been made but this year, strange to relate, there is practically no barley offering for sale.

The reason is the very simple one, that the farmers are convinced that if reciprocity carries through there will be a marked increase in the value of their barley, and almost to a man they are holding their grain until after the 21st of September.

"At this time last year," continued the speaker, "we were buying bar at about sixty-five cents per bushel. We have this year advanced the price to eighty cents in the hopes of inducing the holders to sell, but without appreciable effect. There have been two short crops in the United States, and as a consequence the ruling price for a good quality of barley in that country is $1.15. This difference of thirty-five cents between the Canadian and American prices is about represented by the duty and freight, and the Canadian farmers not unreasonably imagine that his barley which is generally of a higher grade than the American, will command a higher rate if he has access to the American market."

POLITICS AND DRINK

WERE THE RUTS OF MRS. HELEN F. DIXON.

Who Was Once the Maker of Governors—She Was Found Dead in a One-room Hotel.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Helen F. Dixon, "Empress of governors," for years successful manipulator of the political campaign of the Populist party, was found dead in a one-room hotel, where she had evidently died as the result of want and drink.

Mrs. Dixon was a woman of marked talent and ability and her promises of a lasting brilliant career, according to her own confession, were blasted by her craving for drink. She said less than a year ago that politics had caused her downfall and drink her ruin; that "late caucuses and political conferences had placed her on the high ball path."

GERMANY'S DEMANDS.

Said to Want a Concession in the French Congo.

Paris, Sept. 9.—The Liberte says Germany intends to take advantage of the present French optimism in regard to settlement of the trouble in Morocco by exacting a concession in Congo, in the north-west corner of Gabon, in the French Congo, near the mouth of the Muni River, to the Congo of the Alamina, following the north banks of the Ogowe and Alima Rivers. This France will positively refuse to grant.

FAVORED NATIONS

Reciprocity does not open the Canadian market to the twelve "favored nations" with which Britain has treaties. In accordance with a resolution passed at the Imperial Conference in June, Britain will abrogate these, in so far as they concern Canada.

SIR WILFRID'S WORK FOR THE PEOPLE

Sir Lomer Gouin Confident That He Will Be Triumphant Returned.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—Sir Lomer Gouin is satisfied that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be returned to power. In an interview, he said: "Somebody has made the prediction that the liberals would lose a few seats in Quebec, but I cannot see it. I can see instead, where they will gain a few. The prospects all over are very bright, and why should they not be? Sir Wilfrid is a better man to-day than he ever has been. He has the experience, he has the confidence of the people, and look how splendid he is physically. Moreover, he thinks of nothing but the welfare of his country. He never thinks of himself at all. He works unselfishly, and he is like a young man in his capacity for work. Oh, yes, I think you will find that the people of his country will return him to power as long as his country, has need of him."

By then compelled them to load the melons on a wagon and haul them about the town, telling all whom they passed how they acquired them. They were a shamefaced lot of youngsters when they completed their penance and were sent to their homes.

PASTOR OUT OF JAIL.

Finds His Wife Ill and Helpless in Bed.

Boston, Sept. 9.—The Rev. Eben T. Bayless, a Somerville clergyman, who has been serving a three months' sentence in the East Cambridge jail for libel, was released yesterday. Before being released he took the post-debtor's oath. During Mr. Bayless' confinement his wife, who is just sixty years of age, has been working hard to earn a living, and has broken down as the result of her labors. When the pastor went to his home at No. 1 Park avenue, he found her ill in bed, she had been forced to do scrubbing and washing to obtain food. GETS BACK PARASOL SHARK SWALLOWED

An Episode That Happened in the River at Delaware Breakwater.

Leeds, Del., Sept. 9.—Claim was made today to a parasol that had been dropped in the river at New York, swallowed by a shark and then carried to the Delaware Breakwater, where the shark was captured by James Keyes, a lightsight boatman, and the parasol recovered. Miss Laura Dorseys, of Sauzetuck, Conn., wrote to Charles E. Marshall claiming the article. Keyes caught the shark some time ago and was astonished when opening it to find a parasol as a part of its former diet. Miss Dorseys heard of the finding and today Marshall received a letter from her telling of the loss of the parasol from the steamship Richard Peck in East River, New York, and laying claim to the contents of the shark's stomach. There is little left but the ribs and some of the cover and handle, but Miss Dorseys' claim has been allowed and the remains will be sent to her.
