Turks on the Aggressive at Tripoli.

THE ITALIAN ARMY

WILL NUMBER 100,000 MEN BY JANUARY.

A Fearsome Tale of Slaughter of Arabs—Italy Sends Reinforcements—At Home the Story of Italian Reverses is Denied.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The Turkish troops, with their Arab allies, have retaken two forts at Tripoli, and forced the Italians to entrench themselves within the city after abandoning large quantities of guns, rifles, ammunition and provisions, according to a telegram from Rahmi Bey, the deputy for Salonica, who is now at Tripoli.

The message, which was received by the Tani at last midnight, adds:—“The Italians were unable to resist the force assailed of the Arabs, and were compelled to retreat. The Arabs are displaying remarkable heroism and hope to recapture the city.”

Massacre of Arabs.

Tripoli, Oct. 29.—Via Malta, Nov. 1.—For three days the Italians have been systematically slaughtering rebels in the residential areas outside the city. Every Arab met has been shot down without trial. Many women have been killed. It is said that 4,000 Arabs in all were shot.

At Nebat Bey's villa, on the edge of the desert, the Arabs during Sunday morning's attack broke through the Italian line. The artillery reserves drove the Arabs back with picks and shovels. Again the enemy broke through, but this time the Italians, reinforced by infantry, surrounded 500. They refused to surrender, and the Italian commander brought up a Hotchkiss gun and used it against the corralled Arabs.

Several of the Arabs sought to kill Italian soldiers merely in order to obtain their rations. As soon as they obtained them they stopped to eat. The bodies of slain Arabs lie in hundreds near the trenches.

After declaring that the liberals had at least carried six provinces out of nine, the speaker said that it was prejudice, not reason, that had won the day for the conservatives and given them their overwhelming majority in Ontario.

The presence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the eucharistic congress had, he said, done much to cause religious antagonism; but he attributed the Ontario vote in large measure to the indiscreet, unwise and impudent sermons of Father Vaughan, the Protestantism as a soul-less religion had been peculiarly ill-timed.

Mackenzie King, the committee on resolutions of the Ontario Reform Association, held a private meeting, at ten o'clock this morning, to decide on a provincial liberal platform for the coming campaign. This committee has been vested with power by the general meeting of the Ontario Reform Association to make prohibition the principal plank in the platform, if it is considered opportune. It is understood that Mr. Rowell is anxious to lead on that policy.

Shall it be prohibition and abolition of bi-lingual schools? This was the subject under stormy discussion for hours at the meeting this morning. Finally the committee adjourned for lunch. All the members kept absolute silence as to the issue, which is not decided. It is understood that minor planks are already published were adopted.

Newspaper comment, liberal and conservative alike, seem unanimously congratulatory regarding the selection of N. W. Rowell as leader of the liberal party in Ontario. The Hamilton Spectator, conservative, ventures to say:— "In fact, with even so dominating a personality as Sir James at the head of an administration, it is not difficult to imagine that there is even greater need for the spur of an active and intelligent opposition, to impress upon that personality that in the multitude of council there is likely to be found more wisdom than can ever be hoped to be located under one individual hat."
