TENDER A DAY LATE

ALTHOUGH OPENING WAS DEFERRED FIVE WEEKS.

City Council Will be Asked to Decide if W. J. Savage's Tender for Painting City Hall Should be Accepted.

The city council next Monday evening will be asked to decide as to whether the tender of W. J. Savage for the painting of the interior of the city hall should be accepted, instead of that of T. W. Milo, who received the recommendation of the city property committee on Wednesday afternoon.

It seems that late last spring, the committee called for tenders for the painting, but the time was most inopportune. One tender only was received from T. McMahon & Co., for over $900. It was then decided to call again for tenders, and according to the city clerk's memorandum, the time fixed for the closing of the tenders was August 31st. There was no advertisement for tenders, cards being sent out to the local painters. When the committee met on the afternoon of August 31st only one tender was in the hands of the city clerk. The committee decided to make no award at the time.

On Wednesday last, the committee took up the matter of tenders again. Two tenders were with the clerk, and they proved to be from T. W. Milo for $536 and from W. J. Savage for $474. It was found that the tender of Mr. Savage was dated September 1st, and also his deposit cheque. As the tender was received a day later than the time of closing, the committee decided not to accept it, and accordingly the contract was recommended to be given Mr. Milo.

Mr. Savage states that the reason his tender was not put in on August 31st was because he was very busy. He thought that the date of closing was September 1st.

Left for the West.

Colonel Sam Hughes Fixed.

It is said, in well-informed circles, that Col. Sam Hughes, who was anxious to be minister of militia in Borden's cabinet, has been spared by the promise of being appointed an honorary A.D.C. to the Duke of Connaught. It is not thought that more than one A.D.C. for each province will be appointed.

Looking for Shelter.

Now that the cool weather has arrived, the police will be called upon to give shelter to the poor unfortunate who have no money, and who have no place to go. Last night the first applicant of the season was received, and was given the best accommodation the station affords, a hard-wood bench beside the stove.

Late Marine Notes.

Some vessels on their way to Kingston, with grain, have been delayed by the storm. The week has been a very rough one on the lakes. The steamer Dunelm, loaded with package freight, will arrive in Kingston, to-night, on her way up. The steamer Gordon, which has been discharging damaged grain, at Richardson's elevator, will clear to-night for Toronto.

Girls' Worthy Work.

A number of young girls, among them Elsie Birley, Violet Birley, Margaret Jordan, Vera Shaw, Patricia Forrester and Marjory Murray, gave a fancy work and candy sale on the lawn of William Birley, Alfred street, last Saturday afternoon, in aid of the Kingston General Hospital. The sum of $8.21 was realized. The hospital staff is very grateful for the children's help, and assure them that their money will be spent to good advantage.

A PANIC AVERTED

In the Orpheum Theatre Thursday Evening.
Thursday evening, about nine o'clock, just after the vaudeville had started and the house was filled to capacity, a scuffle was heard in the back of the hall and all the people stood up on their seats. Many thought that a fire had started as the house was plunged in total darkness by all the electric lights going out. When the scuffle was over, Manager Lynn mounted the stage and told the audience that he had caught a party deliberately blowing out the fuses on the electric light current, and that he had forcibly ejected the one who had nearly created the panic.

SILVER-MOUNTED CANE

Presented to Rev. John Mackie by Foresters.

The lodge room of Court Frontenac lodge, No. 59, I.O.F., was filled, on Thursday evening, when the formal farewell was said to Rev. John Mackie, D.D., who is leaving the city soon for the old country. As a tribute of the esteem in which he is held by the members he was presented with a silver-mounted cane suitably engraved. The presentation was made by Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, who referred, in a feeling manner, to the service which the departing member had rendered the order.

A suitable reply was made by the recipient who, in a reminiscent manner, referred to the time he entered the order and to the period he had served them as high chief ranger. He stated that he didn't intend to sever his connection with Kingston entirely but that he expected to return and visit the court in the future.

Present Whims

Are Often Satisfied at the Expense of Future Comfort

Men who, during their working years, live up to their incomes regardless of the future, are likely, in their declining years, to be in sore need of those comforts which should be the portion of the aged. The greatest of these comforts is a home, owned and paid for. Innumerable men spend on an average a half a dollar a day in needless indulgences. That money saved, would in ten years, buy them modest homes. You hear on all sides the cry of prosperity. Are you enjoying your share? Possibly you are held back by the extravagant practice of paying rent. If so, right-about-face and examine at once our list of homes for sale.
