THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S

Comment on Rugby and the Science Rush.

The football fourteen are in fine form for Saturday's battle with Ottawa College. The ladies' play was splendid, Thursday afternoon, and consequently, to-day, will be a day of rest with the Presbyterians. There will be three changes on the line-up; perhaps the most momentous move is the transfer of Leckie to his old stand at full-back; there will be a one-man change in the scrum and a double shift on the inside wings. It is believed that the proposed alterations will add infinitely to the strength of the local squad. Although to-morrow's game is already generally conceded as a Queen's victory, still the students have taken every precaution and are prepared for a keenly contested argument. It is doubtful if Leckie will give the signals on Saturday. The Queen's captain is now in line form and he will, in all probability, tear off some sensational runs.

Science '15 are surely alive. They came home in no haste. However, it was the cemetery automobile that returned the remnant of scientific youth to university property, Friday morning, after the annual clash between sophomore and freshman.

Prepared to meet their fate, the juveniles took up their position on the college campus at an early hour and with an extended heroism awaited the oncoming forces. Outnumbered by the ratio of two to one they fought both nobly and well, and it was only after the most strenuous struggle that the sciences were able to administer the coat of many colors. A strife in detail was but a re-enactment of Wednesday's performance.

Miss Alma Price and Miss Pearl Whitten are deserving of the heartiest congratulations in having been appointed to the fellowships in the department of German at the university.

Elections in year '13 arts resulted as follows: Honorary president, Prof. Morrison; president A. Whytock; vice-president, Miss Bessie Weese; secretary, S. H. McCaig; treasurer, H. Whytock; assistant secretary, Mr. Chown; orator, Mr. Adams; historian, Miss Robinson; prophet, A. C. Cameron; poetess, Nellie Merry; marshal, H. Haggard; critic, M. A. Bennett.

The following are the up-to-date results in the tennis tournament: Ladies' singles—Miss Forrester defeated Miss Brownlee, 6-8, 6-4; Miss Dyle defeated Miss Govan, 6-2, 6-3; Miss Nash defeated Miss Somerville, 6-3, 6-2; Miss Henderson defeated Miss Ford, 6-0, 6-0.

Gents' singles—Bank defeated Moxley, 6-2, 6-2; Cameron defeated Gow, 6-2, 6-0; McCausland defeated Jemmett, 4-6, 6-4, 10-8; Otto defeated Urie, 10-8, 6-1.

Gents' doubles—Harty and McCausland defeated Halliday and Otto, 8-6, 0-6, 6-8; McDonald and Urie defeated Cameron and Smythe, 6-2, 6-2.

The fellowships in the various departments have been awarded as follows: Latin, H. S. Smith; French, Frederick Whiston; political science, F. Burnett; history, J. C. McFarland; Greek, Mr. Owens.

One More Fruit Sale For Saturday we offer fifty baskets peaches, 100 baskets pears, and 500 baskets grapes from 12c. to 35c., at Carnovsky's.

"CORNER LOAFERS" BEWARE.

Young Man Was Fined $5 and Costs by Magistrate.

Magistrate Farrell is out with a big stick after "corner loafers," and they had better beware. In the police court, on Friday morning, a young man was accused of standing on a Princess street corner. He pleaded guilty, and the magistrate imposed a fine of $5 and costs.

"I hope that the police will have more of these street loafers brought before me," remarked the magistrate, in disposing of the case. "If we can clear the street, we will then be able to walk along Princess street without being annoyed by people standing around the corners and blocking the traffic."

The police receive many complaints about young men and boys loafing around the corners, and it keeps them busy telling the offenders to "move on." Just as soon as a policeman gives an order to a young fellow to move along, and continues on his beat, in nearly every case the young fellow will again stand on a sidewalk.

In future all the offenders who refuse to move on when told to do so, will be summoned to the police court.

Francis Wilson Coming. For all theatre-goers, old and young, Francis Wilson's own comedy farce, "The Bachelor's Baby," is chock full of cheerfulness. Francis Wilson wrote "The Bachelor's Baby" for himself and has drawn the character of the bachelor, as a man who is crusty, testy, rocheley fellow in the forties, whose chief abhorrence is children. Mr. Wilson has presented "The Bachelor's Baby" for three seasons, with the New York casts and production. Charles Frohman will present the popular comedienne, at the Grand on Thursday, October 19th.

SAD CASE REVEALED. Woman Very Drunk With Babe in Her Arms. People going out Stuart street, witnessed a very sad sight. At a street corner a woman, well up in years, was found lying on the ground under the influence of liquor, her baby, a year old, clinging to her. A citizen passing secured a couple of women, who were kind enough to see that the unfortunate woman and baby reached home in safety. The mother lives on King street west, and there is eight in the family. It appears that they were sent out to Canada from the old country a couple of years ago, by the California Society, and since coming here have been given assistance by St. Andrew's Society.
