THE SPORT REVIEW

QUEEN'S RUGBY PLAYERS AT WORK ON CAMPUS.

Coach R. H. Britton Has Them in Charge—The Collegiate Institute Has Given the University Several Good Players.

"Come on, more speed there, you can travel faster than that," and "don't tackle so high get him about the feet." These and various other exclamations were hurled at the twenty wearers of the tri-color who were out on the lower campus at Queen's university Tuesday afternoon by Coach R. H. Britton, who, for over an hour, gave the team a fast workout. He kept the men busy all the time and at a few minutes after five o'clock they trotted to the gymnasium soaked in prespiration. This was the first time, Coach Britton had his men on the field, and they certainly made a fine showing. The sun shone mellowly, and the air was just right for rugby when the players made their appearance on the field about four o'clock. They worked with alacrity, and obeyed all the terse commands issued to them by their coach. Bucking, tackling and kicking were the chief, workouts for the afternoon, and all showed plainly the rust which had accumalated during the summer. A few more practices will wear this off, however. No attempt has been made as yet to form the men into two teams, in fact there are not enough on hand yet.

When practice was over and Coach Britton was asked what he thought of the situation, he replied that it was pretty early yet to judge as he had seen the players on the field only once. However he was satisfied with the way they worked. They had ambition, speed and a willingness to do whatever he told them. If they stuck together for the season, he saw no reason why they should not make a good showing.

One thing which should make Queen's a strong team this year is the fact that there are a large number of the last year's collegiate team out with it. Ellis, Hazlett, McNeil, Millan and others who were with collegiates last year are out trying for places on the university teams. It is rather early yet to conjecture whether they will get a place or not, but they should make a desperately hard try for it. The team will be out again this afternoon for another workout with several new men, for the students are coming to the city every day.

Walsh Went at Noon.

"Lanker" Walsh went on the noon train to Toronto, where he will spend the winter at 'Varsity studying on a dental course. The good wishes of a host of friends will go with him to Toronto.

Cadets Practising.

The Cadets are practising daily and intend to spring a surprise on the rest of the teams. The first team will be somewhat short of players on account of a number of last year's cadets graduating. The recruits who entered this fall are looked upon as having some good rugby material among them.

Ottawa Having Trouble.

An Ottawa despatch says:—Apparently things in the Ottawa football club are not yet in smooth working order. Several players were conspicuous yesterday by their absence. Among these was "Jack" Ryan, who would like to see some of the older executive members returned. "Marty" Walsh was not on hand, the committee not having had an opportunity of closing with him.

Collegiates Chances Good.

The Collegiate boys may make a record for themselves this season. At the first of the season things looked very blue on account of the team losing men like Kinnear Reid, who for five years has worked hard to make the Collegiate team what it has been. "Jack" Hazlett and Walter Hazlett, the two heavy men of the team, have both gone to Queen's this season. These players are a great loss to the Collegiate, but they are not leaving the city but are going a step higher in the world of sport. Kinnear Reid will be a great loss when the hockey comes on, as he was always there with the goods and always delivered them just when the team needed them. It is not known whether he will join Queen's or not but it is expected he will. If he does not, however, he will perhaps be out with the Frontenacs.

Rugby practices are being held three times a week and the boys are showing the result of the fine training given them by their principal, E. O. Sliter, and G. R. Dolan. They are having work in the gymnasium on some of the days during the week. This training will help a great deal. The team will have quite a while yet to practice before their first game and they are taking advantage of the opportunity. It will keep both the Cadets and Queen's going to beat the Collegiates from present appearances.

Notes on Sports.

There is a rumor that the O.R.F.U. will not have a senior series.

"Bull" Jarvis, at quarter, for the Toronto Argonauts, looks a certainty.

Gall, Lawson and Foulds are working every afternoon with 'Varsity in preparation for the old boys' game next week.

After a stormy meeting at the Russell house, the Ottawa Football Club rejected the invitation to amalgamate with the Ottawa Rowing Club.

Arnoldi, the middle wing of the R.M.C. team, last season, is out with Toronto A.A.C., and will play Saturday for the crimson against the Tigers in Hamilton.

Ishister, who proved himself such a capable general last season, when he led the Hamilton Tigers to the championship of the Interprovincial Football Union, will again have the honor of leading the jungle kings.

Pertram Stronach, who has been in British Columbia for the past two years, is expected back in Ottawa this week. Whether the flying Scot will play football or not, however, remains to be seen. He may turn out in time to get into the latter season games.

"We will have a light team this year," said Rev. Father Stanton, of Ottawa College, "but it will be a heady little bunch, and while I am not looking for any championship contender, I believe we will prove a very difficult proposition for the other three clubs."

Capt. Johnston, is back at McGill, looking over the squad, and the hardest blow he has received is the statement from the great plunging wing Daniel Gilmore, that he is through with the game. With Matheson gone and Gilmore a spectator, McGill not only loses two of their best wing players, but two of the best in the game.

Members of the Crescent Yacht Club, of Watertown, will, during the winter, attempt to make the Watertown, the new twenty-footer of the club fleet, which was defeated for the George cup, at Toronto, more seaworthy by adding nine hundred pounds of outside ballast. More ballast, it is believed, will overcome a tendency to fall away in a reefing breeze.

Class at the Armouries.

A class is being held in the Armouries for the officers and men of the Fourteenth Regiment to qualify. It is not only for the men of the regiment, but for any young man in the city, who desires to take a military training. It is hoped that a number will take advantage of the opportunity given them. A sergeant-instructor is now in the city in connection with this class, and he is looked upon as being one of the best in the business. The next class will be held on Thursday evening.

At Paris, an auto ambulance, with twenty tourists inside, while going over Bridge Archevesche, on Wednesday morning crashed through a parapet into the Seine river and all were drowned like rats in a trap.

Theatrical powders and grease paints, etc., at McLeod's Drug Stores.

The closed cars are again on the route. The people are pleased to see them again, as it is very cool to ride in the early part of the day and at night on the open cars.
