

Five Minutes Sometimes Makes a Big Difference

If You Are Suffering the Tortures of Indigestion and Have to Wait Until Someone Runs to the Drug Store for a Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Free Trial Package. The instant relief afforded poor over-burdened stomachs by the use of a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet should be a reason for constantly keeping a box on hand—at home and at the office as well.

A Stuart's Tablet not only aids digestion but it actually does the digestion itself. In other words, it furnishes exactly the same elements for the digestion of food as the natural juices of the stomach. The stomach, therefore, is not called upon to do any of the work except to churn the juices furnished by the tablet and then push the digested food along into the intestines where it will be still further digested and the strength taken up by the blood to be carried to the muscles and nerves of the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have done more for humanity and have caused more rejoicing than any other one agency that can be named. Every druggist everywhere sells and personally recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50c per box. If you first wish to try them a sample package will be sent you free if you write to P. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE BOARD OF WORKS

AGAIN DEFERRED CHOOSING OF CITY ENGINEER.

Quarry Drills—A Discussion on May Use Electrical Power for Storing the Sand Allowed to Remain on the Paved Roads.

Once again the board of works has deferred the appointment of a city engineer because all of its members were not in attendance at its last night meeting. There were only four members in attendance on Thursday afternoon, viz., Ald. Toye, who acted as chairman, and Alds. Fraser, Bailey and Harrison.

The application of T. P. Harrison and others for a sewer in Kensington avenue was granted. An effort will be made to have the gas, water and sewer pipes all laid in one trench on this new thoroughfare. Work will be started very shortly.

THE COMING OF THE DUKE

Will Create Much Enthusiasm on Saturday.

Saturday morning at 7:45 o'clock the Duke of Connaught arrives in the city to visit and inspect the Royal Military College. While the governor-general's visit is purely unofficial the official part in the welcome, the visit of his royal highness will be the occasion of much enthusiasm. Large crowds will line the route along which the duke has to pass from his train to the R.M.C. and crowds will witness his return to the railway station at eleven o'clock. By their presence and cheers Kingstonians will welcome and evidence their great respect and love for the first one of royal blood that ever represented the king of Britain in the acknowledged first of his glorious overseas dominions.

SEEK MORE EVIDENCE ST. ANDREW'S BANQUET

IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF BRAKESMAN.

Coroner's Jury, When About to Give Verdict, Decided to Ask for Existence of an Absent Fireman.

The jury empanelled to inquire into the cause of the death of William Edgewood McGowan, who had his life crushed out by being caught between two cars at Starbuck Lake, Wednesday evening, adjourned until four o'clock Friday afternoon, to get additional evidence. As the evidence was being taken, someone asked where the fireman of the train was, and the reply was given that he was sick when the constable went to serve papers on him. Later in the evening, it transpired that he had gone out on a locomotive and would not be back until Friday afternoon. The jury was about to agree to a verdict of accidental death when one of them pointed out that the fireman might have evidence to give which might throw more light on the accident.

Dr. D. E. Mundell, coroner, presided, and the jurors were: John Smith (foreman), Thomas Mills, William A. Newlands, Oscar F. Bartels, Napoleon Larose, William Cunningham, George McKenzie, Charles Tompion, W. C. Bennett, Oscar F. Tolson, J. J. Lackie and E. F. Guess. The body was brought to the police court room and was viewed by the jurors. Conductor Thomas H. Healey was the first witness called. He was at Starbuck Lake making up his train for Kingston, when notified of the accident. He was standing on the platform of the station, talking to a P.R. conductor. He endeavored to get Dr. Kilborn, but failing in this he obtained Dr. Coutley, who dressed the wound. The deceased, in company with Brakesman Cooper, was shunting Cooper was the senior brakeman.

Two cars, one loaded with coal and the other with steel, had been kicked out on the main line. These were for the Kingston train. Charles Cooper, brakeman, testified that he was engaged in coupling the box car to the engine and the coal car was a few feet from the box car. Cooper was on the engine and was looking after the coupling of it to the box car. He expected McGowan to see that the two cars were coupled. McGowan went through between the two cars and was caught. When he came up with the unfortunate man, he asked him what was wrong, as he was lying on his back across the track. McGowan replied his leg was broken. Cooper proceeded to help the victim to the station. He did not know why McGowan should go between the cars, as the coupling could have been effected without crossing the track.

Daniel Guirey, the engineer, did not know much concerning the accident. The first he was aware that anything was wrong was when he saw Cooper drop his lantern. He sent his fireman back to see what was wrong, and he was told that McGowan's leg was broken. He knew of no reason why McGowan should have had occasion to go across the track. John Page, car inspector, testified that he had examined the couplings and that they were the latest kind and in good order. Dr. S. J. Keyes testified that there was only a small skin wound large enough to put the tip of one's finger into. All the muscles of the lower extremity were torn, as well as the nerves, and there was considerable free blood inside. The injuries were sufficient to cause death. McGowan was almost pulseless when placed on the operating table, and died at about five o'clock Thursday morning. His injuries showed that tremendous pressure had been brought to bear on him.

