STEAMERS GO ASHORE THE SPORT REVIEW A LAWN SOCIAL HELD THE DAY'S EPISODES

THE ROSEDALE AND THE PEL-LATT HAVE TROUBLE.

Steamer Sinbad, aground at Carleton Island, was released and proceeded to Montreal—Marine Notes Gathered Around the Harbor.

Two steamers were reported aground on Wednesday. The steamer Pellatt, of the Merchants' Mutual line, ran aground near Ironsides, and the steamer Rosedale, of the Inland line, limited, ran ashore in Little Lake, near the canal. Both vessels were loaded with grain and freight, on their way to Montreal. The Rosedale left Kingston on Sunday and the steamer Pellatt cleared from Kingston on Monday. The Donnelly company has been asked to give assistance.

The steamer Donnelly succeeded in getting the steamer Sinbad off, near Carleton Island, and the vessel was able to proceed to Montreal. It is not thought that she will suffer as a result of the mishap, but will be examined upon her arrival in Montreal.

Movements of Vessels.

The steamer Sowards cleared last night for Charlotte. The steamer John-Rapall arrived from Seely's Bay with a cargo of brick. M. T. Co.'s elevator. The tug Fenderson arrived light, from Charlotte, and will clear today with one coal barge for Montreal.

At Swift's wharf, Steamer Riboun King is due from Ottawa this evening; steamer Metha was down from bay ports today; steamer Lamoude up from Gananoque and intervening ports today; steamer Belleville is due to pass down and discharge tonight; steamer Dunbar is due to pass up today; steamer City of Montreal is due to pass up today; steamer Kingston made the river trip today; yacht Clover was in port for a short time yesterday; yacht Wanda stopped for a short time yesterday on her way west.

"NOT LIKELY THAT 'CHAUCER' WILL BE WITH QUEEN'S.

The Sport Promoter Arrived in the City Tuesday—He Would Coach Queen's if They Made Him a Good Offer, But Has Offers From Two Other Clubs.

There is very little possibility of Queen's Athletic Committee landing "Chaucer" Elliott as coach for this season. The celebrated sport promoter landed in town, Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by "Ethie" Charlton, who has been helping him run the Canadian Baseball League. "Chaucer" came down to his old home city to have a look around before beginning on football. The league of which he was the organizer, closed last Saturday and he will turn his attention to rugby now.

When asked by the Whig if there had been an agreement made with Queen's Athletic Committee to retain him as rugby coach, he said there had not, and no offer had been extended to him. He had an intimation that the committee would like to get him, but had received nothing in the way of a formal communication, except a letter from N. M. Leslie, of Hamilton. He said he would just as soon be in Kingston as anywhere else, as he would go anywhere else. He could have stayed in London and coached a junior O.R.F.U. team, and he also had offers from two clubs, either of which he could start to work on Monday. He had not closed with either yet, but has all the time to make up his mind. He said if Queen's wanted him, they would have to make up their minds pretty quick, but with two other good offers before him, he was not particular whether they made him an offer or not.

Varsity Practising Daily.

Varsity rugby team in Toronto is rounding into shape very fast and from all indications will make Queen's "hump" in the first game here on October 7th. This crack team will be made up of veterans from the same as other teams, but they are accepting the situation and bucking down to new material.

"Bud" Hamilton as Coach.

"Bud" Hamilton is engaged to coach the junior O.R.F.U. team, London, and his salary for the rugby season will be $200. This is not bad pay at all. He was recommended for the job by "Chaucer" Elliott. "Bud" is an old Kingston boy and at one time a member of the famous Granite rugby team. He is a son of Frank J. Hamilton, formerly caretaker of the Y.M.C.A. Kingston are proud of the record he is making in sport.

Great Chance for Queen's.

"Chaucer" Elliott has seen Queen's play during the past two years, with McGill and Varsity in Montreal and Toronto, and he thinks that the Kingston City team is superior to either one of them. Their lack of the fine points of the game has been ruinous in many instances, which shows if they had a proper coach this would be rectified.

Athletes Shut Out.

The Junior Athletics met defeat of the worst kind at Wolfe Island, on Tuesday afternoon, in a baseball game which was one of the chief attractions of the fair. The score was 11 to 0, with Wolfe Island at the big end of the stick. This seems surprising in view of the fact that the last time the city team went over there after a twelve innings game, the Kingstonians were one ahead, but baseball is like a horse race, no one can tell who will win.

Overend for Ottawa.

