

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure For It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gas, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general playful, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it will show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested, before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Bismuth, Asafetida, Peppin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion, is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trademark it must be a humbug, whereas, as a matter of fact, any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of catarrh of the stomach, indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration, and run-down conditions generally, than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

ANNIVERSARY DAY

REV. DR. WORKMAN IN QUEEN STREET CHURCH.

He Spoke Effectively on "Thankfulness" and "Compensation"—Asking For a Good Offering.

The anniversary services of Queen street Methodist church were largely attended on Sunday, and much interest was manifested in the discourses of the Rev. G. C. Workman, whose recent suit with the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal, brought him prominently before the country. He was accused of holding retrograde views, but as many a loyal Methodist said, as he went from the church: "Not much wrong about his religious teaching; I would like to sit under his ministry." Dr. Workman is a deliberate speaker, simple in style and very logical. He has a pleasing voice, and his whole attitude displays scholarship. The choir was very effective in its work, the anthems being exceedingly well rendered. Solos were given by Mrs. James Evans, E. F. Trimble and a duet by Mrs. Evans and Mr. Shea, all of which were extremely effective. Dr. Workman complimented the choir on its excellent work. The pastor, Rev. S. Sellery, asked for a collection of $500 and it is expected this will be reached. Dr. Workman, in the morning, preached a very apt sermon on "Thankfulness," pointing out the need for expressing the gratitude of the heart, both towards God and towards our fellowmen.

The speaker alluded to a very large congregation at the evening service, and spoke from the text, Hebrews, chapter xi-40th verse: "God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us, should not be made perfect." The speaker pointed out the principle in which God provided for all our shortcomings. People in the early ages had less knowledge than the people of the present age, and they had less responsibility; people of to-day, had more knowledge and they should have more responsibility. We live in a world of diversity. The purpose of compensation was twofold. First, for the purpose of equalizing. This applied to our talents. It would certainly be stranger for our Creator to give all the talents to one person. For instance one person would learn very quickly, and forget all he had learned.

Another person would learn slowly, and be able to keep his knowledge. Then, again, there were men "Jack of all trades" and master of none. There were some who knew but a few things and yet were able to make a fortune out of their learning. The divine arrangement could be seen in all things. The speaker once thought that the burdens of life had not been equalized, but he was now of a different opinion. Compensation tended to equalize conditions, talents, labors, burdens and also to encourage. God did not always give us what we wanted, but He always gave us something better. He always gave us something which would be of more benefit, and more satisfying. Life is full of surprises, if we would but look for them.

And we must also work for them. Compensation was but another name for Providence, and we must seek these compensations. At the close of his sermon, Dr. Workman took occasion to thank the members of the choir, for the able way in which they had assisted in the services of the day.

Most housewives prefer "King's Quality" flour. There's a reason. Miss Margaret Blackie Alfred street, graduate nurse, has returned home after spending the past six months in Hcton, Ont.

He Will Have Fun. Prof. Alexander McPhail, recently elected member of the legislature of Prince Edward Island, has the deciding vote in connection with the government. It is said that Mr. McPhail is somewhat of a wag and that he will certainly enjoy himself at somebody's expense before the time arrives for him to make his decision.

Fine Trip to Bermuda. Messrs. W. W. Gibson and Henry Angrove, who have just returned from a trip to Bermuda, had a most delightful trip. The Women's Club. The Women's club met Saturday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, with the vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Mylks, in the chair. Despite the disagreeable weather, many of the ladies were present. Mrs. O. D. Skelton gave an interesting address on "Scotland, and What She Stands For," and Mrs. E. J. McLelland sang Scottish songs.

He Will Not Appeal. W. F. Kelly has decided not to appeal his case against the C.P.R. company, in which he asked for $3,000 damages for injuries sustained at Maberly last winter. It will be remembered that last month when the case was tried in Kingston, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of Mr. Kelly, but Chief Justice Mulock refused to allow the verdict, holding that it was contrary to the evidence.

