WHAT IS THE UNIVERSAL TEA BALL TEAPOT?

It is the only teapot which you can make a perfect cup of tea.

HOW TO USE IT—NOTHING SIMPLER.

Place tea in the tea ball draw up and down two or three times in freshly boiled water, and secure ball in top of cover, which is held by small lock in chain. The result is perfect tea, which you can get in no other way. We have them in two different styles.

$3.50 to $4.00.

QUEEN'S-VARSITY GAME

THE LINE-UP OF THE QUEEN'S TEAM GIVEN.

It is about the same as last Saturday—Queen's B. and Cadets Meet at Royal Military College Campus.

The line-up of the first rugby team of Queen's to meet Varsity on Saturday afternoon is almost the same as last Saturday. Pound is a fixture at full-back; Greg, George will replace Hazlett as right-half, with Leslie centre and Macdonnell, left. McNeill will be given a chance at quarter, while the forwards line will be scrimmage, McLeod, Barker and McIlquhan. Barker is an old rugbyist, and has only been out a few times with the team this year. The wings are: Outside, Smith and Sitter; middle, Erskine and Hazlett; inside, Young and Kinella.

The intermediate game will be played at the Royal Military College between R. M. C. I. and Queen's. The R. M. C. team has not been working very much this season, but all the time they have been working hard to get into shape. The following players will represent the Royal Military College: Lawson, Taylor, Carruthers, McAuley, Haskett, Mallory, Morphy, Greenwood, Storms, Pearce, Shoemaker, Gwynne, (capt), Roberts, Sweeney.

Queen's players will be: Milan, Donovan, Twigg, (capt.), Blakeley, Birkett, Raitt, Matthews, Macgregor, McLaughlin, Smith, Watts, Aird, Ellis, Laing. The spars will be: Atwood, Putnam, Harkness and Wells. The officials for the game will be G. R. Dixon and Lindsay Malcolm.

To Remain in Kingston.

Kingston, 21 Union street, Oct. 6.—(To the Editor): In reference to your note of last Monday's issue, on my leaving for the North-West, I beg to say that conditions not being favorable to me, I shall not be going to Saskatchewan. I have given up the pastorate of Portsmouth Methodist church, but hope to still remain in the city. May I take this opportunity of thanking my numerous friends for their very kind enquiries, and the many expressions of good will which has come to me?—W. H. HALL.

Well Patronized.

Owing to largely increasing patronage at the Wonderland Theatre it has been decided to give afternoon entertainments, as well as evening, in future, beginning on Monday next. The services of Miss Nina May, an English vocalist, have been secured. She has been singing in New York with marked success, and consequently her appearance here will be awaited with considerable interest. She will sing to-night for the first time in Kingston.

Passenger steamer Missouri reported stranded at Round Island in St. Mary's river.

SATURDAY "TAG DAY"

LIBERAL OFFERING FOR GENERAL HOSPITAL.

Ladies Were at Street Corners Early in Morning to Carry on Work—Expected Last Year's Amount Will be Exceeded—Sum of $1,175 Collected Year Ago.

Did you ever get "tagged" on Saturday? If not, why not? If you were out on the street at all, for at least a minute, and did not get "tagged," then you must have been "tagged" the saying goes, for with such an army of "taggers" engaged in making a collection for the general hospital, a most worthy cause, it was indeed a most difficult task to escape.

Bright and early, on Saturday morning, the young ladies and girls, who were out on the street corners, and it was a case of pay, pay. Not "pay as you enter," as in some street corners, but pay as you pass by. Pay early and often. The ladies report having collected a very liberal sum, and it is expected that when the day's work is over, a good amount will be on hand for the work of the hospital.

Last year the sum of $1,175 was collected on "tag-day," but it is fully expected that this amount will be exceeded this year. Friday night, it is looked as if the weather man was against the "taggers," and their work but on Saturday morning, Old Sol came out in all his glory, and gave the ladies an ideal day. The ladies worked hard, but by noon nearly every person to be seen on the street was wearing the little tag with the red cross with the words, "Hospital tag day, 1911."

One would hardly believe it, but it was amusing to see how some men—shame on them, too—endeavored to give the young ladies the slip. It was really awful to be expected that such a thing. Some men would dodge around a corner, expecting to escape, but at the next corner, he would be "held up" by other "taggers."

Many tried to get down town without being caught, and jumped on street cars, but the young ladies were good runners, and several were caught before they got on the car, and had to open wide their purse strings. Everyone took the fun good-naturedly, however.

The market square was the headquarters for a large number of "taggers," and the farmers very liberal with their offering.

Drivers of coal wagons, and delivery rigs, thought they would be able to pass by without being caught, but it was no go. Even the deep mud on some of the streets did not prevent the ladies from getting right out after them. "Cabbies" were brought down off their boxes—in fact every person from the school to the millionaire, was called upon to give his share for the good of the cause.

GLAD SUNDAY.

