AVOID "Sure Things"

Every financial stringency brings to light many good illustrations of the possibility of being ruined by a "sure thing." When money tightens these "sure things" are squeezed out of existence. Scores of people lose their money on what they are led to believe are perfectly solid investments, that are sure to win. Then follow "inside tips" and assured.

Resist the temptation to gamble. Remember that real estate is the best and safest investment there is. The earth is its foundation and that foundation is the foundation of all values. Let us show you some good, tried-right properties.

FOR STEALING A RIDE

YOUNG MAN FOUND HIMSELF IN POLICE COURT.

George Bennett, of Toronto, Pleaded Guilty to Jumping on Grand Trunk Train and Was Remanded—Taken in Charge Late on Sunday Afternoon.

Stealing a ride on a Grand Trunk freight train, was the charge against a young fellow who gave his name as George Bennett, aged nineteen, and his home as 69 Queen street, Toronto, in the police court, on Monday morning. He was placed under arrest, on Sunday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, by Constable Naylor and taken to the lock-up. The accused had been taken in charge by some trainmen, at the outer station, and held for the police. Bennett pleaded guilty to the charge, and was remanded until Wednesday.

Bennett states that he was on his way to Montreal. He was caught by one of the men employed on the train, and when the case comes up on Wednesday, railway men will be called to give evidence. The Grand Trunk has had considerable trouble, at times, with young men and boys jumping on trains, and they are endeavoring to put a stop to the nuisance. Some time ago, it will be remembered, a young man fell off a train which he had boarded to steal a ride, and met his death.

Two drunks were in the line-up. One was given a chance to make good, and the other was taxed $3 and costs.

Change of Time.
Commencing Sunday, Sept. 24th, there will be no connections for Cape Vincent. Commencing Monday, Sept. 25th steamer will leave Kingston 2 p.m. daily except Sunday.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS DEATHS IN THE CITY

OF THE SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE ODDFELLOWS.

Robert Meek Was Delegate at the Session Held in Indianapolis—Monster Night Parade Was a Big Feature of the Proceedings.

The eighty-seventh annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Oddfellows, was held last week, in Indianapolis. Robert Meek, who was a delegate to this session, arrived home on Monday morning, and reports a fine meeting. Indianapolis, which has a population of 300,000, was in gala attire for the Oddfellows. It is a modern city in every respect and one of the largest cities in the union. Canadian and British flags occupied a prominent heart in the decorations, and by the way the British flag brought about a little controversy in one of the newspapers, and it all occurred in this way. Two alleged Canadians, wishing, no doubt, to create a sensation, wrote to the Indianapolis Star, stating that it was a mistake to use the British flag in the decorations, as the majority of the Canadians had no use for the flag. Naturally this was strongly objected to by the many Canadians who were present, and they wrote a strong letter to the Star, pointing out that the British flag was "in the right place," and at the same time, extending thanks to the committee, having in charge the decorations for having given the Canadian flag such a prominent place. This closed the controversy and the Canadians won out with honors.

Regarding the business sessions the reports of the grand officers showed that for the year ending Dec. 31st 1910, there were 1,583,163 members in the subordinate lodges, 66,537 in the Rebekahs; with a total of over two millions. The insurance for 1910 was forty-nine thousand in the subordinate lodges; four thousand in the encampment, thirty-three thousand in the Rebekahs, and one thousand in the Patriarch Militant.

Among the notable events of the big meeting was the appearance of the new head of the militant order, General A. R. Stocker, of Ohio, who takes the place of General Ramey, who is well known in Kingston, and who remains in office until Jan. 1st. Under the new rules and regulations the general is nominated by the grand sires, and the sovereign grand lodge confirms the nomination.

It was decided to have the next session of the grand lodge in Winnipeg, September, 1912. The city was the unanimous choice, although there was a proposition to visit Berlin, Germany, on an appeal from the grand lodges there. Winnipeg is making preparations for a great demonstration when the grand lodge meets there.

The question of dealing with tuberculosis was up for discussion, a special committee having reported in favor of a sanitarium, but before this report was received arrangements were made whereby each grand lodge can authorize that provision be made for dealing with such cases.

The big parade held on Wednesday night was a grand affair and in addition it is estimated that the parade was witnessed by 150,000 visitors. Canton, No. 7, Toronto, was represented in the drill competitions and made good, carrying off the prize of $1,000 for team work and in addition won two out of the three individual prizes. The Winnipeg Rebekahs carried off the prize for degree work.

WILL REACH EIGHT HUNDRED.

A few more returns have been received of the Frontenac county elections, and it now looks as if the majority of Dr. J. W. Edwards will reach eight hundred. The official figures have not yet been handed in.

THE LATE EDWARD COOKE.

Edward Cooke passed away at his home on Nelson street on Monday morning, after being confined to his bed some little time. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. Deceased was born in England, and came to Canada when twelve years of age. He lived at Cataraqui until a few years ago, when he came to the city to reside. He is survived by his wife and four children, three sons and one daughter: James and William, of Cataraqui, and John, principal of the high school at Williamstown, and Miss Emma at Cataraqui. Deceased was a conservative in politics and a Methodist in religion, attending Sydenham street church.

THE LATE WILLIAM J. CAMIE.

William J. Camie, died at his home on Princess street, on Saturday evening, after suffering a stroke of apoplexy. He was a life-long resident of the city. He is survived by his wife, one son, Frederick, and one daughter, Ella. In religion he was a Methodist and attended Queen street church. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at Cataraqui cemetery. In politics deceased was a conservative.

DEATH OF AN INFANT.

Kathleen M. M. Taylor, infant daughter of Osborn Taylor, Wellington street, died Saturday, at the home of her parents, after a brief illness. She was aged nine months and twenty-one days. The funeral took place on Monday morning to St. Mary's cemetery.

WILL REACH EIGHT HUNDRED.

A few more returns have been received of the Frontenac county elections, and it now looks as if the majority of Dr. J. W. Edwards will reach eight hundred. The official figures have not yet been handed in.

OPENING OF QUEEN'S STUDENTS ARE FLOCKING TO THE CITY THIS WEEK.

The Registration Will Reach 1,700 This Session—Principal Gordon to Arrive Tuesday—New Assistant Professors.

Students are flocking to the city from all over the country for the opening of Queen's on Wednesday. Registrar G. Y. Chown, expects that the attendance will at least reach 1,700 mark. Last session it was 1,612.

Principal Gordon, who has been in Scotland all summer, will reach Kingston on Tuesday afternoon. He was expected Monday, but a telegram received from him announced that he could not reach the city for another day.

There will be half a dozen new men on the teaching staff this session. While in the old country, Principal Gordon and Rev. Dr. Herridge, of Ottawa, secured two scholars for the English and classical departments, having been given authority by the board. The two secured are: Mr. Colville, for the English department, and Mr. Small for the department of classics. Both are from Oxford, and will act as assistants.

Two other additions to the staff are Mr. Hyde, of Columbia University, New York, as assistant professor of geology, and Mr. Schaub, of Cornell University, as assistant professor of philosophy. The latter two have already arrived.
