J. A. Bermingham Makes Appeal in Behalf of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew—Give Address at St. James' Church.

The story of the organization and work of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, was told in St. James' church, on Sunday evening, by the general secretary, J. A. Bermingham.

Mr. Bermingham delivered a most interesting address, setting forth the aims of the Brotherhood, and made a strong appeal for all the men of the church, to become identified with the brotherhood. Reference was made to the formation of the brotherhood, at a meeting of young men, held in Chicago. It had but a very small beginning, but now had a membership of 25,000 consecrated men and boys, who were endeavoring to extend the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. The object of the brotherhood, was to follow the example of St. Andrew, who helped his fellow man. The movement had spread from coast to coast, to the West Indies, Australia, Japan and India. The members of the first chapter started out to look after strangers in the church, but soon found that their good work could be extended into other avenues. There was great need, in the church, to-day, for such organization.

"There are thousands of men, who never darken the door of the church," said the speaker, "and it is the duty of the members of the brotherhood, to get them into common sense, to get them men to attend church. The members also endeavour to get men, who are staying in the city, over Sunday, to go to church. The building up of the Bible classes, is another thing, with the building up of the Sunday schools, as well. The boy scouts are doing good work among their companions, work that men cannot do.

"When an opportunity presents itself, we want you to give us your sympathy. The opportunities are many. Visit the sick, in the homes, and at the hospitals, and those who have had the misfortune to be confined in the penitentiary and asylum. As yet, we have only touched the outside fringe of this great work. We have but laid the foundation, and we need the cooperation and sympathy of every member of the church. There is work for every man, even the man with but one talent, will find an opportunity. The speaker appealed for more prayer and Bible study.

"In the ordinary houses in Canada to-day," he added, "the good old book is rarely read. I will go still further, and say that the average man of to-day, rarely sees the book which cost so much. Read the good book, even if it only be for two or three minutes each day. We need more prayer, more Bible study, and more consecration. Let us offer ourselves for the work."

AN ABLE DISCOURSE

BY WILLIAM G. SKINNER, OF LONDON, ENGLAND

In Queen Street Methodist Church on Sunday Evening—The Lord is Gracious and Full of Compassion.

The pulpit in Queen street Methodist church Sunday evening was occupied by William G. Skinner, of London, England, assistant editor of the Methodist Recorder, and father of E. W. Skinner, of this city. Mr. Skinner is on a visit to this country to attend a convention in Toronto at the beginning of next month.

He chose as his subject Psalm CXI. "The Lord is gracious and full of compassion," and delivered a most able address on this interesting topic. The address was interesting from more points than one, for in addition to being full of valuable information it revealed a lot of research work. In the course of his address he touched on the meaning of the word "holy." Years ago in England, the word whole was used to denote anything that was pure and without blemish. This word was afterwards changed to holy. We then see that in applying the word holy to Jesus Christ, we mean by that that he is pure, and without a blemish, and as he is pure, so he wants us to be.

It was a common expression a number of years ago in the old country to say "that her majesty was pleased to grant that her majesty condescended to have intercourse with her subjects. If an earthly monarch could condescend to have intercourse with one of her subjects, how much greater condescension was it for the King of Kings to hold intercourse with and love the lowest of his subjects. The music at the service was very inspiring. The anthem as rendered by the choir, "There is a Land of Pure Delight," in which the solo was taken by Mrs. Evans, was very pleasing and the solo rendered by Mrs. Evans during the offertory, "Abide With Us," revealed to all the smoothness of her voice.

MAILED AT ADDISON. Miss Weese Becomes Bride of H. B. Robertson. Brockville Recorder. A quiet but happy, chiefly of private and personal interest, took place at Addison, Sept. 20th, when Miss Willmetta Weese, daughter of Rev. W. W. Weese, was married to Harry Robertson, son of J. M. Robertson, merchant of Pakenham. From childhood the bride was a prodigy in acquiring knowledge. Ten schools, from the elementary to the university, claim the honor of her attendance, and at twenty years of age she was an honorary graduate in arts. For five years she taught in the high schools of Prescott and Arran, spending the part of three summer vacations in Toronto on the provincial board of examiners. The groom at an early age entered the service of the Union bank and advanced rapidly until he gained the position of manager, which office he now holds.

