INCREASE IN SALARY

ASKED FOR BY PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Petitioned Board of Education, and Deputation Waited Upon Members—Plan for General Increase Was Presented for Adoption.

At the meeting of the board of education on Thursday night, the teachers in the public schools presented a petition, asking for an increase in salary, and a deputation of teachers waited upon the board in support of the petition. Two of the teachers, Miss Emily Wilder and Miss Hoppins, addressed the board. The petition of the teachers asked that the following plan be adopted:

"That all teachers, regardless of the minimum salary at which they started, be paid on a basis being now offered to new teachers.

"For second year, city experience, $125; third year, $150; fourth year, $175; fifth year, $200.

"That the maximum salary be increased to $750, and that the members of the staff, who have reached the maximum under the present schedule, receive the new maximum after Jan. 1st."

Miss Wilder was first to address the board and she pointed out how the new plan, as mapped out by the teachers, would benefit all the members of the teaching staff, and at the same time be most reasonable. In view of the increased cost of living, the teachers asked that the maximum salary be fixed at $750, and at the same time that the board give recognition of the valuable service rendered by the teachers.

Miss Hoppins referred to the fact that it was some time ago when a number of the teachers at present on the staff graduated from the model school. They had been compelled to improve their methods, from time to time, otherwise they would have been regarded as "back numbers," and all this required extra work. The teachers did all this in order that they might be better able to serve the board. Other cities had been recognizing the service rendered by the teachers and were willing to pay for the experience. The report of the minister of education showed that the average salary for women teachers in the cities of Ontario for 1909, was $633. In Kingston the average in 1911 was $493, the average in cities in Ontario was $705; in Kingston $541. If the present plan urged by the teachers should be adopted the average in Kingston would be $600, and this would be less than other cities. The speaker felt sure that if the taxpayers of the city knew what other cities were doing for the teachers that they would have no objection, whatever, to giving the increase.

The chairman, W. J. Renton, was in the chair, and the other members of the board present were: Trustees Bennett, Craig, Anglin, Henderson, Lambert, Lyons, Macnee, McLean, Richardson, Walkem and Wallace.

Communications Read.

A number of communications were received and referred to the proper committees:

Miss Besant Dunlop, Ottawa, made application for a position as kindergarten director.

S. Harold Miller asked for a line fence between his property and Macdonald school, stating that he had been robbed of several valuable chickens. He asked that the board pay him $15 for his loss.

Miss Edith A. MacCallum, wrote extending thanks for the board's action in allowing the Young Woman's Christian Association the use of the gymnasium at the Collegiate Institute.

J. M. Birmingham made application for the position of caretaker at the new Macdonald school.

The board of governors of the School of Mining, extended an invitation to the members of the board to attend the ceremony in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of Nicol hall, on Wednesday next.

The board had only two reports to take up, that of the management and finance committee, and they were adopted. Trustee Macnee, chairman of the property committee, stated that he had no report to submit. The finance committee recommended the payment of accounts, and the report of the management committee recommended:

That Miss Laura Mills be continued as assistant in the Sydenham school kindergarten until such time as the inspector thinks the services of an assistant are unnecessary, at half-day salary.

That the request of the Hamilton Board of Education for co-operation in petitioning the department of education to change the time for holding examinations so that they will take place in the very warmest time of the year, be complied with.

Report of Nurse.

Miss Jean McCallum, nurse for the school, submitted a report of her work for the month of September. The report showed that Miss McCallum had inspected 404 pupils, and also showed that 350 pupils were suffering from defective teeth, and twenty from skin diseases. Instructions were given in 356 cases.

In connection with the report, Trustee Anglin remarked that as the figures showed that 350 pupils were already found to be suffering from defective teeth, it would go to show that nearly every child in the city, suffered in this respect.

Trustee Walkem said that this was no doubt true.

Inspector Stuart submitted his report for the month of September. The report showed a total enrollment of 2,218 pupils, an increase of sixty-six over the same month a year ago. The total daily average attendance was 1,996, an increase of fourteen over a year ago. There were thirteen complaints regarding non-attendance of pupils. Four had been dealt with by teachers and nine by the police.

The report of Principal Slier, of the Collegiate Institute, showed 368 on the roll, a decrease of thirty; average daily attendance, 325; decrease, twenty.

Strength Comes

Not From What You Eat, But From What You Digest.

A Tablet Digests a Meal—Trial Package Free.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very vat for putrefaction, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison.

What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to remove this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them as shown in their endorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act to-day and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50c. size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SUNDAY S. A. A. DINNER

HELD ON THURSDAY EVENING WAS QUITE A SUCCESS.

The Baseball Cups Were Presented—Addresses Given by Prominent Citizens—The Association Prospering.

The first annual dinner of the Sunday school amateur athletic association, held in Queen street Sunday school hall room on Thursday evening, marked the passing of the staff of officers which governed this body during the past six months, for on Thursday the executive stepped down and out of office, and a meeting will be called next week to elect a new cabinet.

