

WEAR THE KILT

BLACK WATCH HOME AFTER LONG ABSENCE.

Famous Regiment Spent Seven Years on Duty in Ireland—They Were Given Fine Reception.

Edinburgh, Oct. 30.—A welcome of the first Battalion, the Black Watch (Forty-Second Royal Highlanders) on their return to Edinburgh the other day, after an absence of seven years, to take up garrison duty at the castle in room of the Royal Scots.

The first to greet Colonel Hugh Rose who is in command of the battalion, were Sir John Harcourt-Williams and Colonel Gainsford. The representative of the Black Watch association, extended a hearty welcome and Councillor Lawson also expressed his greetings. Meanwhile the men lined up in companies on the platform. They were dressed in the kilt with khaki tunic, and the handsome leather bonnet ornamented with the famous red heeler.

The regiment presented a splendid appearance, the men being as a rule of fine physique. The battalion has a total strength of 664—twenty-two officers, two warrant officers, and 639 other ranks.

Drawn up in the Crown Square, within the precincts of the castle, were members of the Black Watch association, including sixty veterans who wore medals of the Crimean, Ashanti, Egyptian and South African wars. W. Mitchell, president of the Black Watch association, was also present. On his arrival Col. Rose went along the veteran line and shook hands with each individual. The regiment stood at ease while Mr. Mitchell offered a welcome.

In the course of his reply, Col. Rose said that his pleasure in returning to the beautiful capital of Scotland was very much enhanced by the kindly greeting given them by the Black Watch association on their arrival. They were very pleased indeed to see such a splendid turnout of their old veterans, in whose breasts they saw medals won on many a hard-fought field. It gave them great pleasure, also, to see many who were present when the regiment was there seven years ago. During their stay in Ireland the regiment's reputation had been enhanced by their work in that country. They were all very pleased indeed to come over to Scotland again, and he was sure their link with the association would be strengthened in the future by their residence in Edinburgh.

Before leaving Ireland the battalion had a farewell speech from General Carter, commanding Fifteenth Infantry brigade, who congratulated Col. Rose on the excellent example his battalion had always shown to the other battalions of the brigade. After thirty-three years' service he could say he had never seen a more efficient battalion and he considered it to be the finest in the service.

ORGAN WARMS LEADERS.

Dissatisfaction in Ranks with Whiteness and Burden.

The Toronto World, (conservative), after referring to differences in the liberal party over the provincial leadership, has the following:

"In the conservative party there is also a feeling of unrest, and it was voiced by Dr. Sheard at the meeting of the first ward conservatives on Thursday night. There was dissatisfaction expressed at the appointment of W. T. White, as minister of finance, and this dissatisfaction was based largely on the fact that Mr. White had been a liberal. And what was the voice of ward one, is the voice of practically the whole organization in Toronto. Probably not so much against Mr. White, as the lack of recognition by Mr. Borden of the progressive elements of the conservative party in Ontario, to whose efforts the win in Ontario was largely due. Talk as you will, the win in the recent election was effected by the very same progressive elements who are now, more or less, expressing their dissatisfaction at the turn things are taking."

"There is also dissatisfaction among conservatives in this province, and the plain speaking of Dr. Kaiser at the nomination meeting in South Ontario is quite symptomatic. Sir James Whitney is asked to be still more progressive, and he is asked to recognize, in a more profound way, the men who are advocating progressive measures. It would not hurt the Ontario cabinet if it had a shake-up at the present moment, and, more of the younger men given office, especially if they are in sympathy with progressive ideas."

"These are new days in which we are living. Things move faster, and better methods have to be adopted, quicker action has to be taken, and above all things, everyone must keep in step with the times if they wish to hold their place."

"In a word, if the two old parties do not waken up, there will be a new progressive party that will waken them both up to their great surprise."

NO WEDDING IN THREE YEARS.

Sacul, Tex., Has Built Home For First Bride.

