CAPTAIN CARR, ABOUT TO WED, COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Tragic Close of Real Love Affair Marked by Strange Features—Sweetheart, Seeking Wedding Gown, Gets Death Message.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The most tragic of endings to a real love affair occurred on Wednesday, with the suicide of Captain W. H. Carr, student officer at Fort Leavenworth.

The eighteen-year-old sweetheart of the young officer, Miss Jeanette Clark, daughter of Major and Mrs. C. C. Clark, of Fort Sheridan, was planning their wedding, the date of which was to have been November 1st.

The heartbroken young woman, her parents, or the parents of the officer, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carr, of West Georgia, N. Y., can offer no explanation for the suicide, and the shock has been a terrible one.

Wednesday, Miss Clark went to the office of the baggage master near the Fort to see if the long and anxiously looked for package containing her wedding gown had arrived from New York. There were many girl friends consumed with curiosity to see the creation, and the bride-to-be was very happy over the expected treasure.

The package was not at the station, and when Miss Clark returned home there was a telegram there, telling of the death of her fiancé.

Tuesday night a telegram was sent to Fort Leavenworth asking Captain Carr if he could possibly come to Fort Sheridan next Saturday to accept a reception that Mrs. Clark had planned in honor of her daughter's approaching wedding. There was no answer, and Miss Clark at first thought the death message was an answer to the invitation she had sent.

News given out at the fort where Captain Carr was stationed was that he had had a twenty-four day fur- lough, and had been in Chicago and had returned to his station the night he killed himself. The officers believed he was visiting Miss Clark.

Major Clark when asked about the visit, said that it must be a mistake as his daughter had received a letter from the captain every day and each letter was postmarked and supposed- ly written at Fort Leavenworth. After the explanation, Major Clark burst into tears and seemed distract- ed. He was a very close friend of Cap- tain Carr and it was a year ago they were both stationed at Fort Leaven- worth when the romance between Carr and the Major's daughter began.

"He was a fine fellow, the finest I have ever known," Major Clark de- clared, and Mrs. Clark said the same. And the major continued: "Every let- ter that Jeanette has had has been cheerful. There wasn't anything wor- ry- ing the man that we know of."

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carr, parents of the captain, sent word from their home in Vermont that the funeral would be held there on Friday, and asked Miss Clark to try, if possible, to be there. They sent messages of condolence to the young woman. She is too ill from the shock to make the trip to Vermont.

Before Captain Carr went to Fort Leavenworth he was a member of the Sixth Field Artillery at Fort Riley. He has a brilliant army record, ac- cording to Major Clark, and was one of the most popular men at every fort at which he has been stationed. He was thirty-four years of age and health- y.

Miss Clark is well-known in society at Lake Forest and Highland Park. She is a favorite with all the soldiers and when the sad news came today everyone at Fort Sheridan wished to share her sorrow with her.

The wedding was to have been a military one, with much pomp and military splendor, and the young woman had arranged even the minutest de- tails.

THE COW.
By Robert Louis Stevenson.
The tripe and the white,
I love with all my heart;
She gives me cream with all her
milk,
To eat with apple tart.

She wanders, lowing, here and there,
And yet she cannot stray,
All in the pleasant open air,
The pleasant light of day.

And blown by all the winds that pass,
And wet with all the showers,
She walks among the meadow grass
And eats the meadow flowers.

A TALK ON RHEUMATISM.

Telling How to Cure This Painful Malady.

This article is for the man or wo- man who suffers from rheumatism who wants to be cured, not merely reliev- ed—but actually cured. The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, ach- ing joint, is a little relief. No loti- on or liniment ever did or ever can make a cure. The rheumatic poison is rooted in the blood. Therefore rheumatism can only be cured when this poisonous acid is driven out of the blood. That's why rubbing and liniments and outward applications are no good—they can't reach the cause in the blood. Any doctor will tell you this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood every time take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood which drives out the poisonous acid and cures rheumatism to stay cured. This is a solemn truth which has been pro- ved in thousands of cases, and the fol- lowing is a striking instance.