The marriage ceremony was performed in the Methodist church, the altar of which was decked with white and pink asters. After the wedding party and groom had taken their places the march was played by Miss A. Frances Weese, sister of the bride, while the latter, elegantly gowned and carrying a large bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and rare ferns, entered leaning on the arm of her father, the pastor of the church, who also pronounced the sacred words that made them husband and wife.

The dining-room of the parsonage, where a sumptuous dinner was served, was tastefully decorated with plants and flowers in pink, white and green. The bride's presents were numerous, useful and costly, including silverware and trunks. The happy young pair proceeded by carriage to Brockville, where they boarded the G.T.R. fast train for Montreal and other eastern points, and on returning will be at home in Kinburn, Ont.

Big Sale of Pens. Some Great Snaps to be Had at Mahood's Drug Store. Every man wants a fountain pen. It adds tone to his appearance. It has a handsome fountain pen stuck in his waistcoat pocket, just as if he had to have it always handy to sign checks. Then the ladies like them, too. Nothing is neater than a handsome pearl-handled or silver, or gold mounted fountain pen to complete the furnishing of a secretary.

Everyone will have a chance to receive such a want this week. For two or three days Mahood's drug store windows and show cases will be filled with fountain pens, valued at from $2.50 to $10 each, which will be sacrificed at $1.25 each, a price never before equalled for the quality of pens being offered. The best known makers are represented in this big sale of pens. The well-known Princess street drug store is stocked with. There are 150 styles and thousands of different grades and styles of pens. No matter what kind of a pen is wanted it can be procured there.

This sale offers an undoubted snap to everyone in the city and in the surrounding districts, for it is safe to say that every person who sinks $1.25 in one of the worth pens will get a good return for the money. Out-of-town buyers can have their wants attended to by mail. If they want the price and the description of the kind of pen they want.

As this sale will last only a few days extra clerks have been engaged to look after the mammoth rush of business that is sure to follow the advertisement of these bargains, which appear on another page of the issue.

Piling Bricks on Wellington Street. The paving bricks which arrived in the city recently are "heavily all being piled on the sidewalk on both sides of Wellington street, between Brock and Princess streets. The proprietors of shops along there are taking objection to this action when the street has not yet been touched. It will mean that they will be put to a great deal of inconvenience by having the bricks piled in front of their stores. They do not mind the street being torn up, but they do not like the sidewalk blocked when the street is free.

At St. Paul's Church. The Harvest Thanksgiving services were a great success at St. Paul's church, on Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated. The choir was seldom heard to better advantage. OFFER TO DR. EDWARDS. Joseph McGrath Denies Statement Attributed to Him. Mount Chesney, Sept. 25.—(To the Editor): I attended two political meetings in the campaign just over, called by Dr. Edwards, one at Sunbury and the other at Battersden, at which he made reference to some person, misquoting his remarks which he made at a picnic held in the locality a short time ago. I have just been told that the person he alluded to was myself.

Now, I wish to state that I was not at the picnic referred to, nor did I make any such statement about Dr. Edwards' remarks at that picnic, and any connection of my name with the same is a pure falsehood. I will give Dr. Edwards $500 if he can prove that I ever told any person one word he said at that picnic. Yours truly, JOSEPH McGRATH.

Out After Hickory Nuts. Large numbers of young people drove out to the country Sunday in search of hickory nuts, which are said to be plentiful this year. "The French Maid" Was a Very Ordinary Attraction.

"The French Maid," the musical melange produced at the Grand, on Saturday afternoon and evening, did not receive very warm approval. It is an American adaptation of a French farce, but a very poor adaptation. If "The French Maid" is to stand the cold winter that is promised, it will need a good deal of revision, and the company will require some people who can sing and act.