At 9:30 o'clock the court room was cleared for the jury to decide upon its verdict. OFFICIATED FOR FIRST TIME. As Archbishop of Kingston and Imparted Benediction. Last evening there was an immense congregation present in St. Mary's cathedral. His Grace the new archbishop imparted the benediction of the blessed sacrament, in the presence of the apostolic delegate, the archbishop-elect and bishops and a large number of priests. The "O Salutaris" and "Te igitur Ergo" was given by the full choir, the music of which was arranged by Prof. Paul Deuys, and showed the touch of a master's hand. The altar was brilliantly illuminated.

THE SPORT REVIEW

R.M.C. RUGBY TEAM HAD ITS LAST WORK-OUT

In Friday Afternoon for the Final Game on Saturday—Officials for the Game Are Decided—Hamilton Team Arrives To-night.

The Royal Military College intermediate rugby team had its last work-out, Friday afternoon, preparatory to the final struggle for the Dominion intermediate championship game, here tomorrow, between the Cadets and the Hamilton Rough Riders. Backing, tackling and passing combined with the fast signal work which the Cadets possess have formed the bulk of the work during the week and, to-day, the last practice combining most of these phases of the game was held. The older boys will be in the very best condition to meet the Hamilton "runners up" and the result is that the people here can expect a fast game. It will be an unchanged line-up, which will represent the Cadets at the athletic field, Saturday afternoon, as Capt. Wynne contends that it would be fatal to change his men at the last moment. The same team which represented the college in the intercollegiate finals and the semi-finals of the Dominion championship in Montreal, last week, will face Hamilton. The line-up will be: Full-back, Galt; halves, Caruthers, McAuley, and Lawson; quarter, Blackstock; wing, Greene, Mallory and Greenwood; outside wings, Shoemaker and Wynne; middle wings, Roberts and Bayne; inside wings, Sweeney and Stevens.

Unless something unforeseen happens he day will be perfect and with a soft day and good grounds the result should be all that could be desired. Queen's athletic field dries quickly and if the weather is just quick enough to keep the ground hard the game may be expected to be very nappy. Cadets have some fast runners and will show the Hamilton boys something in the sprinting line and in the kicking, too, for "arturians" has been oiling his leg up for the final action on the bank drive. His punting is advantageous to his own team and dangerous to the opponents.

The soldiers and all their friends are hopeful for a victory and unless something goes wrong the Cadets should be able to win their games, which would again make their claim for another year of the Dominion. What advantages are available to the Cadets have for they have played on the grounds a number of times. There is every probability that Dixon, of Varsity, and Robins, Hamilton will be the men to handle the game, if choice has not been made definitely. It is in the hands of the President to decide who the men "are to be" and a wire was expected to-day at the college announcing who they would be.

For all the Hamilton papers are concerned about the game to-morrow nobody would ever think that they had a rugby team in the Dominion and for not a word concerning the contest has appeared in any of them his week. Perhaps they are waiting to do some of the talking after the game.

It is expected that the Rough Rider aggregation will arrive in the city this evening on the midnight train. They are to stay at the Randolph hotel. A number of ex-cadets are expected down with them.

HELP IS BESOUGHT

SEND CHRISTMAS PARCELS EARLY IS PRAYER OF POSTMAN.

Carrying of Small Bundles and Puffy Puddings Constitutes a Grievance Which Each Year Aggravates, Say the Men.

The modern mail carrier is developing into a reincarnation of the original "Scrooge".

The Christmas rush in the post office has commenced, and if you care to question the letterman you will quickly learn that "Merry Christmas" means nothing to him.

Every Christmas we have to work about twenty-four hours a day and the closer we get to the big holiday—for the average man, the more burdensome the job becomes. A mail man told the Advertiser this morning, "People never seem to think that it would help us out a whole lot if these presents were sent through the mail a couple of weeks before Christmas, and as we make this appeal yearly without result, I guess they never will."

The mail carriers' idea—raise objection to the manner in which small parcels are wrapped. People seem to think that parcels can be more readily handled when done up in small squares but if they would make them long, the same as newspapers, they would confer a lasting favor on the postmen. Small parcels cannot be strapped into a bundle and conveniently carried, whereas those of more oblong shape are easily handled.

Plum puddings, which come by mail to London in tons each year, particularly from the old country, constitute another grievance among these carriers, who cannot see why any man should care to place such weighty substance under his belt.

The post office authorities have also issued a warning concerning the practice of placing letters in parcels, books or papers.

All such notes should be sent separately at the letter rate, and any person discovered committing offences against this rule is liable to a fine of from $10 to $40.

The mail clerks have authority to open any parcel suspected, and for that reason trouble may follow for those who err.
