

INCREASE IN PRICES
OF TWO HOUSEHOLD COMMODITIES IS REPORTED.

Sugar Has Advanced to Seven Cents a Pound and Coal This Winter Will be $7.50 a Ton—Householders Getting Alarmed.

With the price of white sugar at seven cents a pound and a prospect of going still higher the housewives of the city are getting rather anxious, and have been giving notice to their husbands that they had better take their coffee sugarless or else with only one lump till the price drops. Now when the housewife goes to the grocer, she gets only fifteen and one half pounds for one dollar when a year ago she got seventeen and eighteen pounds for the same price. They are asking themselves what is the reason for this increase in the price. Some think that someone has a corner on the sugar market, but the scarcity of the household necessity is due to the failure of the sugar cane crop in Europe. It will not be half the crop this year that it has been in other years.

This comes as a blow to the fruit industry as well, for the housewives will not can as much fruit with the price up as high as it is now, as they have in other years. One housewife has declared that the members of her family like the sugar better, and use more of it now that the price is considerably higher. A few years ago five cents was considered a good price for sugar.

Sugar is not the only commodity that has increased in price. From all reports the man of the house will have to "shell out" an extra quarter to the $7.25 which was paid last winter for them.

Coal. This is and news. The price mentioned is not the limit, for a coal dealer has said that before the snow flies the price may soar to $8 a ton. Coal does not always increase in price during the winter, but things are in evidence that the price will climb still higher and as a consequence some of the people are getting in their winter's supply now. One reason for the increase is the fact that chestnut coal, which is so popular with residents of this city, has a strong demand that the local dealers cannot supply it fast enough, consequently they boost the price. There was a time last winter when coal was delivered in baskets to the customers. It could not be brought in to the city fast enough for delivery. Coal merchants say that they wish the people could be trained to use different coal. The next size to chestnut or egg is just as good as the much loved chestnut. Perhaps if the people took to egg coal and let the chestnut alone for a while, the price might drop.

Many Kingston conservatives candidly admit that Laurier will be returned to power.

The workingmen and their wives see that reciprocity will be a good thing for them.

SHIPMENT OF 13,000 FOR KINGSTON FIRMS.
First Cargo of 113,000 Bushels Left Fort William for Richardson—Very Good Sample for the First Arrivals.

The new grain will be on the move in full force soon. The first shipment has been made of this season's new crop from Fort William and has been shipped to James Richardson & Sons, Limited, of Kingston, coming via Owen Sound.

For many years it has been the custom to send the first shipment to Richardson's and this first shipment was made out of Fort William on Thursday. It was sent via the steamer Athabasca, of the Canadian Pacific railway. The shipment consists of 13,000 bushels.

This grain graded No. 1 and No. 2 Northern, and it is reported that it showed a very good sample for the first arrival.

There will doubtless be a steady run of shipments until the new grain becomes general. There is a general impression from the inspections made up-to-date that the average grain of this season's crop will be on parity with No. 1 Northern.

Just as soon as the new grain is on the move, the Kingston elevator will be very busy and will be busy until the close of navigation. The Montreal Transportation company has handled quite a large amount of grain during the past couple of months the tugs being kept on the jump with grain barges sent to Montreal.

REV. DR. BUCHANAN TELLS Of the Critical Famine Conditions in India.

At the meeting of the foreign mission committee of the Presbyterian church in Canada, held in Toronto, Rev. Dr. Buchanan, of Kingston, who is on furlough, and is returning to India this autumn, outlined the critical situation of that country at the present time in the prospect of a dire famine. It is almost certain that a terrible visitation is about to fall upon the people owing to the continuing drought. Missionaries dread one of the worst famines India has had in modern times. They were hoping it would be averted by rain, but the last letters received, written four weeks ago, said that unless rain came within a week it would do no good if it did fall, as everything would be dried up beyond restoration. No cable message has reached the newspapers that rain has come, so the worst is feared. All the missionaries will remain in the field this year, foregoing their furloughs, in order to assist in the relief work in case famine befalls the country. There will, therefore, be no missionaries home on furlough from India next year.

"My first hotel job was in a Texas city. One morning a guest who had been celebrating unwisely the night before stayed up to the desk and asked for some information. His name was Col. Hawkins, and he was the soul of politeness under all circumstances—and this morning he was looking worried.
"Frank," he whispered, "my memory of last night, I regret to say, is pretty hazy. Confidentially, now—what did I do?"
"Colonel," said I, "you got drunk and shot a man."
"Anything else?"
"No, sir; that about enough?"
"It's unfortunate, yes, sir. But I was afraid I had insulted some body."
