

A FALL FROM A SILO

CAUSED THE DEATH OF THOMAS SPROULE, OF WESTBROOK.

His Head Came in Contact With Cement Floor, and Skull Was Fractured—Was One of Best-known Farmers in This District.

THE LATE THOMAS SPROULE.

Thomas Sproule, a well-known farmer, at Westbrooke, died on Monday evening, following a fall and fracture of his skull. During the afternoon, he went into his silo, accidentally fell forward, and, dropping five feet, his head came in contact with the cement floor. Deceased lived for three hours after the accident.

He was a well-known resident, a member of the national board of the Methodist church and superintendent of the Sunday school at Westbrooke. He is survived by a widow and one son, B. L. F. Sproule, who resides on the farm. Two brothers, Joseph and William, live in the same neighborhood. He was sixty-six years of age, a man of kindly heart and esteemed in the community in which he resided. The late Mr. Sproule was prominent

PAVING BLOCKS ARE HERE.

Long Delayed Shipment Has at Last Arrived.

The schooner St. Louis arrived here on Tuesday morning, with a cargo of paving blocks. The contractor in charge of the street paving has been waiting on this shipment four weeks, and the delay in getting it here has caused much trouble. As a result, when the blocks were exhausted here in August, work had to be switched in a different direction. King street was sacrificed from Clarence to Brock, and the cement bed laid. Here the work had to be practically abandoned, for the contractor could not tie up more than two weeks at a time. The work of putting down the blocks will be rushed with all possible haste now.

Conservative Says So.

When W. F. Nickle addressed the workmen at the foot of Queen street, on Monday, the Kingston Daily Standard quotes him as saying that the view of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in introducing the pact was that it would give the farmer better prices. Conservative farmers will accept this statement from the conservative standard bearer in the city as a confirmation of what the friends of reciprocity have been telling you for several months past.

Spent Pleasant Hours.

The late E. G. Chapman, of Brookfield, Mo., who died recently, was ill from June to September. His widow writes to us to say that he spent many pleasant hours during his confinement reading the Whig. He was always on the lookout for its arrival. Mr. Chapman was formerly a resident of Leeds County, Ontario.

Burn Swift's Seranton coal.

Whatever disputes there may be as to who pays the duty on food, we know that somebody pays it, and that when it is removed nobody pays it. This fact explains how relief can benefit both buyer and seller.

THE SPORT REVIEW

QUEEN'S MAY NOT CLOSE WITH ELLIOTT AFTER ALL.

The Athletic Committee Has Other Capable Men in View to Coach the Team—Players are Being Given Gymnastic Training.

From all accounts it is now said that Queen's University authorities have other coaches in view beside "Chance" Elliott and the former Kingstonian may not be engaged to look after the team. Nothing definite has been decided upon and the movements of the committee are being kept very secret. At a meeting held recently, the names of other prominent coaches were considered, and it is understood that offers will be asked for from them before a choice is made. The committee is doing its best to get a competent man as soon as possible, and will endeavor to tie one up with a contract for the season. The time to the opening of the season is getting shorter and a start will have to be made soon.

James G. Bews, who has charge of the athletic training of the players, is giving them a workout every afternoon, so that when the practices are started they will be in good shape physically. It is understood that new material to replace the veterans who graduated last year is being mustered.

Athletics vs. Wolfe Island.

The junior Athletics, under the management of "Lunker" Walsh, went over to Wolfe Island to-day to play in the exhibition game arranged with the Wolfe Island team for the opening day of the fair. In spite of the fact that it is only a junior team, a great deal of interest is being manifested, as at the last meeting a twelve innings game was played in which the Kingstonians posed out as victors by one run.

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM

Met at Station by Supporters and a Band.

Hon. George P. Graham, who spoke at the Opera House, Monday night, was met at the Grand Trunk station, Monday night, by the candidate, John McDonald Mowat, and a number of the local members of the liberal ranks. The train was a little late and this was the reason for the meeting being somewhat delayed. The members of the 14th regiment band were on hand for the occasion and as the minister of railways and canals stepped out onto the platform, the band played and he was given a warm reception. Carriages were secured and the party proceeded to the Opera House, led by the band. The meeting had just started when the party arrived and there was great enthusiasm as the party reached the stage. All along the way to the station, Hon. Mr. Graham and the candidate were cheered to the echo. A number of stalwarts were stationed at the liberal rooms on Princess street and they gave Mr. Mowat and Mr. Graham a hearty cheer.

SIR JOHN AND SIR WILFRID.

Was not Sir John A. Macdonald good enough leader for any conservative to follow? Then every conservative should vote for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for he is the only consistent representative of Sir John's policy. Sir John was ready for reciprocal trade whenever the United States was ready; so is Sir Wilfrid. Sir John said: "A British subject I was born and a British subject I will die." Sir Wilfrid is a Canadian first, last and all the time. The same thing in another form.

MILLINERY OPENING TO-DAY.

Kingston Ladies Abandoned Work to See the Latest Creations.

The ladies of Kingston to-day forgot to talk politics, long enough to don their street attire and attend the various millinery openings in the city. Most milliners of the city shops have been in the big fashion centres for the past two weeks studying the most favorable things to offer for sale and the collection which they have garnered from the latest creations presented the feminine population of the city very much. The latest styles from New York and other fashion centres were placed on exhibition and the lovers of this fine art nearly went into hysterics over the smartness of some of the models shown. With them it will be a question of saving their pin money for some time now, until their fall hat is purchased.

Beaten to a Fizzle.

R. J. Bows, New York, writes to the Whig applauding Laurier and his cabinet and believes that the government will be returned by a larger majority than ever. He thinks that the conservative party will be beaten to a fizzle.

Purchased a Horse.

John McCartney and his brother, Harry McCartney, have purchased a beautiful carriage horse. It is admired by leading horsemen of the country. They were offered a handsome price for it but declined the offer.

Get $25 to $1.

A Princess street merchant has bet with a local carpenter twenty-five dollars to one that the Laurier government will be returned.

Ex-Ald. Henry Angrove, who is confined to the general hospital, with typhoid fever, is doing as well as can be expected, and will be able to sit up in a few days.
