SOME QUESTIONS ON RECIPROCITY

Queries and Answers Which Are of General Interest in the Present Election

A Hamilton man asks the following questions:—
(1) Is either party to the agreement at liberty to end the same at any time?
(2) Will Canadian farmers and fruit-growers get a better price for their perishable products?
(3) Will the Canadian producer ship and sell where he can get the best price?
(4) Is Canada a very small producer compared to the States?
(5) Would it be anything like a great financial loss for a very great producing country to shut out by a prohibitive surtax, say, one-tenth or one-twentieth of the perishable products used in that country, as it would for a country producing a comparatively small amount to have the largest part or the whole of its outside markets suddenly cut off?
(6) Would the United States like to get their manufactured articles into our markets free?
(7) Did Canada, within the past year or two, give the United States certain concessions after we had completed an agreement with France and after

The United States Government had threatened to raise the tariff against Canadian goods if concessions were not also given to the United States.
(8) Are the Americans too honorable and just to use an agreement of this kind for some ulterior motive?
The Globe replies as follows:—
"To question 1 the answer is 'yes.' To question 2 the answer is 'that the farmer and fruit-grower will get a wider and steadier market. Only a fool would say that at all times and under all circumstances the price would be better than it is today. To questions 3 and 4 the answer is 'yes.' To question 5 the answer is 'no.' To question 6 the answer is 'yes,' an offer was made by Mr. Taft of reciprocity in manufactured articles, which Mr. Fielding refused to consider. To question 7 the answer is 'yes.' The eighth question is one that may be answered by anyone to suit his own views. The Globe believes that it is all rubbish to pretend that there is an ulterior motive behind the trade agreement. The thing that is behind it is the insistence of the United States consumers that he should no longer be at the mercy of the meat trust and similar organizations."

ASKING ONLY FREEDOM

Manufacturers Already Enjoy What Farmers Are Asking
Mr. Walter D. Beardmore, of Toronto, head of the firms of Beardmore & Co., and the Acton Tanning Co., Acton, Ont., has spoken very strongly in favor of reciprocity. S. M. Smyth, owner of the Strathroy Furniture Company, and other Strathroy manufacturers, are on the same side, as are many other large manufacturers throughout Canada. These men are in a stronger position than those who have been persuaded to denounce reciprocity. The manufacturers of Canada to-day enjoy a substantial measure of protection on their products; in many cases thirty per cent. or more of their cost. They also enjoy the benefit of raw materials imported free of duty—cotton, hides, forest products, metals. Various kinds of drugs, dyes, and chemicals. We import from the United States nearly a hundred million dollars worth of free goods, and the bulk of these are for the use of our manufacturers. They have, to a large extent, the benefit of free trade for what they buy, and the benefit of protection for what they sell. Under reciprocity they will continue to enjoy these benefits. The consumer will have untaxed food, as the manufacturer has free raw material. Why should the manufacturer try to prevent his workman from eating untaxed food, the raw material of his body, of the muscles, and sinews with which he works? The farmer is willing that the Canadian consumer shall have this untaxed food. He asks for no privilege, no special legislation, no tax for his benefit. All he asks is that the manufacturer shall not stand between him and the millions of food consumers in the United States, who want untaxed food from Canada. It is not wise for a manufacturer, enjoying enormous privileges through the tariff, to stand in the way of the farmer and the consumer, who ask for nothing but freedom, and who do not even attack the protection enjoyed by the manufacturer.—The Star.

DUTY ON PEAS

An Anti-Reciprocity Dealer Made Money, but Might Have Made More With Reciprocity
They are telling a story up in Grey County of how a grain dealer in Markdale, who is an opponent of reciprocity, was nearly trapped.
Some time ago this buyer began buying peas in a large way, and at a price higher than competitors felt able to pay. Farmers with peas to sell were attracted to his store, not only from the neighborhood of Markdale, but from points naturally tributary to other towns in outlying sections. Competitors told him, one even went so far as to write him, that he would lose money on his purchases. A few weeks later, after he had disposed of the peas he had bought, he was boasting to a Flesherton man of the success that had attended his venture. "Do you know what I made on those peas?" he asked. "Fifteen hundred dollars." "Where did you sell them?" "In the United States." "Have you figured up," said the Flesherton friend, "how much more you might have made if the American duty of 25c. a bushel had been out of the way?"

TRADE, NOT POLITICS

What Sir Wilfrid Says Canada Will Take From Mr. Taft
"We will take our trade from President Taft, but we will not take our politics from President Taft; make no mistake about it," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sudbury. "It is true that President Taft had the ideals which the anti-reciprocity Conservative campaigners attribute to him—which I doubt—then I say: 'Sir, you do not know what you are talking about. We are prepared to talk business with you in matters of trade, but in the matter of politics keep to your own side of the line.' President Taft has stated that he had no thought or intention of annexation, and I believe him to be absolutely honest in so saying. But if it were otherwise, then I would say to him: 'Sir, make no mistake. We want to sell to you, but if you don't want to buy our products we will not sell you our nationality.'"

POTATOES WILL BE HIGHER.
Late Potato Crop is Reported as Being a Failure.
Housewives in the city have been rejoicing generally in the fact that the price of potatoes has gone down some what so that they look on the tuber as a necessity once more instead of a luxury as in the past two weeks. Their good fortune is doomed to disappointment, however for if all reports are true the juicy vegetable will be even scarcer this fall than it has been. Farmers report their late potatoes as hardly being worth digging. One man said Saturday that he had purchased a $75 potato digger to harvest his crop, but that this year the crop was so small that he was not going to use the digger at all. There is a possibility that all crops have not been affected and it is to be heartily hoped, that they have not, as the price has been high enough for the past two weeks.

Laid Leader to Rest.
The funeral of the late J. W. Treadwell, occurred at Vancouver, B.C., on September 10th, and was largely attended, the members of the Musicians' Union taking charge and giving him all the honor in their power. Some two hundred men were in line and a band that was most effective. It played "Departed Comrade," Chopin's Funeral March, Beethoven's March and that of Saul, and at the grave, "Nearer My God To Thee." There were many elegiac devices on the caulk, including his old alarm clock mounted in a wreath of lilies and intermingled with an embossed card bearing the word "Faith," in gold. The casket was draped in purple and black. His comrades, indeed, laid him to rest in almost kingly state.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, therefore requires constitutional treatment. (Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 30 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.)
