MOSLEMS ARE URGED

BY THEIR PRIESTS TO ARISE AGAINST ITALY.

Turkish Women Giving Jewels and Carpets to Equip Forces—To Fight to the Last.

London, Oct. 6.—The Chronicle's correspondent at Constantinople telegraphs that women are giving jewels, carpets and other valuable possessions to the fund for equipping the Turkish forces. Priests in the mosques are urging Moslems to arise against the Italians.

Conflicts between Turks and Germans are reported at Adena, where the men are working on a tunnel connecting with the Baghdad railroad.

The same correspondent reports an interview with Kiamil Paeha, who was three grand vizier, who is quoted as saying: "We relied upon treaty alliance when Italy pointed upon us without warning. We then appealed to Great Britain, but she, unfortunately, was too judicious to advise Germany was appealed to, but replied that it was too late. We will never abandon Tripoli. Fight we must until honorable peace shall come. We shall fight until the last unless the powers find a means to bring the war to a close. The present cabinet is as bad as the last, and cannot be continued long. It has been suggested that I be made grand vizier. The proposal must come from the sultan, then I would consider it. I saw him to-day; he looks well and bears his troubles bravely. He hopes that there is yet time to stop unnecessary bloodshed."

KILLED BY CANNIBALS

DETAILS OF THE FATE OF EXPLORING PARTY

Who Met Death in Northern Papua—A Horrible Feast Was Made of Human Beings.

Moulbourne, Australia, Oct. 6.—The graphic narrative of a conflict which occurred between a party of Australians and cannibals of northern Papua, has just been received here.

A prospecting party, consisting of thirty members, recently started out to explore the country of northern Papua. They chartered a small steamer, which they left at the coast, and then proceeded into inland and mountain regions. The natives, who accompanied the expedition from the coast, were quiet until they were several days' journey up the river. Then they became aggressive and in the ensuing fight shot poisonous arrows, killing several of the adventurers. The natives afterwards made a horrible feast of the remains of the victims.

The survivors of the prospecting party fought bravely. They escaped the natives, and cutting their way through the tangled undergrowth, succeeded after marching day and night in reaching the river. Here they hastily made a raft of logs, working under a constant flight of arrows shot by the natives who had pursued them.

Finally, they took to the river in the darkness. Their raft was carried down the stream by the swift current to the coast, where they found that their little schooner had in the meantime been buffeted by bad weather and had foundered. All hands were therefore, compelled to skirt the coast to reach the nearest settlement, at which they arrived almost starved, and their clothing torn to rags.

A punitive expedition of native police commanded by a magistrate, has been despatched to the cannibal's camp.

VARSITY RUGBY TEAM HERE.

The Players Arrived From Toronto on Friday Afternoon.

The Varsity rugby team, to play with Queen's here Saturday, arrived in the city Friday afternoon on the last train. It is expected that an excursion will be brought down Saturday. This will give the interest and tend to make the game much larger.

With two rival factions racing for their respective teaming things, should be mighty interesting Saturday. The Varsity players are at the Randolph hotel.

The Varsity line-up will be: Full back, McDonald; halves, Ramsay, Dale, Maynard or Frith; curts, Campbell; scrumming, Curtis, Bell, Knight; inside wings, Clarke, Cory; middle wings, Grass, German; outside wings, Sinclair, Boddy.

It is likely that George Richardson, Kingston, and Dr. R. K. Patterson, Ottawa, will be the officials at the Queen's Varsity game.

The Toronto Telegram says: Varsity expect to have a very tough proposition in Queen's. It is figured that their team play, the running of their back division and their all round great tackling will earn the victory, however, Queen's are very strong individually. Leckie is a great punter. They have speed and fast wicket and will improve very rapidly under Britton's coaching. They are always a tough proposition for the blue and white, and Saturday will not likely prove to be an exception in this regard.

BARONESS MACDONALD

COMMENTS UPON THE DEFEAT OF RECIPROCIITY.

Arm Chair Used for Years by Sir John A. Macdonald Has Been Presented to Premier-Elect Borden.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The following regarding Kingdon's most distinguished son, appears in a Canadian Associated press cable today:

Baroness Macdonald, commenting on the recent elections, says: "I hadn't dared to hope for such a sweeping answer from the people of Canada to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attempt to separate Canada from the Empire and by his reciprocity policy to pave the way for annexation and absorption. I feared not only the lure of certain undoubted advantages which Canada in her loyalty has so grandly ignored, but the influence of American money, which was sure to be freely used to secure, if possible, the policy America desired to see fully carried out. The imperial policy, to which my husband's long and strenuous life was entirely devoted, has been magnificently justified, sustained and carried by the root of the party he had ever fought against, even to the last. His voice was silenced twenty-one years ago, and his powerful personal influence is gone forever, but I feel he is still speaking as I read of the frontier cheers and wide congratulations which greeted the success of his imperial policy."