A Reception at Troy, N.Y. Misses Marguerite Aherne and Grace May Joyner, of Troy, N.Y., held a reception last Friday evening, in Hecroy hall, in honor of their aunt, Mrs. F. Saunders, of Kingston, who has been their guest for the past three months. The guests were received by Mayor Burns and a number of patronesses. The Albany band furnished a choice programme of music for dancing. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

Glenburnie Hockey Club. The Glenburnie hockey meeting will be held this evening in the school building, and officers elected. The Glenburnie fans have taken great interest in the boys and will, no doubt, have a senior team this season. The junior "bunch," which finished a close second last year, will be somewhat weakened by the loss of three of last season's players, but will make an effort to gather together a strong team from the younger material of the Glen.

A Graduate Married. On Friday last, Miss Helen Clare Risbin, Chatham, Ont., spoken of as the prettiest girl of that city, and John Foris Templeton, of Victoria, B.C., were united in marriage. Mr. Templeton, a real estate man in the Pacific coast city, is a graduate of the Royal Military College and was supported in the ceremony by F. Edrick Lytle, of Toronto, a fellow graduate. Cadet Donald Risbin, of the Royal Military College, was one of the ushers.

Tonight the Great McEwen. What a Toronto paper says about the Great McEwen case that plays our city this week at the Grand. It was great and wonderful to see McEwen walk blind-folded and surrounded by a committee of representative citizens, read their minds as though they were open books. He filled, pressed, and told them their safe combinations, even so good, so far as to tell them the amount of money they had on their persons and many more wonderful stunts too numerous to mention. To say that the committee were dumfounded is speaking mildly. Miss Hartley's singing, with all respect to the head of the combination, is easily the feature. A voice of more purity, fullness and beauty of phrasing has rarely, if ever, been heard in this city.

An elderly lady, while crossing the street to board a car at the market square corner, fell on the slippery pavement. She was not injured, but her clothing was covered with mud.

HORSE WAS DROWNED

WHEN JOHN BARRETT'S TEAM JUMPED OFF WHARF.

Ran Away Saturday Afternoon, and Dash Was Fatal—Drowned Horse Could Have Been Sold for $300 Recently.

A two block's terrified run, a misstep, a few minutes' struggle in the water sufficed to do John H. Barrett, a well-to-do farmer of Barriefield, out of $300 worth of horse flesh early Saturday afternoon, at the foot of Barrack street.

The fine young team of horses attached to a spring wagon, was left standing at the corner of King and Barrack streets, while the owner went into a store. They became frightened and started at a terrific speed down Barrack street, but slip in at the foot of the street, instead of making straight for it they swerved to the right, and ran out on the M. T. company's wharf. They dashed along the edge of the wharf as far as the elevator, when one of the horses slipped and fell. The sudden action precipitated the other horse over the side of the wharf and in the twinkling of an eye the team and wagon were in the water.

Although only a short distance from shore the water was quite deep and the horses could not touch bottom. Engines of the elevator heard the commotion and ran out to see the horses struggling in the water. They caught the line and held one horse's head above the surface of the water while some other men propped a float and pushed off. A few slashes of a large pole and knife separated the horses from each other and the wagon, but the one horse was so far gone that it was drowned. The other one was pulled on the float and taken ashore.

The horse which was drowned was a fine large bay mare, four years old for her age, but she refused $300 and had a short time ago.

BIG DAY AT S.A. CITADEL.

The Territorial Staff Band Was in Attendance.

The special winter campaign being conducted by Capt. Turner, at the Salvation Army citadel, has received a tremendous impetus during the past week-end, by the visit of the territorial staff band, and one of the capital's dreams was realized in seeing the old citadel packed to the doors and the gallery also nearly filled. The playing of the band was of an exceptionally high order, as well as the description of being one of the finest army bands in Canada. The band gave two concerts on Saturday night (at which Rev. Davis was in the chair), and the other on Sunday afternoon, at which W. F. Nickle, M.P., took the chair. He expressed his pleasure at being present and his warm sympathy with the army and its aims. He congratulated the local corps on the acquisition of the new property on Princess street, and wished them success in the new citadel scheme. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded him by the audience at the close of the excellent programme. The singing of the male choir was one of the features connected with the visit of the band that will live long in the memory of those who heard it. Lieut. Col. Turner, of Toronto, conducted the services.

WHISKY SAVED BULL'S LIFE.

When Animal Jumped Off Steamer Aletha Into Harbor.