An Ottawa despatch says: It is stated on good authority that "Overend," the big scrimmage of last year's Queen's team, will be a fixture on the Ottawa line. Overend has been negotiating for a situation in Ottawa, and will probably be out with the red, white and black footballers Saturday afternoon. "Jack" Williams will play full back.

MAMMOTH SALE OF FOUNTAIN PENS.

Regular $2.50 to $10 Value for $1.25 at Mahood's Drug Store.

The biggest fountain pen sale ever placed before the people of Kingston started today at Mahood's Drug Store.

Mr. Mahood has made arrangements for showing some 150 different styles of the celebrated Worth & Co. pens, valued at from $2.50 to $10, and about 20,000 of these pens will go on sale at the popular price of $1.25 each. In this magnificent assortment there are pearl-handled, sterling silver mounted, gold mounted, business men's pens and many other attractive designs.

The average person generally takes it for granted that unless he pays $5 or more for a fountain pen he is not making a good investment. This theory is given a rude jolt at this mammoth sale during which a giant assortment for one year accompanies every sale. Furthermore, purchasers are told that if they are not satisfied they can have their money returned any time during the sale or the pen may be exchanged for any other more suitable design.

The window of the Mahood store has been given over entirely to the display of these pens, and as there will undoubtedly be a rush the sale will last for only a few days.

BY THE HOTEL DIEU LADIES' AUXILIARY

On the Grounds of That Institution on Tuesday—A Large Crowd Was Present—Those in Charge of the Tables.

The lawn social and dance, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hotel Dieu, on Thursday afternoon and evening, was a grand success. The crowd present was large, considering the political meetings which were going on at the same time.

The first table at the Hotel Dieu gate was the fancy table, in charge of Mrs. Corkey, assisted by Miss Ethel Corkey. The next thing was the afternoon and children's table, which was in charge of Mrs. Keenan, assisted by Mrs. Tetze, and the Misses O'Connor. The refreshment room in the basement of the new wing, was decorated with palms and made a very pleasant feature of the affair.

The home-made table was fine and was in charge of Mrs. Lovett, assisted by Mrs. Duns, Miss Cooper, Miss Lovett. The candy table looked very nice, and was under the fine management of Mrs. C. Martin, assisted by her daughter. The ice cream and soft drink booth was situated in the main building and was in charge of Mrs. McConick, assisted by Mrs. Sowards, Mrs. Moran, Miss Grimshaw, Miss McConick, Miss Quinn, Miss Ardagh, Miss Gallagher, Miss S. Curdin. "Virt Sally" was in charge of Mrs. Beaupre and Miss Kane. The surprise table was presided over by Mrs. Schetagne, assisted by Mrs. Spence and Miss Hunt. The fortune teller, Mrs. Summerby, was again at her old position, telling fortunes. The girls were looked after by Mr. Cunningham.

One of the main attractions of the evening was the dancing and a great number took part in the affair. The music was excellent the R.C.H.A. band furnishing fine music.

A great deal of the success of the lawn social was due to the hard work of Mrs. Joseph Swift, who did not leave anything undone which would help towards the success of the undertaking. The grounds were well lighted by two large arc lights, and numerous small lights.

The evening table was in charge of Mrs. Leahy and Mrs. Grady, assisted by Mrs. Schetagne and the Misses Bolger, Proune, Gallagher, Shaw and Irene Swift.

Prizes were won by Miss Beaupre and T. Nicholson, and consolation by Miss McDonald.

THE PEOPLE ARE WARNED OF A POSSIBLE LAST HOUR CRY

One of the conservative fairy tales to which the electors of Kingston may be treated as a last hour frenzied appeal for votes for Nicksle, is that if reciprocity goes into effect, a company, which is alleged to have been considering the question of establishing another elevator and mill-plant at Kingston, will not carry out its alleged intentions. The statement is a most ridiculous one, and if given to a Standard, root-ryck would be given to the people only as an election cry. The electors can rest assured that the story, no matter from what source it emanates is only of root-ryck value, and can also rest assured that Kingston is going to gain by reciprocity.

ELECTION RETURNS

The Whig has leased a special G.N.W. Telegraph Company wire, and will bulletin the returns to-morrow evening.

A stereopticon machine will throw the results on a huge screen in front of the Whig Office, so that they can be plainly read anywhere in the market square. Pictures of leading public men, Kingston's candidates, etc., will also be shown.

The public are cordially invited to come down to the square and see the returns. The service will be as complete and efficient as it is possible to make it.
