ALUMNI CONFERENCE IN SPORTING CIRCLES NEW TERMS MADE THE DAY'S EPISODES

OPENED AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY ON MONDAY.

Prof. W. L. Grant and Prof. J. Dall were the speakers—Opening of the Theological Faculty.

The annual conference of the Theological Alumni Association of Queen's University opened on Monday afternoon. This is the big week of the term for the theological faculty and the black-coated visitors are treated to the very best the college affords. The opening paper of an excellent programme of good things was given by Prof. W. L. Grant, on "The Presbyterian Church and the Clergy It Serves." This first hour of Prof. Grant to the conference was very acceptable indeed and called forth some very complimentary remarks.

The evening address was given by Prof. J. Dall on "The Study of History," and was in the nature of an inaugural address, the meeting being also the formal opening of the theological faculty. At the outset, Prof. Dall made some personal references to his coming to Queen's and to his distinguished predecessors in the chair of church history. In regard to his subject, the speaker showed how impossible it was to adopt any limitation of the field of church history. The worker himself must make a choice of only limitation possible and that would be merely the choice of a small part of the wide field for close, personal study.

In a most interesting and convincing way Prof. Dall showed the nature of modern scientific historical study. It has been claimed that history is not entitled to be called a science, but the lecturer maintained in method and purpose, history was quite on a par with the natural sciences differing only in point of degree. He showed with an eloquent survey of the field of ecclesiastical history, showing how beneficial and far-reaching the advantages of this study were. Prof. Dall is a forcible speaker with a pleasant manner, and his address was distinctly one of the treats of the conference.

At the alumni session, on Tuesday morning, Rev. T. Crawford Brown spoke on "Jeremiah—the Man and the Times." At 11:30 o'clock Prof. A. P. Knight opened the chancellor's lecture, speaking on "Reproduction."

At one o'clock, luncheon was served in the principal's room. In the afternoon, the subject discussed was "Jesus or Paul?" a paper being read by Rev. E. W. McKay, of Smith's Falls, and the discussion opened by Rev. W. W. Peck, Annapolis. This evening Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education, will give an address in conjunction with the conference.

QUEEN'S EXCUSE FOR LOSING TO MCGILL IN MONTREAL.

Seemed to be Weak on Back Division—Inter-Faculty Race Thursday—Double Header Rugby on Saturday—Poor Track Team for Intercollegiate Meet.

Queen's rugby officials attribute their defeat on Saturday in Montreal to a great deal to the poor work of the back division, although the wings were somewhat at fault. Queen's back division is a trifle slow, and this was very apparent last Saturday. McGill outside wings got away farther and faster than Queen's, which was of material value on following up kicks.

Inter-Faculty Race.
The annual inter-faculty two and one-half mile race at Queen's, which has been the means of providing a great deal of amusement will be pulled off on Thursday. Over fifty students participated in this last year, and the hobble skirt figured conspicuously, much to the detriment of the spectators.

Queen's III. vs. R.M.C.
The first of the home-and-home rugby games between R.M.C. II. and Queen's III. will be played at the Royal Military College Wednesday afternoon, and the other game will be played at Queen's athletic field, Saturday afternoon. Queen's team will put up a game fight. They think they have the strongest team in years. A number of the collegiate players of last season are in the lineup this year.

Had a Practice Game.
Queen's III. and Collegiate rugby teams had a workout on the lower campus, Monday afternoon, and both teams showed up well. The Queen's III. team, as a whole, admires the youngsters composing the collegiate team this year, for the knowledge they possess of the game and the trick plays which they pull off successfully. The team throughout is too light, but they know the game. The track division outkicked Queen's.

Are Prepared for Ottawa.
Queen's will put up the gamiest fight of the season here Saturday, when Ottawa College comes from the capital, just because Ottawa is boasting that it will win the game and "cop" the championship. Queen's has no show now for first place, but they can spoil the plans of the team who are figuring on the signal home by taking a game from them. Ottawa is "cock sure" of the game here Saturday and a large following will come to see the gamiest and grey win (maybe). Queen's will be backed up by the old facts, war cry and if they don't take a fall out of English Stanton's team something's going to happen.

