GIN PILLS PASSED IT

"Tive years ago, I was taken down with what the doctors called Inflammation of the Bladder-intense pains in the back and loins, and difficulty in urinating, and the attacks, which became more frequent, amounted to unbearable agony. I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor. My wife read in the papers about GIN PILLS and sent for a box. From the very first, I felt that GIN PILLS were doing me good. The pain was relieved at once, and the attacks were

e more for me than all the doctors cts. My heart is full of gratitude to ou for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. VAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgi-al operation, which may mean death, atil she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's egetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

OLD FRAUDS THAT STILL LURE LONDON PEOPLE.

The Young Man In Financial Distress Who Has to Sell His Perfectly Good Bicycle Has a Host of Imitators Who Unload Scores of Things on Over-Anxious Purchasers-Widow a Hard Worker.

Shall I tell you how the swindle Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, originated? In the middle 'seventies Limited, Dept. B Toronto. 88 a London bicycle dealer was face to face with bankr ptcy. Only a mir-acle could save him. Then a happy idea flashed into his brain, and the following advertisement was the re-out by himself at the shop. He was not only saved; he found his idea so profitable that he extended it. As a gentleman about to emigrate, he disposed of housefuls of second-hand, low-class furniture at a big profit; as a widow he found purchasers for tons of family plate-and so on, until he was able to retire on quite a substantial fortune, instead of drifting to the workhouse.

To-day this ingenious gentleman has his imitators by the score; and no doubt they are all reaping a good harvest through the advertisement columns of our newspapers. You must have seen these seductive announcements many a time, such as

"Son of rich banker, obliged to leave England at once for his health. must dispose of the entire furniture of his splendidly-appointed flat," etc. The "gentleman" is no more going abroad than I am. If you go to his flat you will see it, in a judiciously subdued light, full of tempting furniture, all of which he is forced to sacrifice immediately. If you are foolish enough to become a purchaser, you will be inclined to kick yourse! for the rest of your life. The "rich banker's son," though he may play the part to perfection, is second-hand furniture dealer; an his furniture, which looks so plausible, tricked out in the darkened rooms, is rubbish, dear at any price. The same gentleman, too, has been "going abroad" for years past. His furniture, flatful after flatful, goes; but he tarries. You see, it pays him

Then there is the lady (oh, those widows!) who has lost her husband and is compelled to sacrifice her treasured belongings - her grand piano, her silver, her valuable fursall at ridiculous prices, just to keep the wolf from the door. Here is a fine chance of combining philanthropy with a good bargain; and you feel tempted. But don't.

That widow lives in mourning, That's what our patrons say and is really very happy in it, though she must, from the time she has worn her weeds, have buried several • husbands. Her piano (of which she has sold scores) is foreign, turned out wholesale, and dear at half the price she is willing to sacrifice it for; the silver is "Brummagem," and worth less than the showy cases that enshrine it; and as for her valuable 292 PRINCESS ST., KINGSTON. . furs-well, the animals wouldn't know them. The goods are all drawn and replaced from a neighboring warehouse full of such rubbish.

Then there is the lady who "must diamond and ruby rings, 18-carat gold-cased," for a few shillings each, old, with a fine pelt. as many shillings as they ought to be worth pounds. The same advertisement appears hundreds of times all over the country; but the two rings, like the widow's cruse of oil, never fail. Of course, the rings are of the most rubbishy kind of sham jewellery, and the benevolent lady makes at least 200 per cent. profit on each of them. I might give you dozens of other examples, from unredeemed pledges. literally thrown away, to the violin said to be a genuine Stradivarius,

As a matter of fact, they are. Newcomers they are assuredly. Yet they are also at home. Canada herself has sought them out and invited them to come in and stay. A Real Ph.D.

Since the defeat of the Laurier Government there have beer many speculations as to the future of the various Cabinet Ministers, who have lost not only their portfolios, but their seats in the House. One of the most interesting queries has been: "What will Mackenzie King do now?" Hon. Mr. King is only in his thirty-seventh year, but he has been long enough in politics for a good many people to have forgotten what his qualifications are for earning's living in private life. Well, for one thing, Mr. King is a journalist with special qualifications as a political economist. But for another thing he is equipped for the position of a university professor. He is a Ph.D. of Harvard, and he is entitled to be called Dr. King, not by reason of an honorary degree, but by one earned, by study and regular graduation. Mr. King had a very successful college course. For some time he was a lecturer in political economy in Chicago University and Harvard, and later served on various royal commissions in vestigating industrial conditions in Canada and abroad. Lawyers' Strikes. Even lawyers have been known to go on strike. Three years ago the colony was therefore at a standstill until the chief justice returned. France, too, affords an instance of a legal strike. One of the judges of St. Amand recently accused the local law-yers of deliberately promoting disputes in order to fill their pockets with fees. Thereupon all the lawyers in court departed in a body and forwarded a letter stating that they would not return until this insulting statement had been withdrawn. Even-tually the judge apologized, and the lawyers returned to work.—London Chronicle.