I'm glad there is one day for resting, one day the tired man weary questing for bones, and still more bones. I'm glad to see the people finding their way to church and pew to own, when he may cease his hear a tale of love mending and grace for me and you. It rests one's soul to hear the ringing of the church bells here and there, to hear the organ nobly flinging its music to the air. The tiresome talk of trade's unspoken, store window shades are down; a stillness, soothing and unbroken, is resting on the town, save where some ancient dame is crowning a hymn she used to sing, before her life had reached its noon, and love had taken wings, save where the children, strange to sorrow, find Sunday dull and gray, and wait a longing for to-morrow, where they can run and play. I'm glad there is one day of resting, when wheels have ceased to hum, and all the bartering and jostling and growly lips are done. One blessed day, one day in seven, a boon to have and hold! One day to think of hymns and heaven, forgetting guile and gold.—Walt Mason.

COULD NOT GET QUORUM.

Business Waterworks Committee Had to Stand Over.

A meeting of the waterworks committee was called for Friday afternoon, but there was no quorum, and as a result, the business of the committee had to stand over. Ald. Carson, the chairman, with Ald. Hanley and Litton; were the only members who put in an appearance, and as there was special business for which the chairman wishes to have all the members present, no business was transacted.

Ald. Carson states that this was the first time this year that his committee had been unable to get a quorum, so no doubt the absent members can be excused for this one occasion, when they were conspicuous by their absence, for it is certainly a good record for a committee to have a meeting every time the committee was called.

Seine Threatens to Dry Up.

Paris, Oct. 7.—Contrary to last year's freak when the Seine threatened to engulf the city, the famous river was now gone down so low as to seem on the point of drying up altogether. The bed of the river can be clearly seen even through the muddy water. The boats move along with difficulty, their propellers churning the mud. If the river should dry up in Paris it would mean a new disaster.

Latest War News.

Two Italian cruisers shelled town of St. Jeanne de Medina, and sank several Turkish warships. Italian warships are removing mines from harbor at Tripoli, so expected transports may enter safely. Police at Tripoli have offered allegiance to Italian government.

A WARNING IS GIVEN

BY THE GANANOQUE BOARD OF TRADE.

That a Butcher is Selling Light Weight Meat—South Leeds Sunday School Convention—Thomas Bell Injured.

Gananoque, Oct. 7.—The board of trade met Thursday evening. The secretary was authorized to acknowledge the present of a handsome photograph, some five feet long, of the harbor at Honolulu, and also a bound volume of the details of the last Hawaiian chamber of commerce, presented by Gerald Doekus, a former Gananoquean, located at Honolulu for some twenty years.

In the prize amateur lawn competition, Rev. J. T. Picher, one of the judges, being ill and unable to attend to it, J. T. Green was appointed in his stead. The secretary was instructed to call the attention of the town council to the violation of the by-law regarding the use of bicycles on the sidewalks.

The secretary was also authorized to notify the "Press" of the fact that a local butcher has been selling light weight, proof being presented to the board warranting this statement, which is made for the benefit of the citizens in order that they may note of any further shortage in this line.

In the matter of the unsanitary manner in which fresh meats are handled while being removed from the refrigerator cars to the shops of the local dealers, the secretary was instructed to ask the town council to call the attention of the sanitary inspector to this fact, with a request that he take such action as to improve the matter.

Considerable discussion took place as to the advisability of the board of trade conducting a turkey fair some time in December. It was decided to do so, and Messrs George K. Taylor, W. J. Winson, Michael McFarland and F. J. Skinner were appointed to take charge.

The production of the humorous play, "All the Comforts of Home," under the management and direction of Irving Beers, with local talent employed in the characters, under the auspices of the Canoe and Motor Boat Association, was largely attended at the Opera House on Thursday and Friday evening and the consensus of opinion is that the performance was very creditable.

The ninth annual convention of the South Leeds Sunday school association was held at St. Andrew's church yesterday and a goodly number of delegates were in attendance at the morning session, 10:30 a. m. Rev. H. Gracey conducted the devotional exercises and was followed by reports of officers and appointing of committees.

Mrs. G. Redmond gave a paper on "How to Get the Boys to Work in Sunday School." At the afternoon session, Rev. E. R. Kelly, Lansdowne, conducted the devotional exercises and was followed by Mrs. E. L. Dickey, whose paper, "Modern Methods in Primary Work" was admirable.

A round table conference was led by Rev. E. W. Halpeny, B.A., general secretary. Rev. Mr. Fisher also gave an inspiring address on the "Influence of the Sunday School on the Community." Discussions during the day along the various lines were keen and interesting.

The election of officers resulted: President, J. A. Jackson; vice-presidents, J. C. Linklater, W. J. Thompson, J. Darling, A. Hutchinson, J. Franklin, T. Cummings, R. Lowkes; secretary-treasurer, D. F. Warren; home department, W. P. Moore.

At the evening session the united choirs of Grace and St. Andrew's churches furnished music. The new officers were installed. T. F. Harrison, Kingston, president of the Ontario Sunday school Association, gave a splendid address on "What Place and Part Ought Sunday Schools to Have in Ingrading Missionary Work" and "The Making of a Leader," by Rev. E. W. Halpeny, general secretary.

A Physical Wreck

Suffered Tortures from Nervousness. Miss Margaret Lee, 31 Robert St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was a wreck, reduced in body, and despondent. I suffered tortures from nervousness, and was totally unfitted for work. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I commenced taking it and by the time the second bottle was consumed I knew that I was mending. Gradually I grew well. I have used Hood's since. I would not be without it on any account, and do most enthusiastically endorse every word in its favor."