An exciting time was experienced at Swift's wharf last Friday. When unloading the cargo which included a few head of live stock, a bull became balked and jumped over the gang plank into the water. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the animal out of the water, as he floundered a great deal. At length he was pulled on a raft and a dozen men hauled him out. A bottle of whisky was procured and poured down his throat. He became so thoroughly chilled and exhausted from being in the water that whisky was the only thing which would have brought him around.

PRESS IS TO BLAME VESSEL STRUCK BOTTOM

FOR MUCH OF PESSIMISM EVINCED TO-DAY.

Severe Criticism of American Newspapers by Rev. Hugh Pedley in First Congregational Church Sunday Evening.

That the public press of America was to blame in a large measure for the spirit of pessimism evinced throughout the length and breadth of the land to-day, was the statement made by Rev. Hugh Pedley, the pastor of the Immanuel Congregational church, Montreal, who preached in the First Congregational church here Sunday evening.

REV. HUGH PEDELY.

As I take up my morning paper," said the reverend gentleman, "I cannot help but be struck by the amount of trouble and crime that is going on in the world, and yet there is nothing said about the happiness which is much more in evidence. Whole columns are devoted to divorce courts, police courts and trials, and wherever you look one cannot see anything but murders, accidents, suicides and burglaries, especially in the telegraphic section."

He said Rev. R. J. Campbell, a prominent minister from England, who was now in Montreal, told the speaker that at the present time the people were fighting the trusts and when they finished with the moneyed magnates they were going to institute a campaign against the newspapers. The foregoing formed part of an eloquent sermon preached by Rev. Mr. Pedley, from the third chapter of Habakkuk, but the main topic of his address was "Optimism."

CREW OF STEAMER AMES HAD THRILLING TIME.

Steamer Struck Bottom Between Seas, Sunday Morning, in one Worst Gales Season—Suffered Slight Damage, But Was Able to Go on to Montreal.

Striking bottom between seas; the steamer Ames, loaded with grain from Fort William, on her way to the Montreal Transportation company's elevator, had a very narrow escape from being seriously damaged, while the crew had a most thrilling time.

The mishap occurred about eleven o'clock Sunday morning, near the Ducks. When the vessel struck bottom members of the crew who were asleep at the time, were thrown out of their bunks, and those who were out on deck, were given a toss. The compass was knocked out of order, and the vessel was given a great shaking up. She was leaking a little when she arrived in port, but after being lightened, was able to proceed to Montreal.

Luckily, the Ames only struck bottom once. Had the vessel been given another jar or two, like the first one, it would have been a very serious matter. The crew of the Ames state that it was, without doubt, the worst storm they have experienced this fall, and they have been in some bad ones. There was a terrible sea rolling, and as they swooped down from time to time, the waves appeared to be mountain high.

As a result of the accident, the vessel was a couple of hours late in arriving into port.

The Calvin company was successful in releasing the barge Dorchester; one of the three barges belonging to the M. T. company, which went ashore at Howe Island, a week ago. The boat was released on Saturday, and brought up Sunday, when the wind dropped. It is expected that the two remaining barges will be released shortly, although they are both on harder than the one which was pulled out.

At Swift's wharf, Steamer Geronia, loaded with grain from Montreal, was unloaded on Saturday night, on her way west; steamer Blundern is expected down to-day; steamer Aletha due from port to-day.

M. T. Co.'s elevator: The steamer Saskatchewan, from Fort William, lighted 16,000 bushels of wheat, and cleared for Montreal; the steamer Ames, from Fort William, lighted 23,000 bushels of oats, and cleared for Montreal; the steamer Stormont, from Fort William, discharged 72,000 bushels of wheat, and cleared for Oswego to load coal for Sault Ste. Marie; the steamer Beaverton, from Fort William, lighted a cargo of oats, and cleared for Montreal; the steamers Heydon, Seguin and Plummer will lighter and the Fairmount will discharge.

The steamer Geronia, from Montreal, discharged freight at Folger's wharf Saturday night; the steamer Alexandria is expected from Montreal tonight to discharge freight.

The steamers Midland, Queen and Nesawah, from Fort William, lighted their cargo of wheat at Richardson's elevator.

The steamer Haddington was in port Sunday, on her way west.

The tug J. H. Hackett arrived in port with the barge Katie H., which is being loaded with grain, at Richardson's elevator, for Montreal.

The schooner Bertie-Calkins, loaded with faldpape, cleared for Charlotte Monday morning.
