

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S

STUDENTS' BAND PREPARING FOR THE RUGBY GAME.

An Excursion to Ottawa Next Saturday—The Tennis Tournament Begins Next Monday.

The students' band held its first practice of the season Thursday afternoon at five o'clock, in Convocation Hall. It is expected that with another practice Friday afternoon the band will be in good shape for the first rugby game Saturday afternoon between Queen's and Varsity. This is the cortege of musicians which dispensed such soothing music at all the games last year, and which accompanied the team on some of its excursions. The band is just such an inspiration to the rugbyists as the Rovers' club, headed by the 14th band, was to the Frontenac hockey team. "Bobby" Orwell, the master drummer, who displayed such wonderful talent, will undoubtedly have control of the sticks again this year, and "Larry" Williams will again direct the unbounded energy of the organization.

The students are preparing for an excursion to Ottawa, a week from Saturday when the rugby team will go down to the capital to try conclusions with the wearers of the garnet and grey.

The tennis tournament will begin next Monday. This is an event which is being looked forward to with interest. A large number of the contestants are practising daily.

The laying of the corner stone of the Nicol building on Oct. 18th, will be one of the big events of the fall. The name of Dr. James Douglas is dear to the heart of every Queen's student and he will be welcomed here as the one who is to perform the function of handling the silver trowel.

J. Calvin Macfarlane, son of the clergyman of Franktown, has been appointed a fellow in history at Queen's. He is a very young but very highly gifted student and historical researcher, keen at mastering archives and collecting facts and putting them into 19th century attire.

The following is contributed by the university Music and Drama committee: Shakespeare Recital (shades of Henry, Irving!)

"A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

Such a feeling exists between the Queen's music and drama committees and some citizens of Kingston since the memorable evening of Oct. 5th—the evening on which they were sold. To be sold is not at all pleasant, all will admit, but a sell carried on single-handed with such celerity, suavity and sleekness as was the case on this occasion, cannot but excite the admiration even of those who were taken in.

What damned error but some sober brow will bless it, and hail it, a big, bold, brazen fellow! The skillful promoter used a powerful weapon in this university city when he flourished the all-compelling name of Shakespeare. He had cut a wide swath through the city before he reached your humble servants, but he got his pound of flesh from us also.

"Will be recorded for a precedent."

An Accident on King Street. This morning a gentleman who resides on King street west was coming into the city and when opposite Macdonald park, the wind blew his new hat off and an automobile which was passing ran over it. As it was one of Campbell's celebrated guaranteed Buckley hats, it was replaced free of charge. These guaranteed Buckley hats as well as the other leading makes, are to be had in Kingston only at Campbell Bros., the style centre for men's hats.

Classes of Qualification. A class is being held every night, with exceptions of Wednesday, for the officers and men of the 14th Regiment, wishing to qualify. There are about twenty-five in the class, and all enjoy the training they are getting. It is expected that the class will last for about three months. The men are supposed to attend at least two classes a week. There will be a larger number of qualified officers and men for the regiment when it resumes drill next season.

Queen's Track Meet Soon. Queen's University track team had a slight workout, Thursday evening at the athletic field, but owing to the chill wind blowing, the athletes could not do much. Next week when the heaviest of the rugby practice is over, Physical Director Hewes will have an opportunity to meet the boys and do something to assist them. The date of the track meet here has not been decided yet, but will probably be held on the 13th or 20th, and the winners will represent the college at the Collegiate track meet in Montreal on October 30th.

Must Do the Work. A number of sanitary cases were on the docket again at the police court, on Friday morning, and further adjourned as the work in the majority of the cases is being proceeded with. In the other cases, the parties will be notified that they must proceed with the work. A week ago the magistrate imposed a fine on a citizen for neglecting to go on with the work, and some stiff fines are promised if the slate is not soon cleaned off.

Soft Hats for Comfort. Never before have we had such an extensive variety of soft hats and never before has there been such a demand for them. They are ideal hats for cool days. Special values in cloth and velvet materials, at $1.25, $1.50, and $2.00, at George Mills & Co's, Princess street.

Death of Halifax Citizen. On Friday morning, Mrs. J. M. Lanos, Queen street, received a telegram, announcing the death on Thursday evening of her brother-in-law, William Chisholm, who had been ill for some months. The deceased was consoled for the past thirty years with the Cunard Steamship company office at Halifax.

Let's be reasonable. The sick stomach is in every case the result of over-eating, hurried mastication and improper choice of foods. The mucous lining all the way down the food tract loses its sensitiveness, and when food is forced down the muscles fail to respond. They do not churn the food as they should. The glands no longer give out gastric juices to dissolve the food and render it capable of assimilation. The man has become a dyspeptic. There is one sure way and only one to bring positive relief. Put into that stomach of yours the very elements that it lacks to get that food into liquid form. It takes pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other elements to accomplish this. The healthy stomach contains these elements. The dyspeptic stomach lacks part or all of them. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is made up of just what the dyspeptic stomach lacks—Nature's digestives. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine, not a drug, not a cathartic. They do not cure anybody or anything but Dyspepsia and Indigestion and such ailments as arise from poorly digested food. While they digest the food the stomach recaptures. The mucous membrane is coming out of its stupor, the gastric juice is coming to the surface, the muscles are regaining their power. Every organ of the body takes on new life, the skin gains color, and the eyes are no longer tinged with yellow. You live. Why doctor and why drug yourself? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of your food while Nature cures you. Try a box at your druggist's, 50c. ### QUEEN'S RUGBY TEAM TO MEET VARSITY IS NOT YET CHOSEN.