The affair, thanks to the ladies who assisted, was a success. When the inner man was satisfied, attention was turned to the programme and toast list, which was prepared with care. Some of the dearest-headed business men of the city took the floor when their turn came, and complimented or put in a word of advice when it was needed. The officers of the association, who spoke, admitted the fact that the association was not all it should be, but with perseverance by those at the head of affairs, wonders would be worked. The officers who spoke called for the co-operation of everyone in the Sunday school, and an athletic association would be formed and run that the city would be proud of.

H. W. Newman, president, was the toastmaster. The first toast was to "The King." J. R. Forster was called upon to propose a toast to "Our Country." Mr. Forster's remarks were practical and applicable to the situation. His whole-souled patriotism was apparent in every sentence, and his language was clear and concise.

Robert Meek replied to this toast in a masterly manner. He dwelt not on the possessions of Canada, her greatness, nor the vastness of her resources, but spoke of what this should mean to the young citizens of this fair Dominion. He spoke on conditions in the west and urged the young men to so possess themselves of the facts that they would be able to cope with them.

T. F. Harrison, of Sydenham street Bible school, proposed the next toast "The Association." He was glad to learn that through the efforts of the association the sport of the city had been elevated, and that the association had accomplished this much at any rate. He advised the young men not to think of sport altogether, or of money, but to divide these interests to such an extent that one will be beneficial to the other.

F. H. Williams, treasurer of the association, responded. He explained the aim of the association when it was formed, what it had done during the two years of its existence, and asked for the help of all Sunday school members.

Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald then presented the cups to the managers of the winning teams, and the same time giving the younger men a word of advice. He advised them to read history, to make themselves acquainted with the methods of the foundation of the empire and to remember when they were boasting of their heritage, their proud possessions, that their forefathers were behind it all, and had made it possible for them to enjoy this liberty and freedom.

Manager Frederick Clow and Capt. Frank Birch, of Queen street baseball team, responded after receiving the cup, and assured those present that in spite of the fact that they had won the baseball trophy this season, they were out after the basketball one which was to be put up soon and forewarned the other teams.

George Mills proposed the toast to "The Officers of the Executive." He realized the fact that the officers who had spoken had taken more of the blame for the way things had been run than they should have done. He thought they had displayed remarkable interest in the welfare of the association to have taken hold of things the way they had.

Frederick M. Clow, first vice-president of the association, responded. He had never taken any interest in sport until this year, but having been elected representative of his team he had been elected to the executive. So far as he had been able to find out Kingston was the only city to have a Sunday School Association, and he hoped that through its efforts other places would benefit by what it had accomplished here.

The toast to "The Ladies," was proposed by E. W. Skinner in a graceful manner, in which, on behalf of the association, he thanked the ladies for the bountiful repast and the way it had been served. He thought the presence of ladies at athletic events was beneficial. Frank Beckwith, on behalf of the ladies, thanked Mr. Skinner and all present for the tribute paid to the fair sex.

A number of other speakers were called on, among them being D. A. Shaw, the originator and first president of the association, Rev. T. W. Savary, Rev. S. Sellery, Frank Nicholson, representing St. John's church, Portsmouth, and John Davis, representing Calvary Sunday school.

During the evening J. Douglas Banker favored the audience with a solo. The gathering broke up about ten o'clock by singing the national anthem.

ST. PAUL'S ANGLICAN CHURCH, SYDENHAM.

"Dorothy Dale," of the Woodstock Sentinel, reminding her readers that a year ago she had written of the beautiful and historic old church at Sydenham, Ont., has this in her column in the last issue of that paper:

"Last Sunday I paid my farewell visit to that old church. It has stood on the hill for nearly an hundred years, where it overlooks the village and the lake below. But it must make way for the new Canadian Northern railway. To the uninitiated, it always looks as though railway surveyors got out of their way to get in the way of some old historic spot that were better left standing—while some old eyesore it avoids as it would the plague. So this lovely church, with all its tender associations, must give way to the march of commerce. Some of the bodies had been buried quietly an hundred years. In one coffin the skull was full of nuts that had been carried there by some frugal squirrel or chipmunk. So the dead were removed to a new burying ground. It was a lovely Sabbath morning—a perfect September day, more like a perfect June day, that, accompanied by one of the natives, I visited the grave-ed, and perhaps there in the churchyard was laid at rest some member of the family. It always seems almost a sacrilege when the House of God consecrated to His worship must make way for the march of some new railroad. The railroad has paid liberally for the stones and mortar and land of which the building was constructed, but a building is not always a church, even though built for that purpose. In the churchyard lies my father's father and many whose names are as familiar to me as my own, many of whom I could recall some story told me by my father. While I mused upon the past the sun shone and the leaves whispered over the graves a sweet benediction, while the bell from the church on the hill called its worshippers to morning prayer.

"We wandered our way along the shaded maple road and gathered late golden rod and the blue and purple fringed gentian, while here and there hanging on the road side were late apples which we found were as sweet to us as to the average small boy or girl. The next morning a cold chill rain was falling, which with its drip, drip, made a solemn requiem for the passing of the old church."