An unique armchair, used for years by Sir John A. Macdonald, and which came into the possession of George A. Kingston, secretary of the Borden Club, has been presented to R. E. Borden. Some years ago he asked Mr. Borden when he should be premier of Canada, to accept the present of the chair. Mr. Borden gave a ready assent, and the chair has now been sent to Ottawa.

WAS BORN IN KINGSTON.

Late J. F. Fraser, Formerly Commissioner of Lights.

A despatch from Ottawa states that John Frederic Fraser, formerly commissioner of lights in connection with the Canadian marine department, was found dead.

The late Mr. Fraser was born in Kingston, and was the son of Capt. Samuel Fraser, who once kept a floating drydock, where the Davis' shipyard is now located. He graduated at the Royal Military College in 1892, after which he entered the Canadian government service. In the marine department investigation a couple of years ago, Mr. Fraser, unfortunately, became involved in regard to giving contracts a certain company in which the deputy-minister was interested, and the result was that he resigned his position.

The Ottawa despatch says: The body was discovered in Rockcliffe Park. He had been missing from his home since Monday and probably committed suicide, though an inquest must be held to decide that question. This is scheduled for Monday next, but will probably prove a case of poisoning self-administered. Lately the said had been in New York. Fraser was quite prominent in church affairs here and very well known. He had written a letter to the local police, stating where the body was likely to be found.

LAURIER HAS LEFT THE CABINET ROOM

Hon. R. L. Borden Asked to Form a New Government.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—At three o'clock this afternoon, Sir Wilfrid Laurier placed the resignations of himself and colleagues in the hands of the governor-general and his excellency immediately sent for Mr. Borden, premier-elect, and asked him to form a new government. The proceedings were very simple.

It was one o'clock before the Laurier cabinet had concluded its business. Immediately afterwards the members filed out and left the building. Sir Wilfrid staying just long enough to say good-bye to his departmental staff, with whom he had worked for fifteen years.

After luncheon Sir Wilfrid drove to Government House as soon as an appointment could be made. Mr. Borden had been apprised of the situation and left for Government House immediately with the summons came.

With just a few words from the king's representative in Canada the old government stepped out and the new one stepped in.

"Ken" Williams has been notified by the firm by which he is employed, of his transfer back to Montreal, from Toronto. He will play Saturday's game against Tigers but will probably be found with the Montreal team for the remainder of the season.

Died at Lowell, Mass.

Word was received in the city of the death of Miss Minnie Patterson, daughter of Robert Patterson, formerly of the city, now of Sudbury. The death occurred at Lowell, Mass., where she was training for a nurse. The remains will arrive on Saturday and the funeral will take place to Cataragui cemetery.

VIGOROUS ADDRESSES

Given at the Ecumenical Conference in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Unusually interesting and enthusiastic was the address of Bishop Burt at the ecumenical conference to-day. Bishop Burt's address stirred the delegates as no other speech has as yet done, while Rev. Thomas Hourt, of France, spoke eloquently and effectively. Both made a strong arraignment of the Roman Catholic church in Italy and France, and their statements were backed up by other residents of these countries.

Dr. Butler, of Mexico, also declared himself in strong terms. So great was the desire for discussion at the close of the addresses that not one half of those desiring to speak obtained the president's eye.

Further debate on church union this morning gave evidence that the overseas and United States Methodists were by no means unanimously in accord with Canadian Methodism on this principle.

SNEAK THIEF STOLE $5

From the Till of a Brock Street Store.

The cashier of a Brock street store is keeping both eyes open for a young man whom she is sure took five dollars from the shop till a couple of days ago. The fellow came in to price an article, and after haggling a bit, asked permission to go behind the counter to write a note. Permission was given, and the cashier went to the rear of the store for a minute. Later she discovered that she was short five dollars. The failure of the young man to make further arrangements about the article he wanted strengthened the belief that he took the money. He is known by sight, and would do well to return the money.

The harness was damaged some, and the shafts were broken by the horse falling on them.