Some of the Likely Players—The Queen's Back Team an Unknown Quantity—Track Meet on 13th or 20th.

Queen's first and second rugby teams went to the Athletic field Thursday afternoon instead of practicing on the lower campus, where they have been drilled all week. The prospects for a good showing to-morrow against Varsity are good but the wearers of the tri-color have a lot of things to learn yet. Their most outstanding fault is failure to judge catches, a most serious thing. It was their weakness in the game last Saturday, and if they lose the game to-morrow, this failure will undoubtedly play a large part in it. Their punting is fair, but the speed of the back division requires to be faster than it is. Failure to get away with the ball before being tackled nearly always proves disastrous.

The regular meeting of the Frontenac chess board, on Thursday afternoon, and upon invitation of the members referred to his recent trip to the old country, where he went to look into the dairy trade, and he gave some timely tips to the dairymen. His remarks were listened to with keen interest and at the close he was extended the thanks of the board.

Mr. Publow says that he went to the old land to see how the Canadian cheese was being received there and to see just what class of cheese was bringing the best price. He had the pleasure of paying a visit to all the large centres in England and Scotland, where Canadian cheese was shipped. He was pleased to find that Canadian cheese compared favorably with that of any other country.

He would say that the best of the Scotch make was superior to that made in Canada, but in saying so he did not wonder at it, after he had made an investigation, and found just how things were carried on in the Scotch factories. Special attention was paid to the factories, all the facilities available being used for cleanliness. The cheese most desired was close boring cheese with a mild flavor.

Continuing, Mr. Publow stated that he had had few complaints about Canadian cheese, but when there was a complaint there was ample reason for it. Cheese tasting too much of acid sold for less money. A common complaint about the cheese sent out from Canada was that of its openness. It had a poor appearance, was likely to mould, and would never bring the best price.

Regarding the cheese boxes, a great deal of complaint has been made regarding the condition in which the boxes arrived in the old country. On the steamer the speaker made the trip upon, there were 9,000 boxes, and upon arrival he had taken the trouble to make an investigation, and found that the men on the boats took a great deal of pains to see there was no breakage. Everything possible was done to safeguard the boxes. Many of the boxes were found to be loose-fitting. They should be made to fit the cheese reasonably well. Some sent from here had been found to come up above the cheese. Consequently, these cheeses would sell for less money than others in good condition, sent from this district, in some cases four cents less. If some of the dairymen could have made an inspection, he felt sure that they would not allow the boxes to go over in this condition again.

Some of the cheese made here, in the warm weather, would not have stood the test, but for the rising markets. It had been a good thing for Ontario, that the markets remained high, otherwise there would have been serious complaints about the condition of the cheese. The question to be considered, was as to whether the good prices would continue to prevail. The speaker felt that it was possible to keep up the heavy consumption of cheese, just as long as the best quality was turned out. There was always a ready sale for the best cheese, and nothing to be feared along this line.

There was no other country for Canada to imitate when it came to making cheese; all that was necessary, was to make the best grade, and there would always be a good demand for it.

Some dealers were found, who worked up a trade in undergrades, but it was not advisable to send them. Some complaints were made about the cheese being too heavy. They should not go over eighty pounds, except they were to be used for show, in a window. For the most part, women were in charge of the shops in the old country, and they could not handle the heavy cheese. Flat cheese was in great demand, and a great many were making it in the old country, but it brought no greater price, and he did not think it would be worth while entering to it.

There was a most serious complaint about the fall make, that it would not strip well. He would advise all makers to hold the cheese a long time before shipping. He had seen a fine quality of cheese was shipped from there.

TIPS FOR DAIRYMEN

G. G. PUBLOW SPEAKS ABOUT TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY.

Pointed out to Members of Frontenac Cheese Board Result of His Recent Tour of Inspection—Canadian Cheese Well Received.

G. G. Publow, chief dairy inspector for Eastern Ontario, was present at the regular meeting of the Frontenac cheese board, on Thursday afternoon, and upon invitation of the members referred to his recent trip to the old country, where he went to look into the dairy trade, and he gave some timely tips to the dairymen. His remarks were listened to with keen interest and at the close he was extended the thanks of the board.

AT BROCKVILLE CONVENTION

Sunday Schools Will be Well Represented.

The superintendents of the city Sunday schools held a meeting in the First Baptist Church on Thursday evening. Arrangements are being made in each school, to send a large number of delegates to the Brockville convention, so that the Kingston schools may get the education and inspiration of this gathering. The convention will be held on October 24th to 26th, October 25th will be the banner day, and those who cannot get away for the three days are urged to go on Wednesday, if possible. If a good number will go, single fare will be secured on the railway.

Road Foreman's Troubles.

The foreman on the streets to be paved is having quite a time with the drivers of rigs who persist in driving over the dug-up roads. The foreman had a barricade at each end of the street and the rigs will even then deliberately drive right over the road. The company in charge of the work has these barricades to protect themselves in case of an accident. If a horse was hurt in driving over the roads the company would be responsible for the damage. On Thursday afternoon, a rig belonging to a coal dealer, came along and the driver was asked to stop and go around the other way, but he would not, and still persisted in driving right over the road which had just been dug up. The foreman caught the horse by the head and tried to hold it back, but the driver made the horse go over the bad road.