Sacul, Tex., Nov. 4.—Sacul, a thriving town of nearly 4,000 souls, has not had a marriage for three years.

Attention having been directed to the unusual record, the townspeople bought a plot of ground upon which will be erected a modern home, to cost not less than $5,000, and completely furnished. This will be presented to the first bride.

IN INTERESTS OF PEACE.

To Visit Asia in Interest of Carnegie Endowment.

DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT.

New York, Nov. 4.—President Butler, of Columbia university, who is acting as the director of intercourse and education of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, has announced that Dr. Charles W. Eliot, of Cambridge, Mass., president emeritus of Harvard university, would leave Nov. 7th for a visit to India, China and Japan in the interest of the work of the endowment. The executive committee of the trustees of the endowment have requested Dr. Eliot to make this journey with the purpose of explaining the organization and aims of the endowment in the various Asiatic countries, of studying the public opinion of those countries particularly as relates to matters of international concern, and of procuring material for a report upon what activities may wisely and helpfully be planned by the Carnegie Endowment for the several Asiatic nations with a view to promoting the cause of peace and international good will.

Fity the Poor Farmer.

Kansas City Times.

A Missouri farmer complains that among other serious handicaps to the farm life, is the fact that farmers have nothing to eat but eggs and chicken.

Imagine the sympathy that complaint will arouse in the city for the poor agriculturist! Just think of a condition that forces the farmers to diet of eggs for breakfast and fried young chicken for dinner! To those who live in town and regard eggs as a luxury, and where chicken has become purely a "company dish," this picture of the conditions on the farm is most distressing.

Of course, the average farmer's wife will find an occasional variation from the above-mentioned menu. When the family revolts against eggs and good old country smoked ham in the "smokehouse," and there are potatoes stored in the "cave," and there will be plenty of winter apples, and there will be jelly and jam and preserves and all the "trimmings" for a dinner that would make the city man shout for joy.

But chuck! What is that to the farmer who has been used to the diet all his life?

The Popular Vote.

Hamilton Herald.

Of the 221 Canadian constituencies in the recent general elections have been received from 194. These returns show the total conservative vote to have been 569,670 and the total liberal vote 531,896. Probably the returns from the remaining constituencies will not alter the relative proportions of the conservative and liberal vote.

The figures serve to show the unfairness of the present system of representation. Out of 1,101,566 votes the conservative candidates received 37,774 more than the liberal candidates. That is to say, the conservative candidates received 3.7 per cent. of the popular vote, and the liberals 4.3 per cent. But the representation of the two parties in parliament will be far different. The conservative party will have 1.3 of the representation, and the liberals 3.7.

In Tory Toronto.

Thomas H. Whitesides, M.P.A., has objected to W. E. White getting the portfolio of finance, when A. E. Kemp "might have been given something better than he obtained." Thomas must feel deeply at last to have become articulate. But let us do Mr. Whitesides justice. He once presented a petition in the legislature.

Chews the Way to Health What are you doing to give your children sound and healthy teeth? Out of 11,374 children inspected by the Medical Inspector in the schools of Toronto nearly 3,000 cases of physical defects were found. Of these 2,027 were credited to decayed and imperfectly formed teeth. Sound teeth and good bones come from thoroughly chewing a food that is rich in the phosphates. You can't build them with mushy porridges, soggy pastries or sweetmeats. Shredded Whole Wheat contains all the necessary phosphates in a digestible form. You HAVE to chew SHREDDED WHEAT The crispness of the shreds compels thorough chewing and a thorough mixing with saliva, which is the first process in digestion. Shredded Wheat Biscuit every morning for breakfast, served with milk or cream, will build sturdy, robust youngsters and is a preventive of stomach and bowel disorders so common to children. Being ready-cooked and ready-to-serve it is so easy to prepare a nourishing meal with it in combination with fresh or preserved fruits—a meal that is deliciously satisfying to grown-ups as well as youngsters.