Mrs. W. H. Elnor, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they com- pletely cured me of rheumatism after I had been almost an invalid for three years. I doctored with two skilled doctors and took electric treatment, but without benefit. On going to a third doctor he recommended mineral baths as the only thing that would help me. After taking this treatment for some time I felt that I was really growing worse instead of better, and I began to think that there was no cure for me and that I was doomed to be a helpless sufferer. For some months I discontinued all treatment and then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes could notice a distinct improvement, and I continued taking the Pills for several months, when the cure was complete. That is some two years ago, and I have ever since been per- fectly free from the trouble. I would therefore advise anyone afflicted with rheumatism to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they certainly made a re- markable cure in my case.

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brook- ville, Ont.

Notes About Plays, Players and Playhouses.

George Behan's "Sign of the Rose," enlarged into a four-act comedy dra- ma, is proving a success in New York. Lewis Walker, the London actor- manager, whose photograph orna- ments the dressing table of a large percentage of English nobles, arrived in New York last week to play the leading role in "The Garden of Al- lah."

Padre Elnor will make an American tour next year.

"When Buntz Pulls the Strings," the new Scotch comedy, by Graham Moffat, with a company as Scotch as the play itself, kept a New York au- dience in roars of delighted laughter at its initial American presentation of this week. Nothing so fresh and charming has been seen in New York for a long time, the critics agree.

Charlotte Walker has scored a great success in Eugene Walter's new play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which is a dramatization of John Fox, Jr.'s novel of the same title.

Robert Hilliard will start shortly on his tour of the Pacific coast in "A Fool There Was." This is his first trip west as a star.

Klaw and Erlanger are beginning a very active fight against play piracy in connection with three of their present successes, "The Pink Lady," "Ben-Hur" and "Rebecca of Sunny- brook Farm."

Rehearsals have commenced of Klaw and Erlanger's London production of "The Pink Lady," which will open at the Globe Theatre, London, January 3rd, with Frank Daniels in the role of Dondidier. The cast and chorus will be recruited in New York. Several performances will be given in this country before sailing day.

Canada's Post Office.
A Toronto lady once sent to her son a pair of trousers by book post, which is, of course, cheaper than parcel post.

"The postal officials wrote to her: 'Clothes cannot be sent by book post. If you look in the 'Post Office Guide' you will see under what conditions articles may be sent by book post.'"

"After a few days the lady replied: 'I have looked in the 'Post Office Guide' and find that articles which are sent at both ends may be sent by book post. And in trousers are not open at both ends I should like to know what is.'"

To Prevent Thefts.
Vienna, Oct. 21.—The curator of Prince Liechtenstein's gallery here, the largest private gallery in the world, has given a demonstration of an ap- paratus he has invented to prevent such thefts as that of the "Mona Lisa." It consists of special electric contracts hidden in the wall behind the frame, and so arranged that the least touch on the frame or the pic- ture makes a bell ring in a central of- fice. Here there is a board with num- bers like those in hotels, so that the guardian can see at once which pic- ture has been disturbed, and proceed there direct without loss of time.

Spanked the Hired Girl.
A farmer who'd been having con- siderable difficulty arousing his son every morning, carefully stole up the stairs to the darkened room one morning and administered a good, sound spanking. Returning to the kitchen he informed his wife of the circumstance. "Well, that settles it," she said, "we'll have to get another hired girl. Willis didn't come home last night, and I had the hired girl occupy the room."

THE DIVORCE LAW

PREBYTERIANS FAVOR A UNI- FORM SYSTEM.

Subject is Brought Before State Synod by Gen. R. A. Prime of Yonkers — Resolution Adopted Without Opposition.

Auburn, N.Y., Oct. 21.—A resolu- tion approving of uniform divorce laws evoked the liveliest discussion of the three days' session of the synod of the Presbyterian church of New York, which came to a close at the Central Presbyterian church, General R. A. Prime, of Yonkers introduced the subject.

"New York has an ideal divorce law," he declared. "The trouble is that men and women slip into other states to contract unscrupulous mar- riages. In the strip from New York to North Carolina the only ground for divorce is a scriptural one."

As a remedy General Prime sug- gested that congress should pass a law making it a crime for men and women to violate the law of the state of their residence or violate the decree of the court which forbids them to remarry.

Thomas Brandsheh, city clerk of Rochester, supported General Prime. He said that no step should be taken which would tend toward invalidat- ing the present divorce law of New York state, which is good.

Moderator Kneland said that con- ditions in New England were bad and said he knew of one minister who might have been $20,000 richer had he consented to perform the Astor- Force wedding.

