WOMAN'S BRAVE DEED

SAVED HER BABY BOY FROM DEATH AT OTTAWA.

But Sustained Such Severe Injury That One of Her Legs May Have to be Amputated—Once Lived in Kingston.

An Ottawa despatch says Mrs. David Lafrenier nearly gave her life for her baby boy at noon on the interprovincial bridge. The little cot got in front of a rapidly advancing car. The mother sprang out and pulled the box off the truck in time, but was struck herself. One foot was badly crushed and the other leg broken so badly that it will likely have to be amputated. The baby's hand came from Kingston some years ago and it is understood the wife also was a former Kingstonian.

The rescue was one of the most sensational ever seen here and marks the mother as an exceptionally brave woman. The boy was only scratched.

AT BETHEL CHURCH.

George Mills, president, assisted by Messrs. McEwen and Davis, T. F. Harrison, president of the Ontario Sunday School Union, was the invited speaker, and he gave a fine talk with the use of black board. His address was summed up in the words, "Go Right On Working For Us, Church and City, Singing, Speaking and Shaking."

Mr. Lehman, A.C.E. worker, Boston, headquarters, addressed the 250 scholars present, making apt use of illustrations that caught the boys.

Miss Gertrude Holland and Miss Woolgar sang beautiful solos and the scholars sang many hymns.

Attractive Wind & Display.

One of the best window displays in this city for some time is now on view at Henderson's grocery store, Brock street. The window is dressed with Orange Meat and Orange Mince, and the electric footlights and side-lights throw the packages into high relief. The display is original and has been specially designed and dressed by W. Edgar Body, of Cereals, Limited.

One of the attractions is the photos of two of the ponies which were given on away to the successful contestants in a former pony contest. A similar competition is now being held for the children of Canada by the manufacturers of the products on exhibition, Cereals, Limited, of this city.

ran Aground, and Was There Nearly All Night Before Getting Pulled Off—Steamer City of Hamilton's Rough Trip to Toronto—Marine Notes Around Harbor.

The steamer Advance had trouble at Swift's wharf on Sunday night owing to the low water. She was loaded with package freight on her trip up from Montreal, went aground near the wharf, and spent nearly the entire night there. She was eventually pulled off by the steamer City of Ottawa without any damage, and was able to proceed on her way. The low water was entirely to blame for the accident. Low water has been causing no end of trouble for the boats this summer.

Report from Toronto states that the steamer City of Hamilton had a very rough trip into that port on Friday last. She came from Kingston, Capt. Baxter stated that the storm as one of the worst he had ever seen on Lake Ontario. Although the boat was heavily loaded she tossed about, and over one hundred tons were upset and on one occasion a coil of copper wire weighing 3,500 pounds was overturned.

A large force of men is employed there all the time, and will be so long as the weather will permit outside work.

THE LATE MISS PATTERSON.

Remains of Deceased Nurse Interred in Cataragui Cemetery.

The remains of Miss Minnie E. Patterson, who died at Boston, Mass., arrived in Kingston Saturday noon, and were removed to the residence of Mrs. James Reid, Princess street. The deceased, a trained nurse, underwent a serious operation on Tuesday last, but complications set in against which the best medical aid was unavailing, and death was the speedy result. Dr. Walter Sherman, of Lowell, Mass., to whom Miss Patterson would shortly have been married, and Dr. W. H. Patterson, of Sudbury, who had been in constant attendance on his sister, accompanied the remains to Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Patterson, the parents; Mrs. H. J. Jones, a sister, of Sudbury, and Miss Ethel Patterson, a sister, from Montreal, arrived in the city, Saturday evening, for the funeral. The service, which was largely attended, was held, Monday morning, at Mrs. Reid's, and the funeral took place to the family plot at Cataragui cemetery. Rev. William Craig officiated.

The elaborate floral designs accompanying the body from Boston and Lowell, together with the many tributes from former Kingston friends, testified to the high esteem in which Miss Patterson was held as a nurse and as a lady of sterling qualities.