Double Header Saturday.
Arrangements are about completed to have a double-header rugby game at the athletic field Saturday afternoon. At 1:30 o'clock the junior intercollegiate game between R.M.C. II. and Queen's III. will be played with the senior one later. The first game will decide the winners of this group in the junior intercollegiate.

Will Have Poor Team.
It is not expected that Queen's will make much of a showing at the intercollegiate meet in Montreal on Thanksgiving day and the general opinion seems to be that McGill will carry off most of the sports. Queen's, Varsity and Ottawa College are not putting out much material this year.

Y.M.C.A. Road Race.
The Y.M.C.A. annual five-mile road race will be pulled off next Saturday. Last year it was run off on Thanksgiving Day but as there are a number of Queen's students who want to enter in it this year it may be run off on Saturday. Two races, one for five miles and the other for two miles, emblematic of the city championship, will be pulled off. At the present time the five-mile championship is held by J. W. Kerr, of McGill, formerly of Queen's, and the two-mile cup is held by Elmer Williams, a member of the Y.M.C.A. here.

Dispute Over Officials.
There seems to be a disagreement over the officials for Saturday's rugby game here. Over a month ago Manager Marshall sent a list of names to the manager of Ottawa College team, which Queen's would agree to. He received a list of names from Ottawa this morning in which the names he sent were disregarded and another list sent.

Meeting of Football Club.
A meeting of the officers and members of Queen's football club will be held this afternoon for the purpose of going over some important matters which are to come before the club.

Basketballers Getting Ready.
A number of Queen's basketball enthusiasts were on the "gym" floor Monday afternoon getting ready for the coming season. This game will be started as soon as football is over.

S.S.A.A.A. Executive.
A meeting of the executive of the S.S.A.A.A. is called for this evening for the purpose of arranging for baseball for the winter. The idea of forming a rifle league will also be under discussion.

THREE CENT FARES IN DETROIT—CITY WINS FIGHT.

Can Buy Out Street Railway on Six Months' Notice—Eight-for-Quarter Tickets Good From 5 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Detroit, Oct. 24.—Three cent fares, in general transfers, are the fruits of a victory won by the city after twenty years of fighting with the street car company. An agreement has just been signed conceding the following demands:

The city is given the option to buy the city lines on six months' notice, the price to be fixed by five arbitrators, two selected by the city, two by the company, one by the circuit judges, and approved by votes of the people before being final. If the people are not satisfied with the first appraisal they can vote it down and get a new appraisal.

In the meantime the rate of fare is to be eight cents after twenty-five cents during the day and six for five cents during the night, with universal transfers. The city is to give a franchise till 1924, conditioned on the city's right to exercise its purchase options at any time.

The company agrees to give up all claims of franchise of every nature after 1924, including its alleged perpetual franchises in certain ends of the city.

The city is to do all paving between the tracks.

The company agrees to build several extensions next year, after that, an extension in trackage amounting yearly to five per cent. of its total trackage. The money for these extensions is to be paid in 1913 and 1914, unless the city takes over the lines in the meantime.

Both sides agree to drop all old lawsuits.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED BUT CREW ALL SAFE
Landed After Intense Suffering in a Small Yawl—Driven About in Tempest.

Goderich, Oct. 24.—The schooner Azov, one of the oldest sailing schooners on the lakes, capsized, twenty miles north of Point Aux Barques, on Monday afternoon. Just a few minutes before the vessel went over, the crew of six in number took to an unassisted yawl. After making an unsuccessful attempt to reach the west shore of the lake, the tempest drove them eastward and about noon yesterday they made land at Sheppard's point.

All of the crew suffered intensely from exposure, and Miss McDonald, the cook, was unable to walk when taken out of the yawl. The schooner just recently came out of dry dock at Sarnia. Until she breaks up she will be a dangerous menace to navigation.

Think This Over

Our selling record for Women Coats and Suits from the 1st of September up to Saturday night, October 21, was exactly

13 over Double

The number sold last year. We're tickled over the result, but there is an easily explained

REASON for this RESULT

Our Coats and Suits are the best procurable, that is taking CLOTH, FITTING, MAKING into account, and we have steadily refused to buy all poorly fitting garments that have been finding their way into the trade simply because they were Cheap. The makers of these low priced garments are mostly desperately hard-up and readily accept low prices because their Coats and Suits are being gradually driven out of the better class stores.