The synod overwhelmingly sided with the speaker and adopted a resolu- tion which provides that the synod urge the passage in all states within its bounds of such laws as shall make void the marriage of any di- vorced person forbidden by law of any other state, or by the valid decree of any court to remarry, and make such remarriage a crime.

A Quilted Clerk.
Recently in Montreal in a cigar stand appeared the sign, "We give $15 for 1852 Bank of Montreal pen- nies." No less a person was attract- ed by this than a judge. He walked up to the counter and laying down a penny triumphantly asked for $15.

The clerk took the penny, examined it closely, asked if it were genuine, and after several minutes sighed and said he guessed it was good. "Certainly it is," answered the judge. "Where is my $15?" "Where," said the clerk, "are the other 1851?"

One Pie For 70 Guests.
Seventy guests banqueted on a single pie at Gorleston, and there was plenty to spare when they had finish- ed. The pie had a three-inch crust and weighed a hundred weight and a half. It was made in three sections or wat- ertight compartments, and each held a substantial bulkhead of crust. Its interior was packed with six rab- bits, six kidneys, twenty-eight pounds of beefsteak, and potatoes, turnips, carrots and apricots. The sea pie, as it is called, is boiled, not baked, and its builder, Skipper Harman, made the cooking process an eight-hour watch.

This three-decker provided a savory meal, which more than satisfied the guests, and its wrecked and dismant- led hull provided ten gallons of excel- lent soup that was gladly welcomed by the poor of Gorleston.—London Sketch.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known for the medical infirmity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a con- stitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting direct- ly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. # PENSIONS AT CAMBRIDGE.

Recommend Compulsory Retirement of Professors at 70.

London, Oct. 21.—While the dons of Cambridge University are far from sharing the view, popularly but erroneously attributed to Sir William Fisher, M.P., that a man is too old at sixty, they still believe it advisable to determine the age at which the resignation of certain emoluments, profes- sorial and other, should be enforced.

Some time ago a committee was ap- pointed by the university to consider the provision of pensions for profes- sors. The committee now reports in favor of the university establishing its own pension fund on the basis of compulsory retirement at a given age.

The scheme provides for the pension- ing of professors, readers and certain officers. The maximum pension is to be $2,500 a year, or five-sixths of the stipend, whichever is the less, and is to be inclusive of any college pension or other emolument.

The committee recommends seventy as the age at which retirement is to be required, but expresses the opinion that when funds are available the age may be lowered to sixty-eight, or even sixty-five.

THEN—AND—NOW

THEN "Mother's" code of Scalp Cleanliness included the energetic use of a fine toothed comb NOW she applies a reliable scalp prop, ylastic and antiseptic

How well we recall the days when mother would say: "Here, get the fine toothed comb. I must scratch your head. It is full of dandruff." And Oh, the agony of the next two hours. How we hated it. There was no use in remonstrating. We were obliged to submit our tender scalps to that scratching and digging which left a hurting in each individual hair and our scalp raw, tender and perhaps bleeding.

Poor soul, she didn't know what else to do. The germ origin of dandruff had not yet been determined. But the dirt and dandruff was a reality, it was there and must be gotten rid of. There was no such thing as a sanitary hair-dressing, and the fine toothed comb was the most effective eradicating "mother" knew. And what did she accomplish? Nothing, absolutely nothing but the temporary removal of the scale-like accumulation and the infliction of pain and discomfort.

What does "mother" do now?

Instead of that torturing and hair-destroying comb she keeps on hand at all times and insists upon every member of the family using regularly and intelligently

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer

Unlike the comb, Herpicide is effective. Far from being a discomfort, its use is a delight. The feeling of cleanliness and self-assurance following an application of this remedy commends it to all, young and old, men and women. Properly applied, Herpicide works down around the root of the hair where it destroys the germ life that causes dandruff. This permits proper nourishment to reach and strengthen the hair which becomes vigorous and luxuriant and ceases to fall out. Itching of the scalp which is so disagreeable, stops almost instantly.

Newbro's Herpicide contains no grease, does not stain or dye and possesses a most delicate and exquisite odor.

You Want Newbro's Herpicide, Not Advice

The suggestion of "something just as good" when Herpicide is requested, like most unsolicited advice, comes from a selfish motive. The substitute costs the trader a larger profit. Do you see why he is so anxious to sell you "something just as good?" Insist upon having genuine Herpicide, not advice.
